BEAVERTOWN.

D., daughter of Irvin and Angaman, and wife of Lester Tzel, died at her home in Beavertown on the 13th inst., aged 20 months and 2 days. The following she was brought to Beavertown and on Wednesday the funeral was held from the home of Jacob Wetzel. Rev. P. Henmyer officiated and preached appropriate and impressive sermons, choosing for his text the found in St Luke 23:28. A year old daughter and a babe 15 days old are left behind to be cared for by the grief-stricken husband by one our young friends coming from the threshold of life to eternity. We know not and it causes a deep feeling to take possession of us, to know that it is right, because to wise to err, to just to be. We humbly accept it as a trial that this world is not our home and in this their hour of sorrow tender our heart felt sympathy to the bereaved family. An daughter of Jacob Aigler was on Sunday. Mrs. Mary is visiting in Centre county. Sophia Benfer of near Paxson, spent a few days last week at her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Fish. J. C. Boush who is employed as telegraph office at Irvin, West-land county, is home to visit rents and friends. A carousal is pitched a short distance of the P. R. R. depot. Parents take their children to all amusements which have a tendency to broaden the intellect and a desire to become good and but there are no such temptations embodied in a "merry-go-round" therefore we declare it a success. WILD ROSES.

Leitzel has placed an attractive fence in front of his residence. George Krisher an old citizen of this township, but lately a resident of Union county, was buried on Wednesday. The heavy rains have caused the Penns Creek to overflow here, and do considerable damage. Herold's mill was washed away by water and the machinery was removed to the second CAESAR.
