

Drunkenness Becoming Un-fashionable.

Mr. Crawford, the novelist, says that drunkenness "is becoming un-fashionable." Will Mr. Crawford tell us when it was ever fashionable in this nineteenth century? Years ago it may have been the proper thing for the good people of the era to fill up every day and on Sunday, too, but that sort of thing long ago went out of fashion. A man years ago used to be gauged as a good fellow by his capacity for drink. A one-bottle man was fair, a two-bottle man was counted good, but a three-bottle man, one who could stow away three bottles of liquor under his vest and walk off with a steady step, was, to use the vernacular, "a daisy," and excited the admiration of those who generally went under the table at less than three bottles. There are no three-bottle men nowadays. Whether it be because of the quality of liquor dispensed over the modern bar or that the nation does not regard a fellow of that capacity except as a hog-like character, is hard to tell. Perhaps the latter reason may be the best, but we do not speak by authority.

SELINGROVE.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week were fitting days. Quite a large number of families shifted their quarters. Happy is the man who does not need to move. "Three removes are as bad as a fire."—Ben Franklin. Last week one day while Elmer Snyder, the insurance agent was on his way home from Freeburg his horse took fright at a passing team and umbrella and threw the young man out against a fence. His shoulder and face were severely injured. Holy Communion was celebrated in the 2nd Evangelical Lutheran church last Sunday. Fourteen new members were admitted. The membership of this church is over three hundred now. W. S. Oberholtzer, a Gettysburg student, delivered an illustrated lecture in the Town Hall last Saturday evening. Subject: The World's Fair and its buildings. James E. Forrester, the real estate man, is raising the back part of his Market street brick property another story. MENTON.

LOWELL.

Some of our farmers are done sowing oats; others have not done any plowing yet—too wet. It has been reported here that Lawyer Reed of Lewistown has been taken to a private hospital in Philadelphia for mental treatment. Miss Mary Hull of Lewistown is stopping with her uncle, W. G. McGlaughlin, at Lowell. Any person troubled with forgetfulness should call on Abe. Holmes, McClure, and be cured. There have been a few exchanges made in this end among our neighbors. Harrison Stuck moved to Solomon Wagner's old homestead, Solomon Wagner to McClure, Abner Knepp to Mrs. Annie Snook's house, Al Wagner to Abner Knepp's farm, Jerome Ritz to his father's farm at Middlecreek. W. H. Knepp expects to start blacksmithing on H. H. Smith's property in McClure. Garden-making is in order now, and there isn't a boy in this end of the county who wouldn't rather dig up an acre of worthless ground in hunting fish-worms than prepare an 8 by 10 foot onion bed for his mother.

LANE'S MEDICINE

All Genuine sell at 50c and $1.00 a package. If you cannot get it send your address free sample. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. In bottles of 50c and $1.00. Sole Agents: DR. HAZARD F. WOODWARD, LEROY, N. Y.

We use Alcohol

Use alcohol to make Wolff's Acme Blacking. Alcohol is good for leather; it is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and many other well known face washes. We think there is nothing too costly to use for a good leather preservative.

Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are so accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c. and 10c. a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of

for a recipe which will enable us to make Wolff's Acme Blacking at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c. a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1893.

N. A. BOWES, FASHIONABLE TAILOR! Middleburgh, Pa.

It matters not how inferior the quality of goods, if a suit fits well it looks well; and "vsa versa," if it don't fit you may take whatever goods you please and it looks cheap. Then why buy ready made clothing that fits like a coffee sack on a bean-pole and falls to pieces from looking at it, when you can get a suit of better material, lasts twice as long and fits like the paper on the wall for almost the same money by simply calling on your local tailor and leaving your measure? My rapidly increasing trade convince me that the people are "catching on," and although I have plenty to do, I, with the rest of the world, still want more. Come and see my
