FIRE. FIRE!! FIRE!!!

A Ten Thousand Dollar Fire at Port Treverton.

Aucker and Knight's store, dwelling house and the post office went up in smoke. At the close of a beautiful Sunday, while most of our people were in church, the startling cry of "Fire! Fire!" broke upon the stillness of the evening. It was in the Hoffman building the largest structure of the village. This building contained Aucker and Knights' store of general merchandise, a dwelling department and the post office.

People rushed panic-stricken from their homes and the churches. The fire was already beyond control of the means at hand and common effort was directed toward preventing a general conflagration. But of this there was no immediate danger as the building was isolated, and the wind blew toward the river, a direction favorable to the community. The fire continued to rage, the whole roof was in a blaze, when J. W. Snoke, our sturdy mail carrier, broke in the door, rushed through the smoke, saved part of the Postal furniture including two mail pouches and their contents. Shortly after this the fire received a draught of air from beneath and the once beautiful store room became a mass of seething flame. A veritable labyrinth of fire; bits of burning paper and dry goods floated in the air, chimneys tottered and fell, shooting crackers added to the excitement while a quantity of gunpowder exploded with a loud report, throwing the side of the structure into an adjacent lot. The heat now became more intense, the lambent flames shot higher and higher bearing with them myriads of sparks that with graceful trend followed the current of air and passed off into the night. Thus the fire raged for hours and all that now remains of at least $10,000 worth of property is debris and ashes. It was however, partially covered by insurance. How the fire originated is a mystery, the occupants all being absent at the time.

If the weather permits the Ridge picnic on next Saturday will be well attended by a large delegation from Mifflin county. Such has been reported....Ira Peter wears the belt up to date for shooting squirrels, this season or at least as far as heard from....Daniel Seal is expecting one thousand bushels of grapes this season....The mason work at the bridge is about completed at Fisher's dam.

Some of our people took in the Bush Meeting at New Lancaster on Sunday....The Middle Creek Picnic on Saturday was all that could be desired till about 2 o'clock when a heavy thunder storm arose scattering the people in all directions and giving some a complete drenching.

In a recent letter to the manufacturers Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Spectator, Rushford, N. Y. says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known. An aunt of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here, stating if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not like to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds and croup; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have been in constant use in Iowa for almost a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and unequaled by any other. They are for sale here by all druggists.

Eczema
All Her Life.

Mr. E. D. Jenkins, of Lithonia, Ga., says that his daughter, Ida, inherited a severe case of Eczema, which the usual mercury and potash remedies failed to relieve. Year by year she was treated with various medicines, external applications and internal remedies, without result. Her sufferings were intense, and her condition grew steadily worse. All the so-called blood remedies did not seem to reach the disease at all until S. S. S. was given, when an improvement was at once noticed. The medicine was continued with favorable results, and now she is cured sound and well, her skin is perfectly clear and pure and she has been saved from what threatened to blight her life forever.
