

KANTZ.

The Kantz Cornet Band will hold an entertainment in the Kantz school-house on Friday evening March 29th, Admission 10 cents. All are invited. Robert Beachel is moving to Hoover's mill to assist his father in running the mill. J. Hoover moved to his mother last Thursday. Irvin Nerhood of Kratzerville was seen at his old home Kantz on Saturday. John Fisher and wife and James Hendricks and wife were visiting Adam Fisher's on Sunday a week ago. Daniel Spittler and Miss Amanah Shemery of New Berlin spent a few days last week with Adam Shemery and family. The schools of Penn Township will come to a close at the end of this week. James Lower wears a broad smile because of a boy.

SELINGSGROVE.

H. M. Steckman of Altoona visited friends in town. Robt. Smith and Geo. O. Ritter, students of Gettysburg College, visited their acquaintances in town over Sunday. Miss Katie Erhart entertained the Sunday School class on Friday evening. Prof. Chas. G. Hendricks, instructor of Bloomsburg Normal School visited his parents on Sunday. A movement is being made to reorganize the S. of V. camp in this place. The Y. P. S. E. entertainment on Tuesday night was well patronized. Editor W. Burns and wife, of Williamsport spent Sunday with Squire Burns. Geo. Holmes and wife are visiting friends in Philadelphia. O. Snyder and wife were in Harrisburg on Saturday. Profs. Houtz and Woodruff of the University made a business trip to Sunbury on Saturday. Levi Fisher and wife are visiting their son Charles in Sunbury. Foster Smith and wife of Union City spent several days in this place. James Reese of Harrisburg spent Sunday with his father on High St. Col. A. C. Simpson as in town on Monday. Maj. E. Rohbach has gone to Philadelphia. H. E. Miller Jr. made a business trip to Sunbury on Saturday. Mrs. C. Casold has returned from a visit to her brother, Prof. C. H. Alt, in Bloomsburg.

TROXELVILLE.

The scholarship contest is just what our people had wished for; and we congratulate Mr. Smith on his success. His brother Frank will accompany him to Bloomsburg, and come a student of the State Normal school. The weekly letters of representative Herman are highly appreciated by your many readers in this place. They go far in increasing Mr. Herman's popularity. Our teachers have from 6 to 10 days to get yet; then young America will turned loose for a season of vacation. We are glad to say that the teachers gave general satisfaction during this term. Since the cent of the compulsory education bill is better understood, there is considerable spitting done against it. It should become a law, who wants to be Sec. of the board of directors. There is more legislation "Tom foolery" character brought to this session of our Legislature, than in any previous session, which we can recollect. At present, there is a premium of 25 cts. on a mink. yet Crawford county has a man, who wants to make it unlawful to kill any mink between the first of April and the first of December. What absurdity! This is only one of a hundred instances of a like character. There is considerable trouble at the stove mill of late. Hungarians and Italians have never any good in this country, and sooner we get rid of them the better it will be. Let the band play.

To Tax Unmarried Texans.

Representative Moreney, of the Texas Legislature, has drafted a bill that provides for the levying of a tax of $50 a year upon all unmarried men of Texas of 30 years of age or older. Persons of this class may, however, escape the tax by producing evidence to show that they have made effort to get married within the year. Such evidence must, under provisions of the bill, consist of affidavit from some reputable man, whose respectability is ascertained for, stating that at least within the year preceding its date the person named in the affidavit has proposed marriage to her.

The following extract from a letter of Chas. M. G. Utfield, of Reed-Fresno Co., Cal.

With pleasure I tell you that yesterday's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy I was relieved of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards spreads to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as a cold has been contracted it will stop the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs. For my J. W. Sampsell, Penns Creek,

My Mother's Grave.

BY PEREGRINE JONES.
The soft winds sigh among the trees,
The daylight fades away,
The green leaves wave at every breeze
As comes the close of day.

Darkness, that veils the last faint beam,
Creeps slowly over all,
And still, as flows a deep, calm stream,
Is earth's great business hall.

At twilight's hour, with drooping head,
I stand—as stands a humble slave—
In this lone "village of the dead,"
Beside my mother's grave.

This place is sacred—'tis the tomb
Where my dear mother sleeps,
And her, in silence and in gloom,
It safely guards and keeps.

Yet, O how cruel! O how cold!
To lay beneath the sod
A mother, far more dear than gold,
'Neath where the rabble trod.

O Death, thou unrelenting foe!
Thou never once dost pause
Till all who breathe thou layest low,
Or holdest in thy jaws!

Why hast thou seized on one so dear?
Why torn her from my side?
Why must I shed the mourner's tear?
Why has my mother died?

A little mound, a cold, white stone,
Is all that marks the spot;
Yet, should these marks and all be gone,
Will I forget it not.

I'll plant sweet roses, creeping vines,
White lilies and green trees
Round that bare mound that now confines
All that a mortal sees.

And opening buds and fragrant flowers,
The earth all robed in green.
Will give some cheer in those sad hours
When I approach that scene.

Rest, mother! Rest! Sweet be your sleep,
Till shall the trumpet's blast
Forever silence those who weep,
And raise you then at last.
