General Hastings is Now Governor.

The Legislative Mill goes rapidly on and unless signs fail will go on unceasingly for some time.

In obedience to the will of an unprecedented majority Gen. D. H. Hastings is now the Chief Executive of this great state.

He is one of God's noblemen, from a humble parentage he pushed his way to the very front. The people have placed the reins of government into his hands,—the highest honor they could bestow upon him.

The ceremonies attending the inauguration were enthusiastic, imposing and inspiring. Not since the event of Hoyt's induction into the office of governor was there such a demonstration as this one.

The city was thoroughly packed with delegations that came from every corner of the State.

Every effort was put forth to add beauty and dignity to the occasion.

Shortly after 11:30 o'clock the Chief Marshal with other officers and aids escorted Gov. Pattison, Governor-elect Hastings, Ex-Gov. Beaver, the retiring State officers, and their successors from the Executive Mansion to the Capitol Hill. The effect was most beautiful as the procession moved up State St.

A large platform was erected in front of the main building. On this platform were members of the Senate and House of Representatives, distinguished persons in the military, law, business, military circles and the gubernatorial party. Around this platform stood the thousands quite patiently upon the snow-clad ground surrounding the capital.

Lieutenant Governor Lyon requested silence while Rev. Dr. Houck, of Hazleton invoked the divine blessing. Hon. Smiley, Clerk of the Senate, read the certificate of election after which Chief Justice Sterrett administered the oath of office. Gen. Hastings with uncovered head and uplifted hand solemnly assented.

Lieut. Gov. Lyon introduced the new governor and he was greeted most enthusiastically by the multitude, after which he delivered his inaugural address.

Space forbids even to comment on the most important features of it. It is sufficient to say that Gov. Hastings is fully abreast of the age and his utterances are indicative of a great, active, progressive mind. He was frequently applauded during its delivery. Ex-governor Beaver was an attentive listener and nodded his head in approval of every pledge made to the people.

The reception at the mansion during the evening was largely attended. The mansion was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The people waited at times for almost an hour before their time came to shake hands with the governor and party—so great was the throng that gathered on the street and walks. Everybody was pleasantly received. Gen. Hastings is of the people and he has a smile for every one.

The Adamsburg Band was in the big parade and did themselves great credit. The Adamsburg Band consisting of twenty six men participated in the inaugural ceremonies. They led the Commercial Travellers' Association and they acquitted themselves with much credit. Snyder county need not be ashamed of the record the boys made for themselves.

Every one enjoyed it thoroughly and I have no doubt they want to come down the next time inauguration day comes along. The only thing connected with the trip happened when Bright Drees gave Thov. Pattison goodbye. The boys cried his tears and his sadness soon faded.

At the close of the ceremonies at the Capitol the inaugural parade moved from third and Market streets and this imposing procession was received by the governor and his staff from a stand erected in front of the Executive mansion. The festivities were concluded in the evening with brilliant fireworks.

Several Bills Passed. The "Bird Book" bill was the first on the calendar and it fairly flew through the House on final passage. The members from the country were enthusiastically for it, declaring that the farmers should have some attention paid to their wishes.

Representative Foelt of Union rushed through the House an amendment to the Free Bridge Bill which gave our neighbors on the North no little trouble during the last year. As it now stands no bridge is built without the consent of the county expressed through its grand jury.

EDUCATION. The Committee on Education organized and reported a few bills of minor importance.

The bill for the establishment of Township High Schools, several bills changing the basis of the appropriation to the public schools are under consideration, several bills compelling attendance of children at public schools have not yet been reached.

Senator Landis has a bill on the Senate files extending the minimum school term to seven months. It is needless to say that I will oppose any measure that tends to increase term of school.

FISH AND GAME BILLS. A number of bills pertaining to fishing and hunting are in the hands of the chairman of this committee. Among them is the bill, the writer introduced, allowing the erection of levees during a certain season of the year.

A bill prohibiting the killing of deer for three years is also in the list. I think I know what the majority of deer hunters want, yet I shall be pleased to receive opinions on the subject. Is a game commission for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania necessary? A bill providing for the appointment of such a commission has been introduced.

The Fence Bill, The Forestry Bill, The New Tax Bill, The Bill legalizing the sale of Oleomargarine have not been reported from the committee.

PERSONAL NOTES. John H. Knopp, the intelligent young Jury Commissioner of the West End, was delighted with the inaugural ceremonies.

W. W. Wittenmyer and wife saw the greatest inaugural demonstration since 1879.

W. S. Arbogast of the National Hotel, Selinsgrove, was on hand to do honor to the incoming administration.

Hon. Charles Miller was here the day after the inauguration to congratulate the Governor. His old friends around the Hill greeted him most cordially. Hustling Charles Seebold ran away from his business long enough to look upon the grand civic and military parade and witness the induction of Hastings into the office of Governor.

Joe Lesher came down to say good-by to Governor Pattison and to urge him to accept the nomination for Mayor of the great City of Philadelphia.

Dr. A. M. Smith stopped off on his way to Philadelphia to see the new Governor and other friends.

Dr. B. F. Wagenseller shook hands with the Hero of Johnstown. The Doctor has a wide acquaintance with the representative men throughout the State.

A. B. Keck, who is always bubbling over with merriment, witnessed the departure of the last Democratic Administration Pennsylvania is to have for many a year.

Jovial John M. Boyer, the Selinsgrove Surveyor and weather prophet, shook hands with "Our Dan" on Tuesday of inauguration week.

John K. Hughes, of Kantz, just came down to see how a man ought to look on inauguration day who was elected Governor by 243,625 majority the greatest ever given to any candidate in this State. John is at home with the boys.

Benj. J. Stuck of Tower City, Schuylkill County is a member of the house. Mr. Stuck belongs to Snyder County. He is a nephew of John Stuck of West Perry Twp., Mr. Stuck is a royal fellow and a staunch Republican.

J. M. Baker, upon whose shoulders the district Attorney's toga has just so worthily fallen, hid himself away from the law long enough to see the new Governor. Sleeping on chairs with a hard board for springs, he thinks is not quite the thing if you want to dream of paradise. C. W. H. Harrisburg, Jan 21, 95.

AN OLD SOLDIER'S RECOMMENDATION.—In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea. Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief it would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. BERDING, Oregon. For sale by J. W. Saupself, Penns Creek, Pa.
