GRADUAL IMPROVEMENT.

Prices of Farm Products Trend Upward. But Values of Iron Low.

R. G. Dun & Co's weekly review says: In nearly all branches of business gradual improvement appears, and the hopeful feeling observed last week continues. It will time to lift business out of its depression, and the progress made, if less than the sanguine expected, is at least encouraging.

The decision to offer $50,000,000 bonds for the replenishment of the Treasury reserve was by bankers generally approved. It is generally assumed, that the bonds will be taken at once. taken at once. The effect is less easy to anticipate, for the formal announcement that after a general reconstruction of the revenue laws it is still found necessary to borrow largely tends to raise doubt about financial provisions for the future. The reported importation of gold from London, with a loss on its face of $7,500 at present exchange rates, is presumably meant to affect bond subscriptions. There have already been some withdrawals of gold from the Treasury by redemption of notes to make payments for bonds, and goods, rather than gold, are likely to come from Europe.

Resumption of work and increase of working time have been more consplcutous in cot-ton industry than in others, but no increased demand for goods appears.

For finished products of iron the demand is on the whole, narrower, so that structural beams are lower. The barbed wire combination has broken the strike. Nails continue at the lowest prices heretolore named and both gray forge and Bessemer are a shade lower at Pittsburg. At the West there was a little im-

Manufacturers of woolens have good orders for this time the year, Sales of wool are again smaller than last year.

Speculative markets have been stimulated in part by the call for bonds, and wheat has advanced 1 g c; corn 1 g c, and cotton 1-16c Corn receipts have been less than half of last year's with exports insignificant. The cotton movement continues large.

The failures of the past week have been 270 in the United States, against 232 last year, and 38 in Canada, against 36 last year. Bradstreet's says: perhaps the most con-spicuous favorable feature of the general trade situation is found in numerous reports from merchants and manufacturers throughout the country of a disposition to regard the business outlook more encouragingly, and with increased confidence in an early improvement in trade. Even in many portions of the South and Southwest, advices from the interior are that the country merchant is doing an increased volume of business, based upon favorable weather and large thirteen years and crops, DAWN OF A BETTER DAY. Miss Frances E. Willard Speaks of the Work of the W. C. T. U.

Under the banner, "For God and Home and Native Land," delegates representing every state in the Union, and a following of thousands of wearers of the white ribbon, asas. I have used half a dozen bottles and a sembled in Music hall, Cleveland, to open the twenty-first annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The feature of the convention was the speech of Miss Frances Willard. In it she The aggregated and systematic self-respect of women is making itself felt against the debasing exhibitions of her form, whether pictured or real, before audiences of immoral men. The victory gained by Mrs. Henry Somerset. Mrs. Ormiston Chant and other the Lond out your n, which caused it by a vote of 5 to 32 to refuse ilquorand promenade licenses, so that prominent place amusement in London are closed, is pe the strongest proof that a better day has dawned, and deserves to rank beside the victory of women in Kentucky over the per-jured Breckenridge and of women in New York over the tiger of Tammany.

I strongly urge that a committee be appointed by the convention to ascertain in how many capitol buildings in the different States strong drink is sold to our legislators either covert or openly. I support the ap-pointment of a cabinet minister to supervise public amusements, and of committees in every locality, among whom women should have a place, to consider the best method of catering to the people in their recreation hours to that the whole amusement question should be lifted to the plane of reason and should be lifted to the plane of reason and ethics as well as art.

We make a great ado about the Anarchists, but the public house is the headquarters of the Anarchists, and alchol is the world's dy-

Miss Williard concluded an address of nearly two hours with a resume of the pre-sent condition of the organization. She said that it had made a better showing in its aggregate membership and in its gifts received this year than the last, a remarkable token of the vitality of the movement.

The report of the corresponding secretary shows that a number of the States have in-creased their membership this year, and as a natural result have broadened and deepened

The report of the corresponding secretary, the late Mrs. Woodbridge, shows that the union has a following of between 400,000 and 500,000. The treasury is in good condition. Creat crowds attended the meetings.

TONG-HAKS ROUTED.

Nearly Two Hundred Killed by Japanese Тгооры.

A dispatch from Tokio says: Advices from Fusan, Corea, under date of Novemer 16. states that a battle has been fought between Japanese troops and rebeliious Tong-Haks, in which the former were victorious,

According to these advices Capt. Suzeki with a detachment of Japanese troops was sent to Chin Sin, in south Corea, to quell the disturbances in that region growing out of the resumption of hostilities on the part of the Tong-Haks.

Suzoki's command met the rebels in large force on November 11, and after some desperate lighting completely routed them. The Tong-Haks lost 186 killed. The number of their wounded could not be learned, but it is very large. The Japanese captured a large quantity of arms and amountain. The Japanese closs was three wounded.

A dispatch from Hirostine says: It is ex-pected at headquarters that the attack upon Port Arthur will begin November 16. A dispatch to the "Pail Mall Gazette" says that 16,000 Chinese troops are defending Port BRIGHTER TRADE OUTLOOK THE NEW DIPHTHERIA CURE.

Remarkable Showing of Its Efficeacy-Demand Exceeds the Supply.

Among the reports coming to the Departnent of State from our Consuls abroad upon the new serum treatment for diphtheria, is one from Consul General Charles De Kay, at Berlin, exhibiting the efficacy of the new treatment by comparison. He says that the establishment at Schering, near the Jungfern Heide, has forty horses under trea ment for the production of serum, yet the demand for the article has been so great that the hospitals ran out of it in September. This had a singular effect on the death rate. While for diphtheria in children under four, the most difficult sort, the rate had sunk to 11 per cent, before the exhaustion of the store of serum, before the exhaustion of the store of serum, it rose during October to 60 per cent.

The serum is costly, because establishments for its production are few; it takes a long while to prepare, and must be had comparatively fresh. It is given out that it takes at least nine months, and sometimes a year to to get the animals—all under three years old—into condition. One animal does not furnish much blood at a time—say two quarts. It must be carefully fed between dates of tapping, and as in time the strength of its blood as means of a cure gives out, it is necessary to go over again the process of cultivating the to go over again the process of cultivating the bacillus. Absolute certainty is not ascribed to the cure, and especially cases in which other diseases are present should not be con-sidered a fair test of its virtues. It is not at

INDORSED THE SHIP CANAL.

Ohio State Board of Commerce in Hearty Accord With the Project.

The Obio State Board of Commerce discussed the question of a ship canal between Lake Eric and the Ohio river. George H. Anderson, of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, presented a resolution looking to the co-operation of the people of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia in the project. The resolution mentioned the fact that the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce had agreed to raise $100,000 to secure a canal from Lake Eric to Beaver river, emptying into the Ohio. The resolution went to the committee on resolu-tions,

The committee amended the resolution, striking out all reference to any route, and making it conform to a substitute offered by Mr. Ferkins, of Cincinnati, asking Congress to extend further aid in locating the best route for a ship canal. The report of the committee provoked considerable discussion, some of the members thinking it was a reflection on their grests.

W. A. Lynch, of Canton, offered a resolution which indersed none of the proposed routes for a sing canal, but satisfied every one, and was adopted.

Too Honest.

Uncle D. P. Oliver, now a prosperous store keeper in a prosperous lowa village, once practiced law in Ohio. Being met by an old acquaintance. he was asked for the particulars of his giving up the profession.

"Didn't it agree with your health?" "Oh, yes," answered Uncle David.

"Didn't it pay?" "Firs rate."

"Met with sufficient favor from the courte?" "All I could ask."

"Then what was it compelled you

"Well, I'll tell you. I was too hon-A loud laugh from the bystanders aroused Uncle David into earnestness, and he repeated the strange statement and nailed it to his shop down his book and rose from the arm counter with his huge fist. But his chair, cross-questioner went on.

"When did you find this out?"

"In my very last case." "What was that?"

"One in which I was retained to prosecute a neighbor for killing a dog."

"And he was acquitted? So you lost the case and gave up your profession discouraged?" "No: he was convicted." "Then he was guilty?"

"No; he was innocent?" .. But didn't the evidence prove his guilt?"

Certainly it did." "Then why do you say he was innocent?"

Because I had killed the dog mysulf a few nights before trespassing lows; on my poultry; and I came to the conclusion that any business that would aid a man to convict a neighbor of his own crimes was not the business for me; so I gave it un."

Bill-Distributing as a Fine Art.

"No art in giving away handbills in the streets? Ain't there? I knows better; and if you had been at the game as long as I have you would agree with me," declared a ragged, down-at-heel advertisement distributer recently, in tones of indignant dissent.

"You try it and see if, provided you simply shove the bill at them, four out of every six don't cibow past you without accepting it But if, with a half how and a graceful movement of the forearm you tender the paper, you'll plant it right enough in most Cases

"To a man as takes a pleasure in his business-no matter how humble it may be-it's very disheartening to see how most folks chucks 'em away as soon as they've glanced at them, and personally nothing makes me more disgusted than walking about seeing on all sides the bills as they've crumpled up and wasted.

"A shillin' a day, like some of the sandwich men, has been my usual pay; but then the job ain't such a hard one, because the police don't mind your being on the pavement now and again, whereas, if you have got the boards on, they takes good care as you stops in the gutter."

One Fine Passage.

A very vain preacher having delivered a sermon in the bearing of the Rev. Robert Hall, pressed him to Mr. Hall remained silent for some time, but this caused the question to the pressed with great the great the pressed with great the great the pressed with great the great state what he thought of the serm in. time, but this caused the question to be pressed with greater earnestness. At length Mr. Hall admitted: "There was one very fine passage." "I am rejoiced to hear you say so. Pray, sir, which was it?" "Why, sir, it was the passage from the pulpit to the vestry."

died at 83, and it was said he would have lived till a hundred but for a sudden and mortal blow in the shape of an advertisement. One day he asked for a newspaper-probably for the first time in his life. Scarcely had he opened the sheet, when his eyes lighted upon the following: "Wanted, a professor of dancing at Calcutta. Must be a skillful chiropodist at the same time." He took to his bed and never left it again alive.
