

DISCOMFORTS OF ACTING.

Inside Facts of the Daily Life of Stage People.

The janitor has an important bearing on the actor's condition, which finds its expression in his playing and possibly on his nervous organization.

He supplies the quarters, and, in most cases, furnishes quarters for the actors such as no self-respecting slave owner would in the old days have condemned a slave to occupy.

For the public nothing is too good. For the actor, on the other hand, anything is good enough. Instead of likened draperies, he finds only a tattered curtain on the window, if, indeed, he find a curtain at all, or even window which it might cover.

Instead of soft, comfortable chairs, a wooden chair, none too clean, or a chair minus a back, will be the only seat, and not infrequently, if he wishes to sit down, he must do so on his trunk.

Instead of delicately tinted walls, he will find dirty walls which have not been treated even to coat of whitewash for years.

While in the auditorium a soft carpet covers the floor, in the actor's room a carpet rarely exists, or, if by chance there be something which once was a carpet, it is so dirty that it would be better away.

The washing appliances of the actor's room, if they are found at all, usually consist of a small basin with a tap of running water.

Most people would expect that, as the winter is the theatrical season, and the paints used by the actors are made with grease, hot water would be at hand.

But this is rarely the case, and in many instances running water in the dressing-rooms is unknown. It is not uncommon for actors to refrain from using the basins, preferring to remove the "make up" as well as possible with vaseline, and wait until the hotel is reached to complete this portion of the toilet.

In basins and buckets are not the best that I have seen "on the road," for once the water is in dirty, battered, old lard-tins, and basins had to be bought by our manager.—Forum.

At Home. The highest style of being at home shows out of a special state of the emotions rather than of the intellect.

It has not met with individuals whose face would be a passport to any society, and whose manners, the unadvised and spontaneous expressions of their inner selves, make them visit welcome wherever they go, and attract unbounded confidence toward them in whatever they undertake.

They are frank, because they have nothing to conceal; affable, because their natures overflow with benevolence; unfurled, because they dread being always at home, because they carry within themselves that which can trust to itself anywhere.

Everywhere—purity of soul withness of health. Such are our best warranties for feeling at home in all every occupation upon which it urges us to enter. They who live at home for themselves are also the least embarrassed by uncertainties.

Caring for Foundlings. Australia has given up altogether maintenance of foundling hospitals, and orphan asylums, and has substituted for this the system of placing children in private homes, at such time as they are able to be for themselves.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

New York split even on the Baltimore series.

Keener is doing good work as a National League umpire.

Just 104 of the first 246 games played were won by one run.

Louisville seldom hits a left-handed pitcher with any success.

Lyons has signed with the St. Louis Club. He will play third base.

Griffin, of Brooklyn, has just made his third error of the season.

The Providence Club appears to have pretty plain sailing at the top in the Eastern League.

But few outfielders in the League manage to get over as much ground as Lange, of the Chicagoans.

Pitover Fischer, late of Cleveland, and Outfielder Hogan, of the Pennsylvania State League, have been signed by Cincinnati.

Hogan, the loudly praised center-fielder of the Pennsylvania League, made a very creditable debut with the Cincinnati Club.

New York is ninth in club batting and tied for seventh place in fielding with Louisville and Brooklyn, and yet is in third place.

Dahlen, of the Chicago team, after making a hit in his last forty-two games, failed in his forty-third, even though his club made eighteen hits.

When Brodie, of the Baltimore, had played in eighty-three games he had struck out but four times and got his base but nine times on balls.

Emery, of Pittsburgh, has been woefully successful against the Cleveland this year, having won all the games he has pitched against them—seven.

Buffalo is ambitious to become a member of the National League and is casting its eyes toward Cleveland. It would be a much better city for the League than Washington.

The pitchers of the St. Louis team are not noted for base stealing. A Brodstein and Hawley have only one each to their credit, while Arthur Clarkson has yet to steal his first base.

Wilnot, of Chicago, has made the record of the season, with eight stolen bases in two successive games. He is only one stolen base behind Hamilton, of Philadelphia, who leads the League.

Asnow, of Chicago, is playing the great game of his life. In seventy-two games he made but six errors and had forty-three assists. His fielding average at this time was .991 and his batting .352. He did not make an error in twenty-eight games.

Senator Hill's sole recreation is attending a ball game. He used to play ball years ago, and his former partner, John Stanfield, was pitcher on the Amateur nine while in college, and later of the best amateur team Elmira, N. Y., ever had.

Albert Swan, the pitcher of the Hamilton A. C., of Brooklyn, met with a peculiar mishap at Newark, N. J. While practicing for a game with the Harrison A. C. his right arm fell limp at his side and he felt a sharp twinge of pain. An examination showed that his arm had been broken. The game was not played.

According to President Young about forty protests have been received from League clubs this season, only two of which have been upheld. Protests based on errors of judgment on the part of an umpire get but little attention. It is only those based on a misconstruction of the playing rules that receive consideration.

All of the League teams except the Louisville and the Washingtons have won the majority of games played on their respective home grounds. The St. Louis have won and lost an equal number of games played at home. Only the Boston, New York and Cleveland clubs won the majority of games played away from home.

How They Stand.

The following table shows the standing of the different clubs composing the National Base-Ball League:

When You Are Strongest. Vaughan Harley agrees with Dr. Lombard in considering that the amount of work done by the same set of muscles at different times of the day and goes periodical variations; so we may accept as a fact, says the Journal of Physiology, that there is a diurnal rise and fall in the power of doing voluntary muscular work, in the same way as there is a diurnal rise and fall in bodily temperature and pulse. It is remarkable, however that instead of the greatest amount of work being done, as might have been expected, on rising in the morning, after a good night's rest, it is found that at 9 a. m. the smallest amount of work is accomplished, the powers of doing muscular work in Dr. Harley's case increasing each hour up to 11 a. m. Immediately after lunch there is a marked rise, followed an hour later by a fall, while again an hour later, or about 3 p. m., the amount of work accomplished reaches its maximum. Then, from some unexplained cause, there is a noticeable fall at 4 p. m., which is succeeded by a rise at 5 p. m., after which a progressive fall takes place during each successive hour until dinner. Even during a prolonged fast more work was capable of being executed from 11:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. than at 9 a. m.
