

BEAVERTOWN.

A farmers' institute was held at this place on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The lectures by Prof. S. B. Heiges of York, were highly appreciated. On Tuesday evening Mr. Hunt, florist, of Lewis town, explained to an attentive audience how to care for bulbs and plants. The Beavertown cornet band furnished the music. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gross, Mrs. E. E. Wetzel and Mrs. D. M. Snook attended the funeral of Mrs. Maria Kantz at Freeburg last Tuesday. Wm. M. Reaick, Sanford N. Carpenter and A. Meade Bowersox, all of Missionary Institute, Selingsgrove, ate their Thanksgiving dinner at home. Rev. J. M. Reaick and family, of Rebersburg, recently spent a few days here visiting relatives. Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Tool, of Freeburg, were the guests of F. E. Speech's a few days last week. Josiah Nerhood, of Jamison City, spent Thanksgiving at this place. His daughter, Irena, accompanied him home. Mrs. Charles Shires of Washingtonville, Montour county, visited friends here the latter part of last week. Miss Belle Eyed is attending Institute. Will Walker shot two wild turkeys on Wednesday of last week. N. Wilson Angler also shot one that weighed 13 lbs. On Tuesday afternoon of last week Mr. and Mrs. Fraley Stricker came from Glen Union, Clinton county, to this place to spend a few weeks with friends. The following Friday afternoon Mr. Stricker went out hunting with his brother, Main, when he met with an accident which came near proving fatal. He stepped on a smooth stone which caused him to fall, and in falling he threw his gun away from him. The gun went off and the whole charge entered his left thigh, tearing away portions of his coat and vest and breaking his watch chain into three pieces. The unfortunate young man was brought home to his mother's house in a buggy by Howard Zechman, who happened to be near the scene of the accident. Dr. Wm. M. Baker dressed the wound. Wild Roses.

MIDDLE CREEK.

The squeal of the porker is still heard in the land, indicating that fresh sausages and buckwheat cakes are still on the bill-of-fair. At this writing, Jack frost has carpeted the earth with about three inches of his white mantle. At the shooting match on Saturday, Adamsburg and Beavertown took the lion's share. And now a decline in the price of raw fur may be looked for, as Chas. Ush has become a professional trapper. Last week Moses Weider sold his farm to his son Joseph, consideration $600. A. W. Ush has his incubator in operation, and expects a brood of chickens in about two weeks. Seebold and diamond hunting was the order of the day here among the sick list last week. A very rapid recovery is being made by the recent spell of illness. Keep an eye on the work of Congress which convenes this week, peradventure we may find it necessary to send men to Washington with ideas of protection to American industries instead of the pack of free traders now here.

MONROE TOWNSHIP.

The Mechanicsville literary society had its third session last Friday evening. After orations, declamations, essays, etc., the subject "Who should receive the more honor, Washington or Columbus?" was taken up and ably discussed by Messrs. H. Smith, C. Gable, H. Henricks and Milton Herman on the affirmative and P. R. Leng on the negative—the rest of the negative having been either absent or too bashful to speak. Although single-handed, Mr. Leng succeeded in convincing the judges to crown Columbus with the honor. That young man who threw corn over the audience last Friday evening will, we hope, act the part of a gentleman at the society's next meeting. Jacob Leng, who was at the birthday party of Mrs. Frederick Bilger in Jackson township, reports that more than one hundred guests were present. We hope our hunters will spare the few remaining wild turkeys in our vicinity and next year they will be plentier. Wm. Stroub moved to his farm in Juniata county, and his son who lived there moved on the old homestead. John Kreider, who had one of his eyes removed, is able to work again. Samuel Jarrett is on the sick list.

ADAMSBURG.

John Condo, sheriff-elect of Centre county, paid his last visit to our merchants before taking up the duties as sheriff of the county named. John will make an excellent officer. Henry Beaver is out in the mountains for a deer hunt. Irvin J. Dresser and family, of Lemont, paid a visit to W. H. Dresser. Rev. J. Sheltor, of Harrisburg, is representing the Equitable Life Insurance Co. The Rev. is doing the far thing and is representing a good company. We hear the jingle of the merry sleigh-bells which reminds us that winter is here to stay. Our town is having quite a number of shooting matches. The Lutheran Sunday school will have a Christmas cantata entitled "Santa Claus is Coming" on Saturday evening, Dec. 23. The Reformed Sunday school will have responsive services and recitations on Sunday evening, Dec. 24. Stella Roum is spending a week with her cousin, Lottie Crouse, at Middleburg.

Mr. Dalton is certain that it saved his boy's life and enthusiastic in his praise of the Remedy. For sale by G. M. Shindle, Middleburgh, and J. W. Sampsell, Penns Creek.
