Gold in plenty may be found in the ands of the Volador River, a stream moderate volume that comes tumsling from the snow line of the Sierra e St. Martha, in South America, but, though the lowland region and the river bed where the precious metal bounds in fabulous quantities are easby accessible, the mosquitoes are so mick and terrible there that all atempts to rifle the sands of the gold have so far falled.

Elisee Reclus, the celebrated French geographer, was the discoverer of this conderful stream, whose waters sweep ever sands that are literally golden. He told the news to the French Vice Consul at Rio Hacha, and this official obtained the concession of this Eldo-

He took with him when he set out an ingeniously constructed gauze tent of large dimensions. For two days he tried to live under its shelter and watch the operations of his workmen, who toiled in the stifling heat, clothed in thick garments and protected by heavy boots, gloves and veils. At the end of the second day, however, both employer and employe with one accord gave up the struggle and retreated.

The next to try to wring fortune from these auriferous sands was an talian who obtained permission from the Vice Consul referred to above. The Italian started out with a party fsix, who shared with him his belief, and so they took along no special pron against the insects. LOUISVILLE ENCAMPMENT.

THE GRAND PARADE.

Election of Officers-Next Encampment to be at St. Paul.

WEDNESDAY.

The metropolis of Kentucky was ablaze with patriotic enthusiasm this morning. Through her wide streets and over her boulevards marched as her guest 30,000 of those who came once to conquer. Their pathway was banked by over a third of a million people, who gave the hex in hims ple, who gave the boys in blue a reception that will never be forgotten.

Men of southern birth and sentiment vied Men of southern birth and sentiment vied wite their brethren from the north in their demonstrations of greeting, and white-haired women, who thirty years ago this week, heard of the approach of the blue coats with fear apprehension, petted and pelted them to-day with flowers. It was a gigantic and sincere tribute to the sentiment that was head of the procession and which was worn to-day on procession and which was worn to-day on badges innumerable, "One flag, one coun-

Owing to the railroad blockade and the owing to the railroad blockade and the consequent delay in the arrival of many of the posts that were to figure in the line, it was not until nearly daylight this morning that Col. Cohn and his assistants had completed the order of the divisions. At half-past five five signal guns were fired to awaken the vetenans in the outdoor camps and school houses, but the detonation had the effect of startling the whole situation and results. startling the whole city and ratting the china in many closets. An hour later all vehicle traffic in the district covered by the line of march was stopped, the police roped off the rendways from the sidewalks, and the department delegations and individual posts began to form at the locations designated.

In the meantime the sightseers had com-menced to turn out in a forrent, and side-walks, windows and the public and private stands filled up like magic. Owing to the complaints of veterans at previous encampments, that they were compelled to go over more ground than their age or physical condition justified, the lines of march were limited to two and a half miles, and the change was a wise one, for the heat was intense and the sun heat down with remorseless fury. Six members of the Louisville Legion were instantly killed this morning by the explosion of ammunition in the caleson of agun which was being driven to Phoenix hill for service in connection with the G. A. R.

The soldiers killed were members of liattery A and belonged to a section of six in charge of one gun. Captain David Castle-man was in command. The six unfortunates were scated on the caleson.

The accident happened about 5 o'clock. The accident happened about 5 o'clock. The battery section was proceeding to Phoenix hill to fire forty salutes in honor of the G. A. R., and had reached a point between Avery and Hall residences on Broadway, between Third and Fourth streets, when the accident occurred. The Legton hospital corps was notified at once and hastened to the accident.

Business and pleasure was combined by the Grand Army folks to-day. While the delegates to the national encampment settled delegates to the national encampment settled down to legislate for the good of the order and to select officers for another year, the rank and file indulged in the reunions that of late years have become one of the most in-teresting features of the encampment week. Out at Camp Caldwell and in the tents over at Jeffersonville, as well as in the school houses and other post headquarters, the sur-vivors of State regiments and companies now scattered throughout the country met today scattered throughout the country, met to-day to say "God bless you," once more and to rehearse never-to-be-forgotten incidents on rehearse never-to-be-forgotten incidents on the battleileid. There were many affecting scenes as comrades who had not met since the war recognized each other. Their joy could not find expression in words and they fell upon each other's necks, while the tears streamed down their wrinkled faces. There were many ex-Confederates, too, who hunted up the reunion quarters of regiments with which they engaged in battle and made themselves at home with their former foes. Thus in scores of place throughout the city the blue and gray spent the day and evening

For the meeting the national music hall had been handsomely decorated with national colors, and the official flag of the organization. colors, and the official flag of the organization. Promptly at 10 o'clock Commander-in-Chief Lawier called the encampment to order. State Commander Kelly was present and greeted the delegates in behalf of the city and Grand Army of Kentucky. The response was delivered by ex-Congressman Warner, of Kansas City. Then, amid a scene of wild enthusiasm and waving hats. Heary Watterson, whose oration at Pittsburgh last year brought the encampment to Louisville, was escorted to the footlights and addressed the Grand Encampment in a speech full of patriotism and good taste.

Immediately after the excitement and applause had subsided, the annual addresses of the commander-in-chief and the other gen-eral officers were delivered. W. A. Ketcham of Indiana then presented the name of Col. Iven A. Walker, of Indian-apolis for commander-in-chief as a represent-ative of that peerless and sturdy loyalty that rescued the nation. He was a man who stood firmly when unmerciful disaster seemed to follow and fasten spon the armies. He had fought at Richmond, Perrysville and suffered

T. S. Clarkson, of Nebraska, said his department had presented his name as a can-didate for commander-in-chief. He would, however, decline to be a candidate against Comrade Walker and moved that the rules be suspended and that the adjutant-general be directed to cast the unanimous vote of the en-campment for Comrade Walker. Mr. Clark-ton's action produced a thunder of appliause. The motion produced a thunder of applause. The motion prevailed with a hurricane of cheers. When order was at length restored Commander Lawler formally declared Col. Walker elected. He directed some commandes to escort the new commander to the platform, which was done amidst enthusiastic shouts and cheers of the old veterans on all allows. erans on all sides.
Regarding the location of next year's encampment Thomas Anderson said he was authorized by all the rairroads west of Missouri to offer for Denver, a rate of 1 cent a mile.

W. H. Powell reported that Illinois was in favor of St. Paul. Edgar Allen did the same for Virginia. The Maryland comrades were anxious to have the encampment for 1897 at Pallinois and the state of the Company of the C Baitimore, and they felt that if it went to Buffalo they would have no show two years hence. Nearly all the southern and eastern states felt the same way and a combination was formed for St. Paul. New York voted solidly for Buffalo, while Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois gave their strength to St. Paul.

The first ballot resulted: Nashville 33 votes; Denver, 103; Buffalo, 226; St. Paul 393. While 100,000 people were watching the fire works along the river front at ten o'clock to-night a portion of the grand stand on which were seated at least 10,000 people, gave way and many were injured. No fatalities have been reported.

The portion of the grand stand which fell was about 400 feet long and 60 feet wide. It was the lower part, and only elevated about two feet. Immediately behind this part were seats elevated 8 to 20 feet. On the entire stand there were 50,000 people.

The delegates to the encampment found it difficult to get down to business after the emotion created by the welcoming exercises. The scene that followed the closing words of the fervid oration of Heary Watterson was thrilling. The speaker was over-come with emotion, and left the front of the stage. Men rose in their seats and not only cheered but yelled. They eried and cheered by turns, hugged each other and themselves, and threw hats, fans and handker-biefs into the air. But they were not prepared for the touching incident which followed 20 seconds later.

Mrs. John A.Logan was seated a short distance back of the commander-in-chief's stand and as Mr. Watterson walked away from the and as Mr. Watterson walked away from the footlights with the tears coursing down his cheeks, General Lawier took his hand and presented him to Mrs. Logan. Neither could speak for a moment, and then the white-haired, motherly-looking women took his hand in both of hers, and, when she found her voice, said tremblingly: "I am glad I have been permitted to live to hear your speech."

That was all she could say. Then she sat

REV. DR. WAKEFIELD DEAD

Oldest Minister in the Methodist Episcopal Church

Rev. Dr. Samuel Wakefield, the veterar methodist minister, died at lo'clock Friday at the residence of J. G. Brown, West Newton, Pa., aged 96 years, 6 months and 8 days, Only three of his ten children were present when he died, Mrs. J. G. Brown, Dr. James B. Wakefleid, of Grapeville, and Mrs. Kate Coulson, of Pawnee City, Neb.

Dr. Wakefield was said to be the oldest Mason and the oldest preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church, and likely the oldest of any denomination in the world. He had been a member of the Masonic fraternity for almost 75 years.

Dr. Wakefield's career as a Methodist min-Dr. Wakeleid's career as a Methodist min-ister is a part of the history of Western Penn-sylvania. He preached occasionally in later years, and enjoyed fairly good health until recently, though he broke down somewhat after the death of his wife some months ago. His grandmother, Mary Wade, was a preach-er, having been ordained in the ministry by John Calvert. Dr. Wakefield was ordained in 1817. He published soveral books on the-clogy and muste when he was comparatively clogy and music when he was comparatively young, which made him widely known. His principal theological work, "Wakefield's The-ology," has become a classic in the lifetime of the Methodist Episcopal church.

DEFENDER WON ALONE.

Lord Dunraven Refused to Contest the Third Cup Race. The America's cup races ended Thursday in a flasco. Lord Dunraven withdrew the Valkyrie immediately after the start, and the Defender salled over the course alone. The America's cup committee notified C. Oliver Iselin that three races and the cup were awarded to the gallant Defender, and the crowds afloat and ashore cheered the ship that sustained Uncle Sam's supremacy on the seas, and the skipper and crew that sailed her. For at least another year the interna-tional trophy is ours, and in all probability it will be many years before a British yacht again challenges for the cup.

NO EPIDEMIC FEARED.

Beliaved That Cholera and Yellow Fever Can Be Kept Out.

Dr. Wyman, surgeon general of the marine hospital service, feels assured that all possible precautions have been taken to secure the United States from an epidemic of choiera or yellow fever. He says the cool weather will do a great deal to keep out the yellow fever, and probably, the country having escaped so far, there need be no fear of an invasion at this late time in the year. The doctor says that the cold weather will not in-terfere materially to prevent the spread of cholera, and that a close watch will have t be kept upon all ports where there is a possi-bility of choiera being introduced. He thinks that it will take a long time for Japan to re-cover, as the disease seems to have found a rich soil, and got a footing that will be diffcuit to unseat. For a long time to come expected that a close watch will have to For a long time to come it is maintained over vessels coming from Japan, This is also true of other oriental countries where there have been outbreaks of cholera, by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an infamed condition of the mucore lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets infamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the infammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases gut of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing out an infamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

We will give One Hundred Bollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
