Over One Theusand People Lost in the Great Cyclone.

A dispatch from Charleston savs: Reports from the storm-stricken districts increase in horror every day. Fully 1.000 lives were lost and the living are begging for bread. In nearly all of the Charleston churches collection were taken up on Sunday for the benefit of the suffers from the tornado and a comfort, ble sum was realized.

Between Charleston and Savannah the storm swept away most of the homes as well as growing crops and left the people in a destitute state. The loss of life and property was found to be greatest on St. Helena. Ladies, Wassa, Coosaw, Paris, Dawfuskie and Dawthan islands. These islands, together with Port Royal island, have a population of about 15,0.0, most of whom are negroes. Estimates at this time as to loss of life are incomplete, and the number may yet reach 1,500. Reports show that there is dire distress among the colored people. Their homes have been washed away and their crops destroyed. There is no work for them to do and they are suffering for food.

DAMAGE DONE AT CHARLESTON

A Summary of the Devastation Caused in One City by the Terrible Storm. The damage done at Charleston, S. C., by the terrible storm of Monday is fully as great as that caused by the awful cyclone of 1885. The losses in the city are estimated as follows: City property, $100,000; fertilizer works $173,500; Charleston Mining Company $50,000; railroads $30,000; telegraph companies $30,000; telephone exchange, $6,000; lead works $12,000; wharves $25,000; shipping $50,000; Ashley river bridge $60,000; churches $50,000; private property $200,000; miscellaneous $100,000. Total $1,111,500. The experience of 1885 taught the Charlestonians a lesson, and over $1,000,000 cyclone insurance was held there. This will greatly offset the damages.

Six person were killed and two injured and others are missing. All the rivers in the State are over their banks, and lowland crops are ruined, the damage amounting to several hundred thousand dollars. THE fetters of sin are riveted in fire, and burn as well as bind.

An Unlooked-for Effect.

In former days the tashionable women of France carried their passion for sentiment and theatrical effects to strange lengths. A fair and florid duchess, more remarkable for amiability than wit, one : resolved to give, In the heart of winter, a fete that should eclipse anything of the kind yet known. She fitted up her vast salon in a style of extraordinary splendor with wide looking-glasses that reached from the floor to the ceiling. At the further extremity of the apariment a deep recess, separated from it by a glass casement, was beautifully decorated with shrubs and flowers so as to represent a lovely bower. Along a winding path a pretty actress from the opera, attired as shepherdess, was to appear, with dog and crook, leading a flock of snowy sheep, to the sound of soft pastoral melody. The duchess could hardly wait until the moment arrived to give the signal which was to summon the shepherdess and her flock. Just as she was about to do so a most unfortunate accident occurred. The sheep suddenly broke forth from their place of confinement and burst through the glass casement into the ball-room. Pun.c-suruck with the novel sight, and especially with the glare of innumerable lights reflected in the large mirrors, they rushed in every direction, knocking down the dancers, upon whom they trampled with desperate energy. Ladies screamed and fainted away, while the disconsolate duchess looked upon the scene of havoc and confusion with rally him he took one bottle of Gerunutterable chagring.

An opinion is gaining ground that pervous ailments are by no means exclusively the product of a fin-desiecle age, or even of a highly developed civilization. Ir. Rosse, of the Georgia Medical College, propounds a theory that any sudden change in the social habits and conditions of a race. at any stage of advancement, is sufficient to produce epilepsy in large quantities, and instances are given of its prevalence among many savage peoples, notably the Hurons and the Iroquois at the time of the Jesuit mission, and more particularly still the Sibaritic tribes, who may be thrown into convulsions by suddenly tapping on their huts -London Publie Opinion.

Don't Blame the Cook

If a baking powder is not uniform in strength, so that the same quantity will always do the same work, no one can know how to use it, and uniformly good, light food cannot be produced with it.

All baking powders except Royal, because improperly compounded and made from inferior materials, lose their strength quickly when the can is opened for use. At subsequent bakings there will be noticed a falling off in strength. The foed is heavy, and the flour, eggs and butter wasted.

It is always the case that the consumer suffers in pocket, if not in health, by accepting any substitute for the Royal Baking Powder. The Royal is the embodiment of all the excellence that it is possible to attain in an absolutely pure powder. It is always strictly reliable. It is not only more economical because of its greater strength, but will retain its full leavening power, which no other powder will, until used, and make more wholesome food.

Judge Goggin Overrules the Closing Motion Although His Two Associates on the Bench Sustain It.

The hearing of the decision on the motion to dessolve the injunction granted by Judge Stein, restraining the directors from closing the World's Fair gates to the public on Sunday, was interrupted at Chicago by an unprecedent move by Judge Goggin. Judges Dunne and Brentano had united in a decision dissolving Judge Stein's injunetion keeping the Fair open.

Judge Goggin dissented, and after Judge Dunne had read the majority report in court, Judge toggin refuted to heed the advice of his associates to allow the major-ity to rule, entered an order overruling the motion to dissolve the injunction and refusmotion to dissolve the infinition set a date for ed ex-Judge Moran's request to set a date for hearing a motion to vacate that order.
