DUN'S REVIEW.

Cotton and Wheat lower, and Exports of Gold Instead of Products

R. G. Dun & Co'a., Weekly Review of Trade says: Cotton below 6 cents, and wheat below 55 cents, each lower than ever since present classifications were known, with exports of gold instead of products, at such prices in October are salient features in business this week. Distribution of goods to consumers goes on fairly, with gains at near-iy all points in comparison with last year, but not as yet at a rate to sustain the present volume of manufacturing production so that prices weaken a little. The domestic so that prices weaken a little. The domestic trade, represented by railroad carnings in October, is 3.4 per cent. less than last year, and 13.4 per cent. less than in 1892. The payments through the principal clearing houses for the third week of October are 2.3 per cent, greater than last year, but 31.5 per cent less than in 1892. The daily average for the month is 5.5 per cent, larger than last year, but 28.2 smaller than in 1892. With many features of encouragement, business.

year, but 28.2 smaller than in 1892. With many features of encouragement, business has not yet answered expectations and it is evident that the loss of part of the corn crop and the unnaturally low prices of other stapies affect the buying power of millions.

Domestic exports from New York city in two weeks of October were 18 per cent. less in value than last year, while the increase in value of imports has been 27 per cent.; much of the decrease in exports is in price, but in August and September the quantity of wheat decreased over a third. Provisions and cotton gaines, but oil decreased, and in minor decreased over a third. Provisions and cotton gained, but oil decreased, and in minor exports in September declined 16 per cent. The increase in imports, exclusive of sugar, was over 43 per cent. With this heavy increase in purchases and a decrease in sales of products abroad, the market for foreignexthange is in a position to be quickly affected by withdrawals of capital or approhensions recarding the future peace of Europe.

During the past week the failures have been 253 in the United States, against 341 last year, and 43 in Canada, against 29 last year.

Origin of the Clydesdales.

The Clydesdales, perhaps the horses most highly esteemed by farmers, especially in the hilly countries, are bred in districts bordering on the Clyde, and owe their origin to one of the Dukes of Hamilton, who crossed some of his best Lanark mares with stallions he imported from Flanders. This breed is conspicuous for its high courage, activity, and endurance. Several years ago the late Gen. Peel told me how successful be had been in mating his thoroughbred Toxophilite with Clydesdale mares. When you use," said he, "a thoroughbred for draught mares, always use the biggest and best you have, and you will be sure to produce draught horses second to none. Horses good as Stockwell are not too good for my Clydesdales. What I have bred will go on their knees to nove the heaviest loads. They won't be beaten." This fact proves how beneficially a good cross of fresh blood operates, and particularly so when the new blood is obtained from the thoroughbred-not from inferior specimens of this breed, but from the very bestfrom "horses as good as Stockwell." The Clydesdale differs from the Shire horse in that it has a long, low back, short, flat ribs, good, hard legs, and ong pasterns, which would seem to have been derived from a cross with a half-bred or thoroughbred horse. This certainly is not a desirable conformation, and our Scottish brothers have for several years past inoculated this breed by the introduction of the best Shire blood, both male and female, which has resulted in the production of an mals with shorter and stronger pasterns. This breed is much in request in this country, and the best specimens are readily sold to Americans at high figures .- The Nineigenth Century.
