

SILVER REPEAL WINS

A DECISIVE BALLOT. The Measure Passed the House By a Vote of 163 to 94, and Soon After Was Signed By the President, Silver Buying Stopped.

The silver fight is ended. The house on Wednesday at 2:55 p. m. concurred in the senate amendment to the unconditional repeal bill and it was passed by a vote of 163 yeas to 94 nays.

The President signed the bill at 4:00 o'clock. It was brought to the White House by Representative Albert J. Pearson, of Ohio, chairman of the house committee on enrolled bills.

The significant feature of the final struggle in the House was the determined purpose on the part of a small faction of the Democratic silver men to harass the measure and to obstruct its passage.

As soon as the silver purchase repeal bill was signed Secretary Carlisle telegraphed to all the mints not to make any further purchases of silver.

EFFECT OF THE REPEAL. It Stops the Purchase of Silver Except for Subsidiary Coin.

BORNE TO THE TOMB.

Chicago's Last Tribute of Respect to Carter Harrison. A Great Procession of Soldiers, Officials and Civic Organizations.

With solemn pomp and ceremonies befitting the interment of the former chief magistrate of the World's Fair city and his pitifully dramatic fate, Carter H. Harrison's body was escorted to Graceland cemetery on Wednesday at Chicago by an immense throng of sorrowing citizens.

All along the line of march the people with sad faces and bare heads watched the somber columns and about the church a throng as great as that which had been about the City Hall was gathered.

The funeral procession was the longest and most imposing ever seen in this city. It was led by a platoon of police officers, opening the way for the marshal of the day and his staff of 70 mounted aides.

OUR THANKSGIVING.

President Cleveland Issues His Proclamation Naming the Day. The president issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"While the American people should ever day remember with praise and thanksgiving the divine goodness and mercy which have followed them since their beginning in this world, it fitting that one day in each year should be especially devoted to the contemplation of the blessing we have received from the hand of God and to the grateful acknowledgment of His loving kindness.

"Therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 20th day of the present month of November as a day of thanksgiving and praise to be kept and observed by all the people of our land, on that day they are to forego their ordinary work and employments and assemble in their usual places of worship, where we may recall that God has done for us, and therefrom that grateful hearts our united tribute of praise and song may reach the throne of our Heavenly Father, and that the joyful meeting of friends lend cheer and enjoyment to the duty, and let generous gifts of charity for the relief of the poor abundantly prove the sincerity of our thanksgiving.
