Last August while working in the forest field I became overheated, and suddenly attacked with cramps and was nearly dead. The Bloomfield Times says: Bloomfield has good hotels, but general public would not know by reading the County papers, for they don't advertise. Bloomfield has good stores but they don't advertise and from reading The Times people at a distance would suppose there was only one store in Bloomfield. The same might be said of Blacksburg and Furniture dealers. People at a distance judge of a town by the advertisements of its business men. How will this shoe Bloomfield?

Editor Hill gives notice to the public that Edward Kline is no longer connected with the "elevated" road. It appears that the chief clerk of this subordinate had a little tilt with the Harrisburg Convention as to which one should stay and which one should go home, Edward having gone without being assigned in the regular way, and the shop was run without a "head." Edward didn't agree to make tracks for the convention when Mr. Hill became "acclimated" to the business of the railroad, much less issue temporary walking papers. We used to such little capers, and now our place.—Sunbury Daily.

A woman took a basket of eggs to the city for sale. Upon being asked how many she had she replied: "If I take out the eggs two at a time I have one left. If I take them out three at a time I have one egg left. If I take them out four at a time I have one left. If I take them out five at a time I have one left. If I take them out six at a time I have one left; but if I take them out seven at a time I have none left in the basket." How many eggs had she in the basket?

Mrs. S. A. Kell, Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficiency." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep seated and muscular pains. For sale by J. W. Sampsell, Centre Creek, Pa.
