Private Roof Gardens.

Plans have been drawn for two new houses that are to be built upon the west side of New York for private residences, and each of them is to have a roof garden. This would indicate that their owners intend to spend part of the summer months in New York. "I know of no better place in New York for a private roof garden," said the architect of one of these houses, "than the high ground on the west side of town. The house that I am going to build will be four stories high, and as there are no high apartment buildings near by the roof garden on the top will be private in every sense of the word. It is the owner's purpose to have it so arranged that he may have his breakfast or his dinner served there in warm weather. Under these circumstances he may forget that he is in the city. From his roof he can look over Riverside Park, and across the river to the Jersey shore. This is the choicest part of the town in the summer, you know, and I expect to see many of the new residences up there equipped with roof gardens."

Here Below.

"Man wants but little here below, and wants that little long," and just as long as he can get it. The words of the old hymn have a meaning, which, interpreted that the absence of all pain is supreme happiness. It is very little to ask to be freed from it. A short cut to the attainment of this is to use St. Jacobs Oil. It is a little thing to get, but the amount of good it does in the cure of pain is something enormous.

An Attempt to Burn the American College at Marsovan.

Advisers from Marsovan, Asia Minor, shows that the trouble which was anticipated by United States Ambassador Terrell, in a dispatch to the state department at Washington in August last has culminated in an attempt to burn the American college at Marsovan. The agitation against the Americans at Marsovan began about a year ago, when a number of pupils of the American college were expelled because their fathers were suspected of being implicated in the Armenian movement. This caused suspicion to fall upon the professors of the college, five in number, and two of whom are Americans. Mr. Terrell notified the authorities at Washington that Garabed, a naturalized American citizen, had been assaulted at Marsovan, close to the church door, as he was going to attend a religious service. Garabed was one of the students who had been previously expelled from the college, at the request of the Turkish authorities, on the ground that he was connected with the Armenian revolutionists. He was the chief man of the Protestant community at Marsovan and chairman of the Council of the city. Garabed, however, is said to have been murdered by the revolutionists because he had given the government information regarding their plans.

CUBAN SYMPATHIZERS

Cuban Mass Meeting at the National Capital.

A mass meeting of Cuban sympathizers was held at Metzger's Hall Thursday night, "Corporal" Tanner, ex-Commissioner of Pensions presided. The feature of the evening was the address by General Guzmán, the Cuban patriot, who described at length the oppressions put upon the Cubans which had engendered the rebellion, their character and extent. The Cubans would, he said, make no compromise with the Spanish government, nor would they compromise until they were free. His sentiments were cheered to the echo.

ROME SHAKEN.

The Inhabitants Panic Stricken by an Earthquake.

A severe and prolonged earthquake shock was felt in Rome at 4:38 Friday morning. Many houses swayed badly, walls were cracked, pictures and other articles fell from walls and other places, people ran panic-stricken into the streets, and a serious disaster was for a time apprehended. Happily, the first shock seemed to have ended the subterranean disturbances, and the frightened inhabitants returned to their homes. So far as is known, no serious damage was done. An inspection of the public buildings will be made, to determine the extent of the injuries, if any, that have been sustained.

EFFECTS ON A GAS BELT.

Surprising Changes as the Result of Wednesday's Earthquake.

The earthquake had a wonderful effect on the Indiana gas belt, as shown by the following reports. They are from the gas companies of the different cities and are authentic.

Clearfield—At Westville a saloon was torn to pieces by the sudden increase of gas pressure. Cleo is without gas, increased pressure blowing the packer and casing from the well. In this city there was no visible increase in the gas pressure, but spouting of water in White river. Gas reports say a leak through the plate and limestone at Ireton has opened an escape for gas. Pressure on pipe lines north of Nobleville has so increased as to cause many breaks and leaks.

Greenfield—There is greatly increased pressure in all wells. Kokomo—The attempts to drill for oil were abandoned, everybody casing and packing old gas wells. A number of accidents are reported from increased pressure.

Hartford City—Gas pressure increased 100 per cent, old wells blowing like whistles. The pressure on the lines supplying this city has greatly increased. It is thought that the gas belt has been given new life.

THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD.

JOLIET MILLS' GOOD RECORD

The Output For October Largest in the History of the Illinois Steel Co.

October was a record breaker at the Joliet works of the Illinois Steel company. The month's output in all the departments was the largest in the history of the company. The roll mill turned out 7,400 of steel, surpassing all previous amounts by 100 tons. In the steel mill 34,000 tons of material were worked up, and the blast mill produced 29,000 tons.

NEWFOUNDLAND COAL.

Several Seams of Wide Extent Have Been Found.

While constructing the railway across the island this summer, several likely coal seams were discovered, covering an area of several square miles. Experts pronounced them first-class, and last week a carload of coal was taken out and brought to St. John's, where several successful tests were made with it, proving it superior to the Cape Breton coal. Contractor Reid, who is building the railway, has issued all the coal areas from the government, and if they could realize expectations it will develop into a most important industry.

WAR AMONG WORKERS.

A Serious Riot Among Workmen at Ellwood.

A riot occurred in Ellwood City, Pa., Saturday night, and at least half a dozen men are injured. For some time the employes in the glass works and those in the tin-plate mill have been on the out, and when one from each mill got into a fight it was a signal for a free-for-all engagement. At one time there were no less than thirty men engaged in the melee, three of the men running into a house to escape the mob and hiding under the bed in an upstairs room. The fight continued from 11 o'clock until about midnight.

SWITCHMEN ON A STRIKE.

The switchmen of the Western New York & Pennsylvania railroad went out on a strike Saturday night owing to the failure of the men to secure the restoration of a cut of 16 per cent they received some time ago. The road at this place is practically blocked. At a meeting of the trainmen it was decided to send delegates to Buffalo to confer with the railroad officials, and if they cannot reach some satisfactory arrangement with the officials of the road it is understood that they will go out on strike at Buffalo, Olean and Rochester and tie up the whole system of over 300 miles.

The company assured the committee that it would do all in its power to advance wages later on, but would not state any particular time. No action was taken.

A TYPE OF NOBLE MANHOOD.

Bishop Whipple Pays a High Tribute to the Indian.

It is not often that a good word is spoken in behalf of the Indian, but when one is it generally comes from among those who know him best. Bishop Whipple, of Montana, has spent many of the best years of his life with the red men, and has studied their lives and habits. The following will therefore be read with interest, coming as it does from one who knows whereof he speaks.

"The Indian is the noblest type of the wild man in the world," says Bishop Whipple. "He recognizes the Great Spirit, believes in a future life, has a passionate love for his children, and will lay down his life for his tribe. He is courteous and hospitable. If his bitterest enemy come to his wigwam he would be treated as an honored guest. The Indian is proverbially honest, unless he is demoralized by drink. In thirty-six years' experience with the Indians I never knew one to tell me a lie, and I never had a thing stolen by one. I asked an Indian once if it was safe to leave my property in my wigwam while I made a distant journey. He laughed and said: 'Quite safe. There isn't a white man within 100 miles of you.' Among themselves the Indians are fond of jokes and often shoot with laughter. They are taciturn, however, in the presence of the whites."

"In 1862, during the civil war, the Indians learned from pictures which they saw on the traders' counters that the North was at war with the South and was being defeated. When the agent solicited a company of half-breeds they believed they could recover their lost territory. They commenced a massacre in three weeks. The western border of Minnesota was a trail of blood. Many of the noblest border men I have ever known were cruelly murdered. It was darker than midnight. I shall carry to my grave the warm hospitality of those friends who now sleep in nameless graves. The massacre was the outcome of a long series of neglects and dishonesties, and the only light in the darkness of those days was the fact that the Christian Indians were as true as steel. They saved more than 200 white women and children. There are Indians still living whom I love as the bravest knights that ever walked on earth, and who, at the risk of the hatred of their fellows and danger to their lives, never faltered. The same massacre would have taken place on our northern border had it not been for the fact that the Christian Indians were timely warning of danger, and friendly Indians came to the defence of the whites."

TEXAS EDUCATING THE NEGROES.

In Texas there are some eight academies and colleges for the higher education of Afro-Americans. Nearly all of these schools are presided over and taught by young Afro-Americans. The exceptions are the Tillotson school at Austin, one of the many supported by the American Missionary Association, which is managed entirely by whites, and Bishop College at Marshall, which has a white president and mixed teachers. These schools are scattered all over the State, and it is not easy to estimate the tremendous work they are doing for the future of the race and of the State. Indeed, they are revolutionizing the character of the people in Texas. It is a remarkable fact that in this respect, as in most of the States of the South, there are more of the schools for the higher education of colored people in Texas than there are for the whites.
