THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD.

A LABOR LYCEUM.

Illinois Workingmen Move Against the Propagation of "Isms."

The Illinois Labor Lyceum is the name of a new organization that has been launched in the labor movement. It has an important mission, according to its projectors, and was organized only after mature deliberation-

The purposes of the organization are: To furnish speakers on economic sub jects; men thoroughly in accord with the trade union movement; men who have made a study of existing conditions, and who are in terested in the abrogation of injustice to the rights of men.

2. To furnish to organized labor, at cost price, such literature as may be deemed beneficial to the labor movement.

The workingmen of England, France and Germany have for years employed men to fight the battles of organized labor in the National Parliaments and elsewhere. Each Union contributes a per capita amount to a fund that is used to keep organizers in the field who will at all times be ready to do what ever is requested of them. In England, for instance, John Burns is employed by the Trade Unionists to do their work for them in the London County Council and in Parlis-

When a big strike occurs he is expected to use the influence gained by his political po-sition to bring about a settlement. Whenever a union is to be organized he is always at the command of the interested parties to aid them in their efforts. In America it is different. Until trade unions are willing, it is said to pay salaries commensurate with the work to be done, it will be hard for them to secure the entire time of any labor leader to advocate their cause.

For that reason the Labor Lyceum has been organized. It was believed that vigor-ous action should be taken to keep working-men headed toward the eight-hour day move-ment and prevent them from drifting of into "isms," which, it is claimed, promise nothing but injury to the labor movement. Lyceums will be organized in every town and city in as lecturers to answer any call that may be made. A State lecturer took the field about he middle of November.

Archibald Clarke, a farmer living near Grump, Ky., is without doubt the most remarkable somnambulist to Kentucky. He actually during the past summer cultivated four acres of land while asleep.

For a long time Mr. Clarke suspected his neighbors of stealing into his truck patches after night and doing the work, but finally one night, while nailing some boards on his backyard fence. he struck his thumb with a hatchet and awoke, thus realizing for the first time that he had been working in his sleep.

Among other things that he has done while in the somnambuliste state was to lay a worm fence for a distance of 200 yards. One night he fell asleep. thinking that he would rise early on the following day and cut a small ditch to drain a pond. But great was his surprise when the next morning he found that the pond had been ditched during the night.

On one occasion he got up shortly after he had fallen asleep and putting several pounds of butter in a basket took it to a near-by grocery and traded it for coffee and sugar. For a long time he was at a loss to account for the missing butter. Neither did he know whence came the coffee and sugar. However, since realizing that he is a confirmed somnambulist, he has questioned the grocer, who recollected the occurrence occurs of Mr. Unrae . strange behavior at the time.

Mr. Clarke lived alone, but since he has discovered his condition has engaged the services of a young negro, who takes care that his employer does not get out of the house during his sleep.-Cincinnati Enquirer.

nothing lost

Scott's Emulsion makes cod-liver oil taking next thing to a pleasure. You hardly taste it. The stomach knows nothing about it-it does not trouble you there. You feel it first in the strength that it brings: it shows in the color of the cheek, the rounding of the angles, the smoothing of the wrinkles.

It is cod-liver oil digested for you, slipping as easily into the blood and losing itself there as rain-drops lose themselves in the ocean. What a satisfactory thing this is-to hide the odious taste of cod-liver oil evade the tax on the stomach, take health by surprise. There is no secret of what it is made of-the fish-fat taste is lost, but nothing is lost but the taste.

Perhaps your druggist has a substitute for Scott's Emulsion. Isn't the standard all others try to equal the best for you to buy? go cents and $1.00 All Druggists SCOTT & BOWNE New York
