The Republican Ticket.

Before another issue of the Post greets our readers every male citizen of this commonwealth will be called upon to exercise his civil right of casting a vote for officers to govern the affairs of the state. It is not only every man's privilege but also his duty to cast his ballot and register his principles. Of course the majority for Hastings will be large, but that is no reason why every man should not go to the polls and register his honest convictions against "Ringsters Ruffians and Roosters," against democratic misrule and place again at the helm that party whose history is synonymous with the nation's history. It is first a matter of principle that we must regard and then men who will carry out principle,—men whose promises will be fulfilled. Let us briefly summarize the status of the candidates.

General Hastings is so well known to every citizen of Pennsylvania that it is unnecessary to make any allusion to him. That he will be elected by the greatest majority ever given a gubernatorial candidate in this State doesn't admit of a doubt.

Senator Walter Lyon, the candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has been an earnest and ardent worker in the Republican party. He has represented Allegheny county in various positions of responsibility and trust and is ably qualified for any he may be called upon to fill.

Senator Amos Mylin holds up the farmers end of the ticket. For many years he has represented Lancaster county in State Senate, being repeatedly returned by his constituents. He is a farmer and naturally is interested in their welfare.

General Latta, the candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, is an old soldier with an admirable record. He has been one of the wheel horses in the Republican party and is entitled to every Republican vote.

Galusha A. Grow, one of the candidates for Congressman at large is too well known to every Pennsylvania to require any introduction at our hands. His brilliant record in the Congress should be sufficient to entitle him to every vote in the party and many outside it. George Huff, the other candidate for the same office, is a man of fine intellectual attainments, a protectionist of the deepest dye, and one who will maintain the interests of the State in the next Congress.

Coming down to the district ticket we have Thad Mahon for Congress. To say anything about him would be simply absurd. His record in the last Congress is the greatest reason for returning him by the largest majority ever given a candidate in the Eighteenth District and that is about what will be done.

For the Legislature we have Prof. Chas. W. Herman, whose sketch we gave in full to our readers last month. During his term as County Superintendent he visited all parts of the county and knows nearly every man. He understands the best interests of his constituents and will unhesitatingly advocate their cause and zealously support any and every movement that will benefit the tax payers of little Snyder. He stands pledged against monopolies and trusts and as he has no opposition democrats who vote for him can feel that they have done a duty to themselves and to their fellow-man.

For prothonotary, we have that able representative of the soldier faction John Calvin Schoch, the present incumbent. The voters of Snyder county need no better recommendation than the satisfactory manner in which he discharges the duties of his office. He is obliging and courteous and frequently consented to do his work for nothing when persons were in straitened circumstances. Vote for J. C. Schoch.

G. M. Shindel is alone in the field for Register and Recorder, his opponent having withdrawn thereby paying a high and merited compliment to the present incumbent. Mr. Shindel's services have met the approval of all good citizens and his vote after the election will prove this beyond a doubt. As he has no opposition many democrats will vote for him and give him a large vote.

For District Attorney the republicans present the name of that irresistible and invincible young Republican, J. M. Baker, Esq., of Adamsburg. His ability as a lawyer is well known and will serve as a passport to the faithful discharge of his duty as District Attorney.

John H. Knepp of West Beaver township is the bright and active young man who richly deserves the position as Jury Commissioner. He is a cripple and deserves the hearty support of every citizen. Vote the straight Republican ticket.

A Higher Moral Standard

The acts of the Dilke and Parnell in England, and the Breckinridge in this country, show that the standard of public morality is higher than it was fifty years ago. Until a generation ago irregular living was so common among public men in England and the United States that it was generally condoned or ignored. Very moral men like Edmund Burke and Edward Everett were the subject of more comment than such free livers as Charles James Fox and Daniel Webster.

But there has been a gradual change in public opinion. Some public men are still guilty of immoral conduct, but they do not flaunt their vices before the public, and they are liable at any time to be ruined by exposure. Fifty years ago a man could not be barred out of public life on account of being a libertine. In those days statesmen seduced women, broke up families and fought duels to settle these matters, but their transgressions did not keep them out of the cabinet and parliament and congress.

It must be admitted that morality is a much more important factor of our social and political life than it was in former generations. At least this is outwardly the case. Whether the public men of today are more honest, courageous, and patriotic in serving their country than their immoral predecessors were is another question.

The fact is, there are fashions in vice and in morals, and the average citizen follows the customs of his day. If we had a president today with the habits and morals of Andrew Jackson there would be a great outcry against him. Yet we speak tenderly and admiringly of Jackson, because in some vague way we realize the fact that his faults common to his generation, and he was, in spite of them, a very great man, who was true to his people.

Is our private and secret standard of moral equity to the standard which has been set up to our public men? This is a very interesting question and it is not easily answered.

Every member of the borough council of Jersey Shore was arrested Monday charged with maintaining a nuisance. All gave bail. The affair arises out of a recent attempt to oust the burgess of the village, who, it was claimed, was not acting in the interests of the people.

CATARRHAL DYSPEPSIA.

A DISCOURAGED INVALID RESTORED TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Catarrh of the stomach causes a condition known as dyspepsia or indigestion. It usually results from catarrh in the throat, but sometimes occurs in people who have never had catarrh elsewhere. The symptoms of dyspepsia are: liver complaint, biliousness, sour stomach, water-brash, bloating after eating, constipation, piles, and, in many cases, low spirits, dizzy head, sympathetic heart palpitation, pain, indigestion, and looseness of the bowels. Pe-runa and Man-a-lin, taken according as directions on the bottle, will cure every one. The following is a specimen of the letters received from patients:

O. S. McQuillan, Spring Hill, Iowa, writes: "Four years ago last fall my stomach, without any previous warning, refused to perform its functions, and I soon lost strength. During this time food was forced through my stomach by using cathartics. With flesh wasted away, strength exhausted so that it took all my energy to even get into a bath tub, hopes all gone, I began to take Pe-runa and Man-a-lin, following free advice which Dr. Hartman gave me. In a short time I could eat nourishing food, and the piles, kidney trouble and constipation disappeared. Flesh, strength, and a splendid appetite returned, and I went to work."

TAKEN UNAWARES.

Much attention has been attracted by the great offer of the Southern Pacific Company of New Orleans. They are making a free distribution of books to advertise their wonderful new train now running from New Orleans to the Pacific Coast, and which is said to be the fastest and most luxuriously appointed train ever constructed. The train consists of a composite car, in which is embraced a barber shop, a dining car, a library, cafe and smoking parlor, a dining car, in which meals are served at all hours, day or night, passengers paying only for what they order, also, a full complement of Pullman's latest and most magnificent drawing-room sleeping cars. The speed of this railway wonder, covering the vast distance between New Orleans and Los Angeles in 96 hours, and to San Francisco in 77 hours, has never been attempted or equaled. Contrary to the usual practice of other great railway lines, no expense will be incurred other than the customary first-class ticket and sleeping-car fare for traveling on this superb train.

"Now westward Sol has sent the richest beams of noon's high glory." And much of civilized America is following rapidly in his train, seeking homes, wealth and health in California. The great Sunset Route, Southern Pacific, is now the favorite one to those familiar with the different lines of western travel; and its management, gratefully recognizing the ready appreciation which the traveling public has shown their excellent fast-train service, embracing through Pullman and tourist sleeping-car facilities in the past, and which will be continued from Cincinnati, Chicago and New Orleans, has determined to outfit the most splendid railway achievements, and to provide their patrons with a combination of luxury and comfort hitherto unequalled. To this end the magnificent train, "Sunset Limited," taking its name from the solar luminary, whose path across valley and plain and over hill and mountain it follows with the speed of the wind, has been put on between New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Leaving both terminals every Thursday during the season of 1894-95, passing through the richest regions in all America, the trip will be completed in 77 hours, "being city" covers Gulf coast in a trifle over two days. Every comfort of home is found in the luxurious vestibule coaches, dining, sleeping and composite—which comprise "Sunset Limited," and the scenery along this line is unsurpassed.
