WEST BEAVER.

Some of our farmers finished planting corn on last Saturday.... The decoration of the soldiers' graves was a grand success. The orators that were chosen, made some very interesting remarks in behalf of fallen heroes.... T. F. Swineford had his fish pond completed last week, and expects to have it stocked with Russian carp.... Miss Susie Hull of Lewistown, is visiting her uncle, W. Y. McLaughlin.... Emanuel Peter sold his pet bears to a party at Shamokin.... The soldiers' meeting held at Baker's church on last Sunday afternoon was largely attended. Rev. Weidenmyer preached an exceedingly interesting sermon in behalf of the boys who wore the blue.... It has been reported that a store will soon be opened at Lowell.... McClure takes the lead in West Beaver for improvements this summer. Baker is putting up a large hotel. Bon.

TROXELVILLE.

Dr. Miller has the plasterers at work in his new house, giving it a coat of mud.... James L. Ocker is pushing up his new house at a mush-room gait, and will soon have it ready to occupy with his newly made bride.... Very little corn has as yet been cultivated; it is entirely too wet.... Several weeks ago, I made mention of the misfortune that overtook John P. Keister. The house he lived in took fire in some unaccountable way, and nearly all his household goods were consumed by the elements. Mr. Keister is a very poor man. He is old in years and was badly burned at the fire. This fact offered an opportunity for the Ettingers to live fat without hard labor. They are now going all over the place for Mr. Keister, but fail to get from the good people. I hope, hereafter, they will be given a wide berth. I am told that they (the Ettingers) collected a considerable amount of money, clothing and edibles, but only handed over to Mr. Keister a very low per cent. of it. Mr. Keister is in need help, but I hope the charitably disposed people will refuse to give these frauds another cent. CAL. JOE.

ADAMSBURG.

The Grand Army observed Memorial Day. Quite a large delegation visited Beavertown and Troxelville and after decorating the graves, returned to this place at 4 p. m. Addresses were delivered by Dr. A. M. Smith and Jas. Keller, which were listened to by a large crowd. The children of the Sunday School decorated the graves. On account of the rain but few went to Manbeck's cemetery.... A branch of the Baltimore Building and Loan Association was organized here on Tuesday evening.... The creamery is doing a rushing business.... Misses Mollie Ulsh and Myrtle Smith of Middleburgh are visiting at this place.... Mr. Tompkins of Michigan, spent a few days with friends here.... Last week there were twenty-eight young people at Dr. Smith's office in one day, to be vaccinated. What Doctor can beat him? Charges for same were $00.00. Quite a number of those who were vaccinated are sick.... Mrs. Ed. Braum returned from a visit to friends in New York.... Those owning cattle and sheep should not have them running at large to the inconvenience of their neighbors.—Do unto others as you wish to be done by.

To Farmers and Stock Raisers.
