Bunco Game Foiled.

IT IS TRIED ON MR. GROSS AT SHAMOKIN DAM.

Two bunco steerers played their little game at Shamokin Dam on Monday and were foiled in their attempt to gather in the sheckels. It is a strange fact, but a true one, that the game of the bunco men has been played more in this section, within a radius of twenty miles of Sunbury, within the past ten years than in any other country section of the United States. Frequently it has succeeded, and men have by the different games been robbed of thousands of dollars.

THE SLICK STRANGER.

In this case the stakes played for were not very high, but then in these hard times when every dollar counts, the price may have been made low to suit the times. Monday morning a stranger entered the store of Milton Gross, of Shamokin Dam, and inquired for the proprietor. He stated that his name was Milton Brown and he desired a private interview with Mr. Gross. He was dressed in a dark blue suit, was a heavy set man with a mustache, which was dark, and wore a straw hat. Mr. Gross took him into a room and then in the blandest way, with a smile, he informed him that he (Brown) was a detective, and that he had a case against Mr. Gross for passing counterfit money. This Mr. Gross denied and demanded the proof. Brown wanted him to go before a Justice and sware that he had never passed counterfit money. This Mr. Gross refused to do and again demanded proof. Brown said that he would produce the proof and left the place.

ANOTHER STRANGER.

In the evening about six o'clock Brown returned. He had with him a stranger whom he introduced as Richard K. Foulk, of Shamokin. This chap was slim and tall, had on a derby hat and seersucker coat and vest, and light pantaloons. Brown again stated that he was a detective and this time stated that Foulk was his prisoner. Foulk stated that he had been to Locust Dale where Mr. Gross' daughter, Mrs. Leffler, and her husband keep hotel. He said that he had received $75 from Mrs. Leffler, but that her husband demanded the return of the money, and had him arrested for refusing. He told the detective he could get [illegible] Mr. Gross, the storekeeper. He said [illegible] for the detective, would release him from custody. This story put Gross on his guard and suspected that he was dealing with bunco men. He remarked that he was going over to his home to get his gun and walked out of the store. Both men followed him and when they saw him go across the street they started down the road.

RAN AWAY.

Gross got several neighbors and started after them with the intention of arresting them. A short way above the Dam they came in sight of them and then came the chase. Both strangers took to their heels and as fast as they could. They seperated, both taking to the fields, and after a hard chase they disappeared in the gathering gloom of evening.—Sunbury Democrat.

THE best investment in real estate is to keep buildings well painted. Paint protects the house and saves repairs. You sometimes want to sell—many a good house has remained unsold for want of paint. The rule should be, though, "the best paint or none." That means

Strictly Pure White Lead

You cannot afford to use cheap paints. To be sure of getting Strictly Pure White Lead, look at the brand; any of these are safe:

"Armstrong & McKelvy,"
"Beymer-Bauman,"
"Davis-Chambers,"
"Fahnestock."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

These colors are sold in one-pound cans, each can being sufficient to tint 25 pounds of Strictly Pure White Lead to the desired shade; they are in no sense ready-mixed paints, but a combination of perfectly pure colors in the handiest form to use Strictly Pure White Lead.

A good many thousand dollars have been saved property-owners by having our book on painting and color-card. Send us a postal card and get both free.
