The apple crop which had promised to be a large one will be considerably reduced owing to the fruit dropping off lightly, due to the dry weather.

More Girls Wanted at the Northumberland Cap Factory.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has arranged for excursions to the seashore from Erie, Pottsville, Bellefonte, Shenandoah, Dauphin, and intermediate stations (including stations on branch roads), on August 5 and 19.

Excursion tickets, good for 10 days, will be sold at extremely low rates.

NO DEAL IS POSSIBLE.

Another Wierd Story Sent Out From the Quay Camp.

The Anti-Combine in Philadelphia on the Verge of Collapse—A Big Fight Over Postmaster—Allegheny County Is Solid Against the Quay Candidate For State Treasurer.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Harrisburg, July 27.—Within the past 10 days the report has been sent broadcast over the state that a compromise or deal had been perfected between Senator Quay, David Martin, C. L. Magee and Senator Flynn, thus healing up all factional differences in the state. This is another of Senator Quay's schemes to throw the public off the track of his real intentions. There has been no patched up peace. There will be no patched up peace, either in Philadelphia or any other part of the state. In an interview published some days ago Senator Flynn, of Pittsburg, had this to say concerning the reported armistice:

"There has been no harmony deal that I am aware of. I do not know whether or not the Republican convention will be harmonious. I do know that the Allegheny county delegates will not support James S. Beacom, Quay's candidate for state treasurer. Another Republican will be placed in the field for that nomination. Who that will be I cannot say, as it has not been decided upon. One thing is certain—we will not support Quay's man for state treasurer. I can say nothing further at this time."

Not For Quay's Man.

Republican County Chairman A. C. Robertson, of Allegheny, also spoke of the alleged deal as follows:

"The Allegheny county delegates to the state convention will decidedly not support James S. Beacom for state treasurer. We are still opposed to the Quay idea in Pennsylvania politics. We have fought for home rule and have secured it."

So far as the situation in Philadelphia is concerned, there is no deal and there can be no deal between Senator Quay and David Martin. The story was started in the Quay camp that a truce had been arranged whereby Senator Quay's friends in Philadelphia had agreed to support Captain Hackett for the office of register of wills in return for Mr. Martin's support of the Quay candidates in the state convention on Aug. 26. The reverse is exactly true. The handful of Quay people in Philadelphia were forced to the support of Captain Hackett, for if they had not fallen into line they would have been left in a hopeless minority.

His Forces Demoralized.

So far as the Quay forces in Philadelphia are concerned, they are practically in a state of demoralization. Judge Durham, the real leader of the Quay men in Philadelphia, is thoroughly disheartened. The fight for postmaster in Philadelphia has convinced him that Senator Quay is prepared to throw him overboard for the purpose of placating enemies by the nomination of Thomas Hicks to the desirable place of postmaster. Judge Durham is bitterly opposed to Mr. Hicks, for the reason that he has always been opposed to Durham, and has always been a thorn in his (Durham's) flesh.

Mr. Hicks in the fight of 1895 was a "combine" worker. He is at present chief of the bureau of highways in Philadelphia, and Senator Quay, with the characteristic trait that he has always displayed in political emergencies, is now seeking to have Mr. Hicks made postmaster, for the purpose of placating some of his enemies in Philadelphia.

This fight over the postmastership has created a coolness between Senators Penrose and Quay, for the reason that Penrose, who has always been Judge Durham's friend, is also fighting Hicks tooth and nail. Quay, on the principle of rewarding his enemies rather than his friends, is urging the appointment of Mr. Hicks, while Penrose and Durham are fighting it. As a result of this, the "anti-combine" forces in Philadelphia are in a state of continuous turmoil, and the disruption of that element is certain to follow before the leaves fall. The Philadelphia item has this to say concerning this remarkable situation:

"The Quayites all over town are kicking like steers over the prospective appointment of Colonel Hicks to the postmastership. Colonel Hicks has ever been antagonistic to Quay, but if you will notice it is only the men who have fought Quay who are receiving the rewards. The men who stood by Quay when he most needed help are still tramping the streets looking for work."

As above remarked, Senator Quay is still playing at his little trick of placating his enemies by giving them good places for the purpose of securing his own continuance in power and office. He will not hesitate, as experience has shown, to unload friends and political workers if it becomes necessary to accomplish his own purposes. There are thousands of men in the state today whose eyes have been opened to this fact. The idol is broken, and can never again be replaced on its pedestal. The old faith that Quay was a man who never broke his political word is a thing of the past.

These men have discovered that the only way to obtain recognition and office from Senator Quay is to kick and to kick in the most violent shape. If they do this they are tolerably sure to be rewarded. This is the light of history in Quay's career.

Major Levi G. McCauley is a candidate for auditor general, and is one of the best men ever nominated for that position. He is a veteran of the late war; he has been a life long Republican, and is today a man absolutely without stain upon his public or private career. Major McCauley has always been an independent in thought and action, within Republican lines. Senator Hardenburg is also a candidate for auditor general he has been one of Quay's most subservient followers. He served on the notorious Lexow committee, he has always voted as Quay wanted and has been known as one of Quay's men. And yet Hardenburg is to be thrown down for the nomination. Senator Quay finds it necessary to attempt to make friends with the various independents of Chester county, and so, when Major McCauley was mentioned for auditor general, he promptly endorsed the proposal.

Thus is verified the unsubstantiality of the senior senator's political gratitude. The chances are that if Senator Hardenburg were nominated he would be defeated by reason of his close adherence to Senator Quay in the past years. But this does not alter the fact, as stated above, that Senator Quay is seeking every means to get into harmonious touch with his enemies and the element that is opposed to him.

Hastings' Splendid Fight.

During the past week Governor Hastings has manifested fresh his adherence to the interests of the people. He has vetoed the notorious Becker bill, which proposed to hand the entire municipal government of Philadelphia over into the hands of Senator Quay's friends. He has created a commotion among the members of the various investigating committees by demanding that they hand in itemized bills of their alleged expenses to him.

Not in the quarter of a century, nor since the notorious salary grab of a dozen years ago, has there been such a commotion and excitement among legislative sharps as there has been during the past week or ten days. It simply means the political extermination of about 40 men who heretofore held the confidence of their constituents. They endeavored to fool Governor Hastings, and to get money from the treasury by bills of expense, but Governor Hastings was entirely too shrewd for them. The governor has by his recent action thoroughly merited the title of "the people's governor." He has kept a vigilant eye upon revenues and expenses, and, as a result, thousands of dollars will be saved to the taxpayers of the state which otherwise would have gone into the capacious maw of insatiable political sharks.

With this condition of affairs facing the state, the political outlook is as stormy as it ever has been in recent years. The storm may not break this fall but it certainly will come next year. The bosses of the state have been too long sowing the wind not to reap the whirlwind.

Bishop McCabe, of New York, on Dr. James' Headache Powders.

"With regard to Dr. James' Headache Powders, I have no hesitation in commending them to sufferers from headache. They relieve the pain speedily, and I have never known anyone to be harmed by their use. I have been a great sufferer from headache in my life, but have almost gotten rid of it by the constant use of hot water and fruit and by doing without coffee. The Dr. James Headache Powders have, however, greatly relieved me at times and I never allow myself to be without them, and have recommended to others freely. C. C. McCABE."

DANIEL MYERS, OF PENNSYLVANIA.

A Living Object Lesson For Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

HEART DISEASE is curable. "For over forty years," writes Daniel Myers of Two Taverns, Pa., on Aug. 10, 1896. "I suffered with heart disease. First a slight palpitation, gradually growing worse. Then shortness of breath, sleeplessness, smothering sensations and much pain in the region of the heart alarmed me and I consulted a physician. Receiving no benefit I tried others and a number of remedies, spending a large amount of money, but finally became so bad that it was unsafe for me to leave home. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure two years ago. For eighteen months I have been well. Although 72 years of age I can go where I wish and I sleep all night and wake up as cheerful as a babe and completely rested."
