Every one who gets Hood's Calendar for 1895 secures "a thing of beauty." The calendar is formed in the shape of a heart and is ornamented with two beautiful child faces which have always been charming features of Hood's Calendars. On the right is a representation of "Winter," the sweet with large with hight brown area parallely. is a representation of "Winter," the sweet intle face with light brown eyes peeping our from a dainty cap, while the snow flakes are falling all about. The face on the left is a picture of "Summer," and is lighted with blue eyes and the head covered with a hardecorated with bright flowers. The shales are perfectly blended and the whole picture is surrounded by a tasty border. The design was made by Miss Mande Humphrey, one of the most girted and celegrated water allow artists in the country. The calendar one of the most given and constraint where coor artists in the country. The calendar gives the usual information concerning the mar changes, and upon the back is printed a table of astronomical events especially cal-culated for C. I. Hood & Co.

The calendar is issued to advertise the reparations of the firm, and is regarded as gost difficult to manufacture, its novel hape being such as no other concern has yet undertaken to projuce in large quannes. During the five months when the calred every day in this part of the work sprinting presses, one brouning machine, our eye-letting machines, seven wire stitcheight large paper cutters and 162 per-is. THE WHITE HOUSECHRISTMAS

Cleveland's Children Welcome Santa Claus and Receive Many Presents.

The President and the members of the Cabinet spent the day at their respective homes. At the Waite House it was Children's Day. The Cleveland bables enjoyed their first Christmas tree, which was placed in the library. It was beautifully trimmed and decorated, Mrs. Cleveland putting the finishing touches on it. The little ones were the recipients of many presents. Preceding the dinner a lubcheon was served to the children of the Cabinet who came to the White House to see the tree. Mrs. Perrine, Mrs. Cleveland's mother, was the only guest of the family at dinner,

TO KILL CLEVELAND.

A Crazy Texan on His Way to the Capital.

A. W. Alton, of New Jerusalem, Tex., was arrested at New Orleans, upon the charge of asanity. He arrived over the Southern Pacific from Houston, Tex., and claims that he was not satisfied with the way Grover Cleveland was running affairs and was on his way to Washington to kill him, when intercepted by officers. He was locked up in an end cell one night, which he aimost demolished during the night. He tere the boards from the wall, and did considerable damage. He was almost nude next morning, and the officers removed him from the demolished cell to another one. Alton claims, also, that somebody is after him to herm him. In his ravings he sees all kinds of demons. He said that he could raise the dead and make the sea give up its treasures. that he was not satisfied with the way dead and make the sea give up its treasures. He says he has a wife and several little brothers, and think they will come to his resene and release him from jail. Judge Cain re-manded Alten to the Workhouse to be examined by the City Physician.

LAW FOR SLEEPING CARS

A Bill to Give the Public the Value of Their Money.

In the last few minutes before Congress adjourned on Saturday, Senator Sherman introduced an amendment to the pooling bill now before the Senate, providing that all sleeping cars shall furnish a safe for keeping passengers' valuables; that they shall be considered common carriers, and subject to all responsibilities, laws and duties governall responsibilities, laws and duties governing the same; that they shall not charge more than one-half cent a mile for lowers and one-third for upper berths, nor more than one-half cent for a seat in the same.
This would not materially reduce the price of a sleeper from New York to Cincinnati or Chicago, but in small hauls would make the cost of a berth very small. For instance, it is but 120 miles from Cincinnati to Columbus. There the price would be but 40 cents There the price would be but 60 cents. instead of $1.50, as at present. The fine for a violation of the provisions of the bill is to be $100 for each offense.

TRADE REVIEW.

Consumption Irresponsive to Increased

Holiday trade has met expectations, l'urchases have already been numerous, but smaller than usual in amount, and more confined to needful articles, thus anticipating ordinary trade. Wheat has declined 1/4c, corp. 3/4c and cotton is unchanged.

The market for iron and steel is waiting, but the reduction in the wages at the Edgar Thompson works, averaging 15 per cent., plainly indicates the same difficulty which is seen in other quarters, that the demand in consumption does not answer to the increase in production of pig iron. The shipments of rails for 11 months are reckoned at only 70. 600 tons, of which only 200,000 tons are for new roads. Numerous projects for steel buildings are under consideration, but no important contract is reported. It gives some encouragement that the Bethlehem works have secured a contract to make armor plate for Russia, but the order for cast pipe for Japan is still in doubt. Prices have scarcely changed during the week, though Bessemer Japan is still in doubt. Prices have scarcely changed during the week, though Bessemer pig iron and billets are, if anything, a shade weaker. There is larger demand in nails, but in hardware, machinery, engines, and railway stocks, and materials the business is much depressed.

Fallures for the week have been 350 in the United States, against 511 last year and 41 in Canada, against 41 last year.

Bradstreet's" financial review says: Speculative has been at low esp all week. Holiday influences check non-professional participation and make the larger manipulative forces of Wall street unwilling to do anything of consequence in the market. Special move-ments in a few stocks, combined with limited transactions by some of the room traders, have been the only features.

A Bond of Sympathy.

I was in the saloon of a steamer on the west coast of Scotland last Christmas holidays, and there fell into conversation with a melancholy man, ; brother Scot, sentimental, like all the race, and also, as presently appeared lamentably drunk. "It's a sair warld this," said he. I said I though there wasn't much the matter with the world, as far as I knew it. "Aye. weel," he said, "last ye ken I'm a plumber, and it's aye a sair warld tae a plumber." I condoled with him, though secretly glad to hear that that perverse and evil race were thus afflicted. "And what's your trade?" he asked. I said I was a schoolmaster "Gie's yer hand," said he: "I'm fu' o' seempathy; we baith belang tae a puir despised calling."-London Spectator

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less, expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and place.

in the form most acceptable and pleas-ant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect lax-ative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kid-neys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all drugsists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Among Baron Haussmann's recollections of his earlier experience as a India, snake tites heading the list last public administrator, is one of an interview with Casimir-Perier, grandfather of the French President, not long before that much lamented statesman died, in 1832, of cholera, Young Haussmann had been making an official tour of the district of Poitiers, and on his return to Paris was summoned before Casimir-Perier, who had recently become President of the Council.

The young man had to answer a thousand questions, many of them of a delicate nature about the condition of political parties in the department, cheerful spirits and the ability to fully the possible influence of the adminis enjoy life, come only with a healthy tration in the legislative elections, and

In the course of the conversation something was said about the wife of one of the prefects, whereupon young Haussmann spoke warmly of her domestic virtues, with which he had been greatly impressed.

"Oh yes," said M. Casimir-Perier, "but she is too common a body for a town which contains so many well-bred and cultivated people." And he added,

"I shall be obliged to establish, by the side of my cabinet, a marriage bureau for my functionaries, Lock out for yourself !" But the wary statesman gave his youthful subodinate a practical hint about the diplomacy to be observed in the treatment of such themes. As Haussmann had his hand upon the door, the President called him back. "By the way," said he, "a young officer ought always to find the wives
