THE FAIR UNOPENED SUNDAY.

Sabbs h Scenes inChicago. FeepleUnable to Get in the Fair Patronite Saloons

Contrary to expectations, the gates at the rule excluding everyone except workmen, was strictly carried out. The day was all that could be desired; it was really the fir st spring-like day Chicago has seen this year, and Stoney Island avenue was crowded at an early hour with people who went out to the fair grounds hoping that they would be open. They were all disappointed however, and put in their time and spent their money at the side shows and with the fakirs who infest the neighborhood of the Exposition. There were many attempts made to bribe the gatekeepers, but such efforts were generally unsuccessful. One man offered a gate keep er $5, and when he refuse the bribe, raised the bid to $10. The money was tempting but the gatekeeper did not yield. The public parks were crowded with people ali day, as were also the saloons, which were wide open and did a thriving business.

"NORWEGIAN DAY" AT THE FAIR. Wednesday was "Norwegian Day" at the big fair. It was the anniversary of the promulgation of Norwegian independence. and there was a big parade and other exer-cises in honor of that event. The first event on the program after the parade was a meeting in Choral hall, where a long program was carried out, including an address of welcome by Commissioner Raven, an ora-tion on "Norse Liberty," by Governor Nel-son, of Minnesota, and music by the Exposition orchestra. After the ex-reises the procession re-formed and marched to the Norwegian building, which was formally defined.

dedicated. Commissioner Raven gave a dinner this evening to Governor Nelson and other prominent guests, and the World's Fair grounds were illuminated by elec ric'ty in onor of the occasion. Wednesday was also Minnesota's day to dedicate her building at the World's Fair. The dedication exercises were held in the main reception room, at the heat of the grand staircase, and the richly furnished rooms on each side were filled with people. Newspaper men and women took poss of the program and monopolized it to large extent.

A PROTEST FROM NEW FNOLAND. A PHOFEST FROM NEW FOLAND. In the Massachusetts House Mr. Brown, of Fail River, offered a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Rules, setting forth that as a portion of the sum agreed to be paid by the UnitedStates to the World's Columbian Exposition, on the condition that the Exposition should not be opened on Sonday, has been paid over, accepted and expended, and as it appears that the directors are breaking faith with the Government and planning to open the Exposition on Sunday, that the President the he requested to cause such steps to be taken as are necessary to compel compliance with the conditions of the appropriation made by the United States.

In the presence of three-score thousand people at noon Friday the grand building erected by the state of lilinois at the Work's Fair was dedicated. Hon, Lafayette Funk, president of the lilinois World's Fair com-mission, made the formal delivery of the building to Gos Altsoid Affar remarks mission, made the formal delivery of the building to Gov. Altgeld. After remarks by Mrs. Marcia Louise Gould, president of the Illinois woman's World's Fair executive board, Gov. Altgeld responded, accepting the building. Addresses were also delivered by First-Assistant Postmaster General Jones, Mayor Harrison and Judge Collins.

A dispatch from Washington says -In A dispatch from Washington says —In an interview yesterday Attorney General Oloey said that the law governing the World's Fair and the conditions of no Sun-day opening contingent upon the appropria-tion by Congress to the Fair was plainly stated, and that the Government would - see that the law was enforced in case the National Commission should decide to one the states Commission should decide to open the gates on Sunday. The natural step to take would be that of filing an injunction by the Gov-ernment in the District Court at Chicago. OVERNMENT EXHIBITS STAY CLOSED.

Brighest Part of My Trip.

The New York fashion correspondent of a southern paper gives out the following : A lady writes : "I have read your letters for a long time, and have often envied you the opportunity you enjoy of seeing the beau-tiful things you describe. I used to think, when I read of those charming dresses and parasols and hats at Lord & Taylor's, that theirs must be one of those stores where a limid, nervous woman like myself, having but I few dollars to spare for a season's outfit, ackson Fark were closed on Sanday, and would be of so little account that she would receive little attention ; but when you said, in one of your letters a few months ago, that goods of the same quality were really cheaper there than elsewhere, because they sold more goods in their two stores than any other firm New York, and that because they sold more they bought more, and consequently bought theaper, I determined, if I ever went to New York, I would go to Lord & Taylor's. "That long-waited-for time came in the early autumn, and I found myself standing before that great entrance, with those won-derful windows at either side. I summoned my courage and entered, as I suppose tens of thousands of just such timid women as I have done before. My fears were gone in an instant. The agreeable attention put me at my ease at once, and I felt as much at home though I were in the little country store where my people have 'traded' for nearly a quarter of a century. And now, as I wear the preity things I purchased, or see them every day and find them all so satisfactory, I think of my visit to this great store as the brightest part of my trip to New York."

Pursuad by Fate.

An American paper published in Paris recently contained the following unique advertisement: "A young man of agrecable presence, and desirous of getting married, would like to make the acquaintance of an aged and experienced gentleman who could dissuade him from taking the fatal sten."

Baked Ham.

Most persons boil ham. It is much oetter baked, if baked right. Soak it for an hour in clear water, and wipe it dry. Next spread it all over with thin batter, and then put it inte a deep dish, with sticks under it to keep if out of the gravy. When it is fully done take off the skin and bat ter crusted upon the flesh side, and set away to cool. It should bake from six to eight hours. After removing the skin, sprinkle over with two tablespoonfuls or sugar, some black pepper and powdered crackers. Put in a pan and return to the over to brown: then take up and stick cloves through the fat and dust with powdered cinnamon.

Be on your Guard.

If some grocers urge another baking powder upon you in place of the "Royal," it is because of the greater profit upon it. This of itself is evidence of the superiority of the "Royal." To give greater profit the other must be a lower cost powder, and to cost less it must be made with cheaper and inferior materials, and thus, though selling for the same, give less value to the consumer.

To insure the finest cake, the most wholesome food, be sure that no substitute for Royal Baking Powder is accepted by you.

Nothing can be substituted for the Royal Baking Powder and give as good results.

Attorney General Olney has rendered an opinion in which he holds that Le laws of Congress providing for the World's fair pro-hibit the opening of the branch postoflice located in the postoflice department exhibit on Sandays. In ac ordance with this opin-ion the postoflice and other government ex-hibits in the Columbian Exposition will probably be closed on Sundays.

HOTEL BATES COME DOWS. As a result of the stories of extertion that have been spread through the country many of the Chicago hotel-keepers have much less to do than they anticipated and rates have been materially reduced. There is still con-siderable extortion in the matter of restaurant charges inside the fair grounds, but not so much as before.

THREE BABIES BURNED

By a Dog Upsetting a Lamp While Protecting His Master's House. A dispatch from Buffalo says: While John Downey, an engineer on the Lackawanna, was on the road Saturday night, some one tried to effect an entrance to his house on Ganson street. His wife and five children were asleep on the upper floor. Abont 4 o'clock Mrs. Downey was aroused by the noise of some one trying to open the door. She got up and hit the lamp. At that moment the dog which had been sleering at the foot of the bed, aroused hiroself and sprang towards the window, growing at the intruders. He knocked the lamp to the floor and the house took fire. Mrs. Downey, the baby and the cldest child escaped, but the other three. Alice 9 years, John, 7, and Frank, A were suffica-cated before help arrived. Mr. Downey had no knowledge of the accident until he came home to find his wite sitting in the rains of the house with the charred bodies of her babies in her arms. Since the early fifties nothing so had in the way of a hail storm has been known in Pritsburg. For haif an hour before it came on a darkened sky hung over the city as if in prophecy of what was to blicox. At 3.45 exactly the first drops fells, varying in size from § inches to Hourses in diameter. Like so many builes of for they increased in number and in force, and crashed upon the toofs of buildings. The storm embraced the greater part of Pennsylvaria, taking in a portion of Northern West Virginia. It was much much heavier in Philsburg and the immediate visuality than anywhere else for a radius of 18 miles. a radius of 18 miles.

a radius of 18 miles. The total precipitation in five minutes was 102 inches. During that time name y, from 3.45 to 3.50 p.m. the wind which came from the northwest, increased in force from 0.00 28 miles an hour. Just as success did it subside. Along the third vallee the storm center arose to a high degree and du considerable damage as far as Wheeling W. Va. The heavy hall was attributed for W. Va. The heavy half was attributed to the contraction of the ascendant currents of the previous day's hot air coming in con-tact with the colder currents of the previous three of four days. This caused the con-gealing of the warm strata with the existing upper strata of cold air. The abnormal-ly low atmospheric pressure of the past week helped the storm considerably. It came and passed off in a few minutes, the hail whiring down in thousands of tons, as if in a vortex.
