Saving Expenses.

The law passed by the late legislature abolishing the December registry will save to Snyder County $272. The law fixing the pay for judges of elections at $3.50 and inspectors at $3.00 without regard to time will save this county an expenditure of $50. Hence, these two laws will save the county a total of $322. If the legislature had been as economical in other ways, the people would feel more like saying amen to all of their actions. Our thanks, however, are due to them for this bit of economy.

STATE-CHAIRMAN QUAY.

His Record, as Presented by Congressman Stone in the Convention.

The following summary of the remarkable career of Matthew Stanley Quay was given by Congressman William A. Stone, in the State Convention on Wednesday, nominating Senator Quay for Chairman of the Republican State Committee:

Born at Dillsburg, York county, September 30, 1835; the son of a distinguished clergyman; prepared for college at Indiana academies; graduated from Jefferson College in 1850; admitted to the bar in 1854; elected Prothonotary of Beaver county in 1856; re-elected in 1859; Lieutenant in the Tenth Pennsylvania Reserves; Colonel in the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Pennsylvania Volunteers; Lieutenant-Colonel and Assistant Commissary-General; Private Secretary to Governor Curtin; Major-in-Chief of Transportation and Telegraph; Military State Agent at Washington; Military Secretary to the Governor of Pennsylvania; member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, 1865, 1866, and 1867; Secretary of the Commonwealth from 1872 to 1878; Recorder of the City of Philadelphia and Chairman of the Republican State Committee 1878 and 1879; Delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention 1872, 1876, and 1880; Secretary of the Commonwealth from 1879 to 1882; elected State Treasurer 1885; elected a United States Senator in 1887; Chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1888, conducting personally that great campaign which resulted in the election of Harrison and Morton; a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1892; re-elected United States Senator in 1893, and, may I add, by your suffrages, elected Chairman of the Republican State Committee in 1895—such, in brief, is the public history of Matthew Stanley Quay.

Poor country boy, with nothing but the pious example of his Presbyterian father and the prayers of his Christian mother for his inheritance, he has risen step by step in the ladder of political fame, until now he stands the acknowledged leader of the Republican party, not only in Pennsylvania, but in the Nation. Modest, unassuming, and reticent, avoiding soldiers' reunions and Grand Army Encampments, yet holding the affections of the soldiers of the late War for his untiring efforts in their behalf and for his personal bravery on the field of battle, a bravery so conspicuous as to win and obtain public recognition by the Congress of the United States. Never was there a braver or more courageous soldier, not only on the fields of death and carnage, but on the political fields of the State and Nation.

Righteous Principles.

The principles of purity in politics laid down by Senator Quay are so sound in doctrine so clear and unerring that we need not apologize for printing them there. They deserve the careful study of every American citizen and are as follows:

"We deery the growing use of money in politics, and the corporate control of Legislatures, municipal Councils, political primaries and elections, and favor the enactment of legislation and the enforcement of laws to correct such abuses.

"We earnestly insist upon a form of civil service which will prevent the enslavement of public officers and employes and the compelling of those appointed to preserve the peace to confine themselves to their duties; which will insure absolute freedom and fairness in bestowing State and county and municipal contracts, and will punish any form of favoritism in granting them; which will forbid the grant of exclusive franchises to deal in public necessities, comforts, conveyances and sanitary requirements; and will insure the recognition of ability and fidelity in the public service, keeping service in the country ever foremost, when accompanied by ability and fitness.

"We demand that public office shall be for public benefit, and its term in subordinate positions shall be during good behavior. No public employe or officer should be permitted to influence primaries or elections, nor upon any pretense be assessed upon his salary, and all unnecessary positions and salaries should be abolished, and expenditures and taxation reduced. There should be uniform valuation of property for public purposes, corporations enjoying public privileges should pay for them, and schools should be divorced from politics and kept absolutely free from political influence and control."

Humidity Effects the Mind.

It is probable that nothing else which has a place in the world of ours has been so much discussed as the weather. It would seem that its mysteries should all have been brought to light by this time—that the vast ocean of talk should have penetrated every nook and cranny of the subject. Yet new facts about the weather are being constantly discovered.

One of the latest is announced by an authority in a scientific journal, who states that moisture in the air has a direct effect upon the mental powers. He says that in his own case he has been amazed at the faulty deduction and misconceptions which were made in damp foggy weather, or on days in which the air was charged with electricity and thunder-storms were impending. What seemed clear at these times, appeared later to be charged with error. An accountant in a large insurance company is obliged to stop work at such times, finding that he makes many mistakes which he does not become conscious of until afterward. In a large factory from ten to twenty per cent. less work is brought out on dark or threatening days.

It has been noted by firemen that in states of depressing atmosphere there are more fires than any other time, due, it is believed, to greater carelessness on the part of house-keepers and others. The drivers of locomotives say there is an increased number of accidents and more trouble in wet weather than in clear. They attribute the phenoma to the effect of moisture on the machinery; but the real cause is the befogging effects of humidity upon their own minds.

The writer goes on to say that the conviction prevailing active brain-workers of his circle that there are atmospheric forces which exert a powerful influence upon mental effort.—Public Opinion.

Don't Snub the Boys

Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes. When Edison, the inventor, first entered Boston he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches in the depth of winter.

Don't snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare, the world's poet, was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name.

Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretending. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log cabin.

Don't snub a boy because he chooses a humble trade. The author of the "Pilgrim's Progress" was a tinker.

Don't snub a boy because of dullness in his lessons. Hogarth, the celebrated painter and engraver, was a stupid boy at his books.

Don't snub a boy because he stutters. Demosthenes, the great orator of Greece, overcame a harsh and stammering voice.

Don't snub him for any reason. Not only because he may some day outstrip you in the race of life, but because it is neither kind nor right nor Christian.—Good Housekeeping.

Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough, so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size have been used I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and, I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles, as I was to give it a trial." For sale by F. W. Sampson, Penns Creek, Pa.

IN DESPAIR.

Many Women Will Recognize It.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

"Oh, I am so nervous! No one ever suffered as I do! There isn't a well inch in my whole body! I honestly think my lungs are diseased, my chest pains me so; but I've no cough. I'm so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion horribly. Then I have palpitation, and my heart hurts me. How I am losing flesh! And this headache nearly kills me—and the headache—Heavens! I had hysterics yesterday. There is a weight in the lower part of my bowels, bearing down all the time; and there are pains in my groins and thighs. I can't sleep, walk, or sit. I'm diseased all over. The doctor? Oh! he tells me to keep quiet. Such mockery! Inflammatory and ulcerative conditions at the neck of the womb can produce all the above symptoms in the same person. In fact, there is hardly a part of the body that can escape those sympathetic pains and aches.

No woman should allow herself to reach such a perfection of misery when there is positively no need of it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts promptly and thoroughly in such cases; strengthens the muscles of the womb, heals all inflammation, and restores that unruly organ to its normal condition. Druggists are selling carloads of it. Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., will gladly and freely answer all letters asking for advice.

Mrs. E. Bishop, 787 Halsey Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., suffered all the above described horrors. Now she is well. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her. Write her about it.
