

BEAVERTOWN.

Last Saturday evening the doors at Reuben Zechman's house were suddenly flung wide open. He was raised to the ceiling, then carried to the door. The Beavertown Cornet band at once struck a lively musical air, and continued for some time. A bounteous collation was spread to which sixty six persons did ample justice. At a late hour the guests withdrew, leaving numerous gifts, to keep Reuben reminded of the day when he passed life's 52nd milestone. Rev. J. M. Reaick of Rebersburg, preached a very interesting sermon in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening. Howard Haines, accompanied by his son, Archie, of Mooreland, Ky. is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Wm. E. Herbster. Mrs. Alfred Specht visited her son several days last week. Mrs. Michael Beaver and her Granddaughter, Miss Annie Beaver, spent Sunday at Kantz. Thomas Kohler and family visited friends at Millers-town over Sunday. Mrs. Jacob Wetzel visited friends at Adamsburg one day last week. Reg. P. C. Weidemeyer, wife and son, Thomas, E. M. Kern and C. F. Specht attended Graeger picnic at Centre Hall. V. N. Herbster, after spending some time with his parents, left on Monday, for Clearfield, Clearfield Co., where he is engaged as telegraph operator. Wild Roses.

WEST BEAVER.

At this writing some of our farmers have not commenced sowing yet. T. F. Swinford wears a plug hat and a broad smile. It is a 12 pound boy. Jerry Knepp harvested 218 bushels of Buckwheat from three acres. The Index show has left our county and expects to cure all the people in Mifflin Co. The bean soup at McClure on last Saturday was a success. The crowd was not as large as it had been here before. J. J. Steely has been visiting his aged parents weekly on account of his mother's sickness. One of our ninurods went hunting last week, and a rain came up and he crawled into a hollow log to keep from getting wet. He soon found out that the log began to swell and he was expecting a horrible death. His bad deeds all came fresh to his mind. The one in particular was, he had not paid his subscription to the Post. For once it made him feel so small that he crawled out the little end of the log. The picnic held at the Ridge church was reported to have been the largest of any that was ever held. About 500 buggies, wagons etc. brought in the crowd of people. I heard one old lady say she believed there were 5,000,000. Spring township offers 12 bus. of corn in ears and board for cutting off and husking 100 bus. in ears. Quite a number of West Beaver folks attended court this week. No pleasure; all business. Some of our farmers have begun husking corn for early feeding and report a very fair crop. Ben.

WANTED.—A few country hams, inquire at this office.

Hon. T. H. Mahon the Republican candidate for Congress in this district came up from the forge having pounded the iron—and pounded it well—in a blacksmith shop near Scotland during the years of his early manhood and until the war broke out, after his service in which he entered the law. It is a peculiar coincidence that Mahon the smith will have Smith who never was a smith for his opponent this year.—Waynesboro Zephyr.

A short time ago a family named Frieze removed from Harrisburg to Sterret's Gap, Perry county, and soon after the father died of small-pox. Owing to the contagious character of the disease none of the neighbors volunteered to bury the body and the wife and children of the deceased wrapped a sheet about it and lifted it into a coffin left at the door by an undertaker, whose work ended at that point. The family placed the coffin on a farm sled and hauled it to a field near by, where it was buried.

The Sterling Publishing Co. of New York have published a book entitled, "The Story of My Dictatorship." The name of the author is not given, but the production is probably that of Henry George. The book treats of vital questions of the day and is worthy of the careful consideration of every man and woman, no matter if the other works of Mr. George do not agree with their views. The author spends a great deal of time upon social economic and political questions and in his late work, he has shown considerable sagacity in presenting his theme.
