This remarkable prediction was made by the Chicago Record : "It isn't tax on street electric railways that is going to ruin the electric street railway business. A speedier death than that by taxation awaits the whole system of electrical appliance as operated at present. We have information which leads us to believe that within twelve months a new machine capable of use for providing transportation, light and heat will be put before the public ; that this machine will controvert the "principles of electricity" which now obtain; will revolutionize all railway and other transportation systems; will do away with fuel, gas and smoke; will, in short, give humanity undreamed of advantages at a very moderate price. Yes, within the next twelvemonth we are going to see some very wonderful happenings."

Consul Sheridan Read, at Tien Tsin, China, reports to the State Department at Washington that he has received information from a trustworthy source that the customs official of that port, representing the big cotton mills now being crected at Shanghai and elsewhere in Central China, has placed orders with a European firm in Ticn Tsin for machinery amounting to supreme court." nearly $1,000,000. It is said that these orders will be principally executed in England. The Consul desires to call Again The Chinese are Promising us a the attention of American manufacturers of such machinery to the fact yet to be supplied with machinery. He understands that certain kinds of cotton machinery manufactured in America give better results, and are as cheap if not cheaper than similar machinery made either in England or on the Continent. Where such superiority exists, observes the New York Tribune, American manufacturers should be able to obtain a fair share of the

So marvelous have been the triumphs of the human intellect in the past, the that the Rochester Post-Express be wad lieves that he would be a rash man who should undertake to prescribe boundaries to its discoveries in the future. For it may be scarcely a decade before the very achievements declared to be impossible, will be accomplished fact. Fifty years ago Auguste Comte, the famous founder in France of the Positivist school of philosophy, of which Frederic Harrison, in England, is one of the foremost expounders, declared that there was one field of knowledge that would forever remain beyond the reach of the iron and steel mills human mind. This was the constitution of the fixed stars and the elements of which they are composed. The nearest of these stars being many thousand of millions of miles from us, Comte affirmed that the substances constituting them must ever remain locked in the secrecy of fathomless space. So probably they would had man been able to arm himself with no more potent apparatus of discovery than was known in Comte's day, or than would then have been believed possible. For to the most powerful telescopes these far away orbs reveal themselves as little more than shining dots, betraying none of the secrets of their structure. But Comte had scarcely launched his prediction, before astronomers began to hit upon and perfect the discovery of the now far-famed spectrum analysis, which wrenches even from stars deep in the recesses of illimitable space the nature and number of the elements of which they are composed. Many of these elements are the same as those known to us on our earth and in our sun; but some are strangers to our chemistry. Comte as a positivist was not given to modesty-indeed was noted for dogmatiam-but even he underrated the possible achievements of the human intellect. In view of his nullified prophecy, it need not be counted rash to say that before another half century has flown, the oft ask id questions, "can we communicate with Mars?" and "can we know whether it has inhabitants?" may receive an affirmative answer. For who can tell with what new apparatus of discovery, eclipsing any now possessed or dreamed of, man may by that time have armed himself?

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

Summarized Proceedings of Our Law Makers at Washington.

ONE RUNDRED AND NINETY-SIXTH DAY. SENATE .- The only event of note in the senate was the reception of four house bills placing coal, iron ore, barbed wire and sugar on the free list. They were read once. Mr. Hill offered an amendment to each of them, providing for the repeal of the income tax. Objection being made to the second readings all the hills made to are all the bills went over. HOUSE-Not in session.

ONE HUNDRED AND NINETY-SEVENTH DAY.

SENATE .- The letter from Secretary Carlisle to Senator Harris was read. It shows that without the sugar tax there would be a shows deficit in the national treasury of #25,000,000, The report of the conference on the sundry civil bill was adopted. The report on the general deficiency bill was considered. This is the only appropriation awaiting the final action of congress.

"And now, August 20, 1894, this case hav-ing been previously heard and fully consider-ed, it is ordered and decreed as follows: That the preliminary injunction heretofore granted be dissolved in so far as the same re-strains the school district of Galilizin bor-ough, the school directors of said district and their successors from employing the other defendants in the bill as teachers in said nuble schools under the certificates is House. - Three tariff speeches were made and the report on the deficiency bill was con-

SENATE. The house bills placing sugar, toal, iron ore and barbed wire on the free list were referred to the finance committee by a vote of 32 to 19. Mr. Hill's bill for the exclusion and deportation of alien Anarchists was jansed. The Sonate also passed the bill directing the Secretary of War to prepare a roll of the military telegraph operators of the civil war and issue to them certificates of bonorable service in the military telegraph service of the army of the United States.

House – The House voted to reduce trom $1, $0.0, 0 to $1, 274, 216 the item placed in the gen-eral deficiency bill by the Senate to pay a judge-ment obtained by the Southern Facilie Railment obtained by the Southern Facilie Rail-way Company against the United States for the transportation of troops, mails and mer-chandise. The McMillen still to amend the tariff bill so as to take alcohol for the arts off the free list was passed by the House. The Hill bill against Anarchists was referred to the judiciary committee,

ONE RUNDRED AND NINETY-NINTH DAY.

SENATE-The senate held a brief but interesting session which was largely devoted to the appointment of Mr. White of California to the vacancy on the finance committee, The resolution, however, went over without ac-tion as Mr. Chandler objected. The conference report on the last appropriation bili-the general deficiency—was adopted,

When the senate finance committee met the Republicans said if the Democrats wanted the supplementary bills reported they must have a majority with which to do it. Then the Democratic steering committee decided on Mr. White. Mr. Chandler's resolution for the investigation of the Alabama elections went over another day pending Mr. Morgan's re-

House.-The committee on judiciary to day decided to favorably report Senator Hill's bill for the exclusion and deportation of alien axarchisis, which passed the senate This action unravels the knot which the senate committee on immigration tied when it joined the Hill bill with some features of Representative W. A. Stone's bill for consular inspection abroad

TWO HUNDRETH DAY.

SENATE. - The resolution of Mr. Murphy declaring that it was the sense of the Senat that no further tariff legislation should be enacted at this session adopted by a vote of 27 to 16. The resolution of Mr. the appointment of Senator Wi Harris for White to vacancy of the Finance Committee was agreed to without opposition.

Mr. Sherman in speaking of the errors in the tariff bill which recently passed the house said: One of them, that providing for the free entry of alcohol used in the arts, would, if uncorrected cost the Government $20,-000,000 or $30,000,000 of revenue avgually.

Increase in Demand for Commercial Loans-Silver Stronger.

R. G. Dun & Co's "Weekly Review of Trade" says: The new tariff bill, if signed by the President, as expected, provides a definite basis for business. No supplemental legislation is thought possible until next year, at least. It is not to be overlooked that the effect of new duries upoblemat-branches of industry and trade is problemat-ical, and may be determined only after some ical, and may be determined only after some that the effect of new duties upon new serious injury to corn, and some other con-ditions exercise a restraining influence, While it is not wise to look for agreat "boom" there is warrant for a reasonable and prud-there is warrant for a reasonable and prud-ent hopefulness. It is too early to look for effects of the new situation in the great industries, but the gradual recovery which has appeared for some time is seen in a better demand for products. Speculation in wool has been stopped. As woolen manufacturers has the old duties, with free wool until January 1, orders are expected to be governed by the consuming power of the people, with the ac-cumulated business so long deferred. Unless exports increase steadily and large-

Unless exports increase steadily and large-ly, the financial situation may grow difficult. In July imports exceeded exports #12,537,914, mainly because of the heavy sugar move-ment. With lower duties the arrivals of merchandise to meet the long delayed de-mand will be large, while even phenomenally low prices do not take out products freely at how prices to not take out products treety at present. Railroad earnings in August are about as large as last year in the height of the panic, but 16.0 per cent less than the year before. Compared with last year, when business

6.4 per cent, though in comparison with the same week of 1892 the decrease is 21.6 per cent. The striking feature this week is the strong increase in demand for commercial loans, deferred operations of all sorts being encouraged by action at Washington, Silver is also stronger because of the Eastern de-mand, which the war in China is expected to prolong.

FELL FROM A TIGHT ROPE.

A Rope Walker Meets With a Serious Accident at Philadelphia.

A wave of hearty auplause for the feats of Prof. Davison, a tight rope walker, turned to a cry of horror at Riverside mansion, Fairmont Park, Philadelphia. The daring athlete plunged headlong to the ground, striking a lot of chairs, and was so badly hurt that his chances of recovery are very slim. The athlete, completely blindfolded stepped cautiously out on the rope, balancing himself with his arms and feeling every inch of the way, crept forward like a cat. When he reached the middle of the rope, thus blindfolded, he missed his footing, and with one brief, frantic struggle, to save himself, he plunged strait down 35 feet to the ground. his wife saw him fail.

The Tien-Tsin correspondent of the London "Times" says that any warships trying to cross the bar at Takuo without having given previous notice will be fired upon by the forts no matter what flag they may fly. Naval vessels giving previous notice will be admit-ted at the discretion of the Chinese authorities.

Mars Has No Atmosphere.

Prof. Campbell of Lick observatory has de-monstrated with the spectroscope that the planet Mars presents no evidence of having an atmosphere. Prof. Holden says that if any atmospheric pressure exists it is not as great as on our highest mountains, and thus popular fancies concerning that planet are outerway. outgrown.
