Dr. P. A. Boyer came into possession of a valuable relic, by the purchase of a lot of ground at the sale of the Rudy estate in this place, which is no less than a deed given by Anthony Selin and his wife Catharine, in the year 1791, to George Kern. The deed which is one hundred and four years old, was written by Simon Snyder, then a Justice of the Peace, afterwards Governor of the state. The lot was a part and parcel of the original grant made by Wm. Penn to Conrad Weiser, the celebrated Indian interpreter. This is indeed a relic of the past, well worth preserving.—Tribune.

The girl who gives way to a desire to gad about the streets, to cultivate the acquaintance of young men and act snappishly, is laying a foundation for a useless afterlife; then two to one, when married, she will develop into a slatternly gossip, if no greater misfortune befalls her. It is the girl who loves home and helps her mother that wins the good man and becomes an ornament to womanhood. The girl who does this and devotes some spare time to reading and strives for the grace of mental culture, commands the respect and esteem of everybody, while the street-gadding ornament wins only the admiration of those whose admiration is not worth having.—Ex.

The law requires that township auditors should publish a statement and file a copy with the Clerk of the Courts. Another duty enjoined by law but very generally neglected is the filing of triennial accounts by guardians and trustees. Not one-third of those who have charge of the estate of minors comply with the law in this particular. When they finally settle with their wards they find the filing of an account something they cannot avoid if they are to be relieved from responsibility by the Court. They ought not, however, to neglect the filing of the triennial accounts which would protect them from any suspicion of neglect or mismanagement and be a record for the information of all concerned as to the state of the funds composing the trust.

A Big Robbery.

Junata Herald.

"This morning the store of Noah Hertzler at Old Port Royal was burglarized and robbed. Entrance was effected by cutting a hole through the floor up from the cellar, all approaches to the store room being protected by burglar-alarm. The safe was blown open and robbed, as near as can be ascertained, of the following monies, bonds and stocks: About $250 in silver coin; $20 in new pennies, in original package just received from the mint and never opened; $100 U. S. 4 per cent. bond; redeemable in 1907, $3500 worth of the First National Bank of Mifflintown and Pomeroy & Co's private bank of Port Royal stock, and $1,000 worth of stock in the Keystone Land and Lumber Company, of Missouri, all the property of Noah Hertzler, and $2,500 of bonds and $25,000 worth of stock in the Pennsylvania Traction Company of Lancaster, the bonds being negotiable and numbered as follows: Nos. 282 and 283 each for $1000 and 1713 for $500; and about $150 worth of notes belonging to William Hertzler, individually, and other valuable papers. A liberal reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of the thieves."

On Monday three tramps were arrested on suspicion for having committed the burglary. They passed new pennies of 1895 at the Huntingdon news stand. They were taken to Mifflintown on Tuesday.

Critic's reply about "That Flag"

Near McKees Falls at Kohrer's School House a flag was raised on Washington's Birthday by the Hofer P. O. S. of A. Within a few days after the raising of this flag some of the quite small pupils of the school engaged in mirth, sport and play with their "Sling Shot" shot at the flag, and because they were children were entirely ignorant of the fact that they might injure it, and which by no means was injured, after the act was performed the teacher reprimanded the boys. In a few days appeared an article in the news-papers in which there is not a semblance of truth. This letter is written to correct the false statement published some time ago. Carrie.

Cleveland's Chicago letter is likely to promote the changing of votes from the Democratic to the Republican party.

The man who spends not less than $20 a year for tobacco complained yesterday that he could not afford to take a daily or weekly newspaper, or a monthly magazine. "They cost too much," he exclaimed. "I wouldn't mind paying 50 cents a year for a red good paper, but I draw the line at that. If I can't get one for that sum I'll do without." And then he walked into a handy good room, which had a bar attachment, and dropped two or three dollars. In the meantime his children are growing up with vacant minds, and since they find few attractions at home are rapidly learning the lessons of the street.—Ex.

A Harrisburg gentleman has in his possession a couple of rare coins that he picked up in his travels. He bought them for a small price, but he could never learn their names or their value until one day he happened into the United States mint in Philadelphia, where is employed the greatest authority on old and rare coins in this country. On producing his coins the Harrisburg gentleman was informed that one was a Moorish coin of the sixteenth century and the other was a Persian coin minted in the year 808. The old numismatist who gave the information said that the Persian coin had very likely formed part of the head-dress of a female in that country or in Egypt, as it was perforated in the manner that such coins are punched for stringing on a band that is tied over the forehead.

Farmer's Alliance.

The Snyder Co. Alliance, No. 631, met in Seebold's Hall, Middleburgh, April 20th 1895, in their second session. Six subordinate Alliances were represented.

W. P. Bricker, State Secretary of the organization, was present and assisted in and gave general instructions and information of Alliance work. A decision was reached to have a County Alliance picnic in Bower's Grove west of Middleburgh at some date during the coming summer. The date cannot as yet be fixed upon as we wish to have some able speakers there. Among them to be Prof. J. F. Willets, V. P. F. A. and I. U. and other talented speakers.

Various questions of interest to farmers and the laboring class were discussed. Also such questions determined upon for the third meeting which will convene in the Franklin Sub. No 554 meeting hall on July 20th 1895. J. H. Hetrick, Co. Secy.

TIRED WOMEN

The Housewife, the Farmer and the Teachers of All Vocations.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities. That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after an unfavorable cold of winter, gradually disappears when Peruna is taken. Thousands are daily testifying to its priceless benefit. General lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep, Peruna needs every inflexion and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, reinvigorates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and promotes regular sleep.

This tired-out feeling is especially true of the housewife in spring time—standing, faded out, tired and weak. Thousands of men of them everywhere. A few bottles of Peruna would do these tired-out people. A tonic and nerve restorer it has no equal. It builds up the system, restores strength to the exhausted and at once restores the vigor and spirit. No family woman should be without it.

A finely illustrated booklet on Spring Medicine and the Peruna Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.
