On Tuesday evening a large and enthusiastic mass meeting was held at Selinsgrove. Republican Clubs were present from all parts of the County. After a long torch light procession, addresses were delivered by Hon. J. P. Elkins of Indiana, Hon. A. H. Mylin, of Lancaster, and A. W. Potter, Esq., of Selinsgrove. The issues of the Campaign were ably discussed.

The gossips have been busy the past week discussing the elopement of Mrs. Henry Auman with a young man named Knapp. Both parties resided near Jack's mountain west of Troxleville. On Tuesday a week they boarded a train together for Harrisburg and have not been heard from since. Mrs. Auman leaves behind five or six small children and Knapp also has a small family, but has not been living with them for some time.—Adamsburg Herald.

Rev. S. B. Wengert was tendered a reception at Elizabethville last week. The Echo gives the following account: "On last Friday evening a goodly number of the members of the U. B. church repaired to their new pastor's home with baskets, bags and bundles, to give him and his estimable little lady a kindly reception, which was quite practical, as it consisted not in words only, but in something tangible. The surprise was complete without a question. M. R. Keiper made some fitting remarks, to which the Reverend very ably and feelingly replied. A short session of song and prayer was enjoyed, after which, with many kind wishes the party filed out, and wended their way home, realizing in verity that "it is more blessed to give than receive." Thirty one of the members participated. Rev. S. B. Wengert and his companion have the good wishes of the community."

A hidden treasure of $75,000 was discovered last week by accident at the old homestead of the late David Morrison, at 225 Western avenue, Allegheny City. When the wealthy David Morrison died several years ago it was known that a large sum of money was secreted somewhere about his residence, but since then, notwithstanding the most diligent search made by his heirs, the money could not be found, and hope had been abandoned. Last week, however, while the household effects were being packed, preparatory to removal to the home of John Fitzsimmons, at 1637 North Seventeenth street, Philadelphia, who is a nephew of the eccentric old gentleman, an old-fashioned book case was encountered, which could not be taken apart until an expert was called in. He, in taking the concern to pieces, brought to light a secret drawer, which fell with a crash to the floor, throwing out a promiscuous mass of gold, silver, notes and certificate to the amount of $75,000 at least, and probably more.

What Was Her Game.

PECULIAR DOINGS OF A WOMAN IN JUNIATA COUNTY.

Some days ago a woman aged about 70 years, appeared in Tuscarora valley, a short distance west of Port Royal, says the New Bloomfield Times. She said she had come to invest in farm land. That she had looked at land owned by the Hon. James North, and while driving with her son in a buggy the horse shied and she was thrown out of the buggy. She then told her son to go home to Pittsburg and she would take her own time in returning to the Smoky City. She was kindly treated while she lived upon the bounty of the land owners of the valley, and the woman where she stopped, rubbed her limbs and said that was injured by the fall from the buggy. Meanwhile she kept up her search for land, and showed large sums of money. She claimed that she was the daughter of an English nobleman, but had married a British army officer against her father's will, and he had disinherited her, but that her husband had become a major general in the British army in India, and had accumulated a fortune by the time he died. She impressed herself on the people of the valley as no common woman, and selected three adjoining farms and purchased two verbally. By verbal contract she bought the farm of David Gies for $11,000; the farm of Frank Goodman for $7,000, and she offered Geo. Herman $10,000 for his farm but he declined. He wanted $500 more. She told than she had offered, but when her son came, she might make Herman a present that would satisfy him. After being with the people mentioned and with other people in the valley she left, promising to soon return and pay for the farms and assume the proprietorship. She has not returned and she is now as much talked about as when she first appeared in the valley, and people are wandering what she had in view. She certainly had a good time among the hospitable people where she received good living, boarding and lodging.

A Big Contract.

Mr. M. L. Miller is building up a reputation for first class work in the Monument and Tombstone industry, for fair, honest dealing and genuine artistic work, that is fast spreading beyond the confines of our town and county, and is bringing to his Marble Works, the best class of work. He has just closed a contract with Edward Bassler, Esq., of Freeburg, for a Monument, which, when it leaves his shop will be the best job of the kind erected within the confines of the county. The monument is to be placed on the Bassler plot in the Freeburg cemetery and will be a beautiful and imposing addition to this God's acre. The Monument will be of the crypt design, of Quincy granite. It will contain the family monogram on the top of the principal surface, while the word "BASSLER" will be cut in block letters on the base. The entire stone will weigh 19,500 pounds, and will be erected at cost of $1,200. Our people have reason to feel proud of M. L. Miller's Marble Works. He is a reliable gentleman and persons giving him orders will receive the best grade of marble and granite work at the lowest prices. You can get anything of him in his line, from the cheapest tombstone to the most expensive Monument. Do not buy without giving him a call.—Tribune.

The chestnut crop of Somerset county this year will bring to that county fully $100,000, it is estimated.

REPUBLICANS AT MIDDLEBURGH.

Great Preparations are being made for a Big Time.

Friday Nov. 2nd will be a big day for Middleburgh. The arrangements are nearly completed for a grand Republican rally on the evening of that day. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the club convention will be held in the court house. Speeches will be made by members of the various clubs. The parade will take place at 7 o'clock in the evening after which the mass meeting will be held. Gen. Jas. W. Latta, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, Howard L. Calder and others will speak. Several clubs have written saying that they would each send 100 men and the others will send from 50 to 75 men. There are now 8 or 9 Republican clubs in the county. The houses and business places will be decorated. All trains will be met by the Middleburgh club and the Middleburgh Band. The Clubs that come in on wagons will be met at the outskirts of town and escorted to the square. The Committee of arrangements are leaving no stone unturned to make the affair a grand success. The Middleburgh Club has ordered caps, capes and torches so that it will come out in a new regalia on that day. The Clubs of the county are all invited. Many will come on horseback. The detailed arrangements will be given more completely next week.

W. A. W. Historical and Geological Society.

The editor of this paper during a recent visit to W. A. W. Barre, was shown a large collection of minerals, relics and other things of great historical value in the possession of the above society. Being in the heart of the Wyoming Valley, the society is located at a historical center. Indian relics in abundance have been collected. Among the most important of the collection, through the kindness of Harry R. Detrick, we note the following: A pair of Hand Bayonets of the Wyoming Yeagers, the first seal of Luzerne county. (This is a block 30 inches long a foot wide and 6 inches thick with an iron handle, the size and nature of a town pump) a section of the old "Umbrella Tree" which stood on Kingston Mountain, key of the Old Goal, (a foot long) Bell and Weather Vane of the old church "Ship of Zion," crank of the first saw mill in Luzerne county, epaulets, knapsacks, helmets, bugles, flags, cartridge boxes carried by the Wyoming Artillerists in the Mexican War, swords, belts, wood carving, First Town Clock, cutlery, pistol holders, and a long list of other articles more than a century old. There is also a lock of Washington's hair, a pair of his shoe buckles and an old daguerotype that belonged to the Father of his Country. A program of the play at Ford's Theatre picked up from Lincoln's box the night of the assassination and a copy of the Daily Citizen published at Vicksburg, Miss. July 2nd 1863 printed on wall paper are preserved by the society.

This organization is doing a noble work in preserving relics and historical data that becomes more valuable as they grow older. Visitors to Wilkes-Barre will feel well repaid for their time by going to visit this historical receptacle.
