The following is the text of the plat-form adopted by the Democratic convention:

the Democracy of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, heartreaffirm and reiterate the principle the Democratic party as expressed in the learnormate party as expressed in the learnorm adopted by the National Convention at Chicago in 1896, and approved by 6,500,000 free and independent voters. We are firmly and unalterably opposed to the single gold standard, which has been the direct cause of the financial distress that has followed upon our people since its adoption, and we are in favor of a complete and immediate return to our original specie basis, as it existed prior to the demonetization act of 1873. "We congratulate William J. Bryan, the glorious champion of a righteous cause, for his masterly leadership in support of these principles.

"We denounce the Dingley tariff law as a measure designed and passed in answer to the demands of trusts and monopolies, every important feature of which is a refuge for the protection of some trust or combination existing in opposition to the public good and in violation of the common law. "We ask the honest people of this

Commonwealth to examine the legis-lative and other records of Republican action in Pennsylvania since the as-sumption of unlimited power conferred at the last election, the gross extravagance, the flagrant corruption, the total neglect of every public interest, the abject servility to monopolies and every form and species of jobbery, the utter disregard of constitutional mandates, the reckless tampering with finance and taxation, the exhaustion of the Treasury by profligate expendi-tures, the consequent suffering of public schools, charities and other subjects of wise public care, together with the scandalous fury of the factions enraged over the spoils of the prostrate Commonwealth and of its several ring-ruled cities. "The late shameless exposure of the unlawful practice of the State Treasurer of paying out the funds of the people to State obsers and private individuals without warrant, for the sole purpose of favoring political friends, discloses one of the many infamous schemes of the dominant power and has our severest condemnation.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL LESSON

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR SEFTEMBER 12.

Lesson Text: "Christian Living," Rou and xii., 9-21-Golden Text: "Be Not Over-come of Evil, But Overcome Evil With Good," Romans xii., 21-Commentary.

9. "Let love be without dissimulation. 9. "Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil. Cleave to that which is good." The R. V. says, "Let love be without hypoerisy." The Holy Spirit through John says, "Let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth" (I John iii., 18). The title of our lesson is "Christian Living," which is elsewhere defined as "the life of Jesus made manifest in our mortal flesh". The this manifest in our mortal flesh." The thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians decribes the love that was manifest in Christ as never in any other, and He will manifest that love and that life in us in proportion as we present a as we present to Him our bodies a living sacrifice (verse I).

10. "Be kindly affectioned one to another 10. "Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love, in honor preferring one another." This is the love that seeketh not her own; not our own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved (I Cor. x., 33; xiii., 5). The "therefore" of verse 1 of our lesson chapter takes us back to the "justifled freely," "justifled by faith," "no condemnation," "freely with Him all things," etc., of Rom. iii., 24; v., 1; viii., 1, 32, and because of all this it is surely a reasonable thing that we should let Him have our whole being, that He may let Him have our whole being, that He may by renewing our minds transform us into by renewing our minds transform us into His own image (Rom. viii., 29). 11. "Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord." The R. V. snys, "In diligence, not slothful," and in the margin says that some manuscripts give, "serving the opportunity." The latter "serving the opportunity." The latter would suggest the simplicity of I Sam. x.. would suggest the simplicity of I Sain. A., 7, "Do as occasion serve thee, for God is with thee," and the former would be in the line of Col. iii., 23, "Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto

12. "Rejoleing in hope, patient in tribu-12. Reporting in hope, patient instribu-lation, continuing instant in prayer. I think we are safe in saying that the hope in the New Testament generally, if not al-ways, refers to the second coming of Christ and the avents therewish associated. So and the events therewith associated. Rom. v., 2; viii., 24, 25; Titus ii., 13; I John iii., 3. The tribulation that worketh patience is our privilege all along the journey (Rom. v., 3; John xvi., 33; Rev. 1., 9; Heb. x., 36, 37), and the attitude of increasing

x. 36, 37), and the attitude of increasing prayer is our great privilege as well as necessity (I Thess. v., 17; Heb. iv., 16).

13. "Distributing to the necessity of faints, given to hospitality." If one should be asked why he worked so hard early and late at his daily toil, and should reply. "That I may have to give to him that needeth," he might seem to be a little unbalanced in his mind, but he would be talking, as well as living, according to serious oalanced in his mind, but he would be talk-ing, as well as living, according to scrip-tures (Eph. iv., 28).

14. "Bless them which persecute you; bless and curse not." Now this is easy talking, but the practice of it is not so popu-lar as to have as yet become the fashion. It is, however, the plain teaching of our Lord (Math. 44). is, however, the plain teaching of our Local (Math. v., 44), and He always practiced what He preached. If His life is to be made what He preached. If his phase of it is surely inmanifest in us, this phase of it is surely in-cluded. It was beautifully manifest in Stephen when he in the midst of their persecution looked like an angel and acted like the Lord Himself (Acts vi., 15; vii., 60). 15. "Rejoice with them that do rejoice.

and weep with them that weep." The unity of the body of Christ is such that when the members are abiding in Him if one member suffers all suffer with that one, and if one member be honored all the members rejoice member be honored all the members rejoice with it (I Cor. xii., 26). This is as it should be, but where is it seen? What, then, alls the body? Is it as in Phil. it., 21, "All seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's?" If so, how can the body expect the blessing of the Head? Let each ask himself, Am I a healthy member of Ris body or a grief to Him?

16. "Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits." On the second clause the margin says, "Be contented with mean things." The margin of the R. V. says, "Be things." The margin of the R. V. says, carried away with them that are lowly. we will allow ourselves to be carried away with Him who is meek and lowly, who made Himself of no reputation and humbled Himdimself of no reputation and humbled Himself unto death for us. He will surely take possession of us and manifest His life in us. 17. "Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men." Not rendering evil for evil, but, contrariwise, blessing, knowing that ye are thereunto called that ye should inherit a blessing (I Pet. iii., 9). Providing for honest things, not only it, the side of the possession of the providing for honest things, not only it, the side of the possession of the providing for honest things, not only it, the side of the possession of the providing for honest things, not only it.

honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men (II Cor. viii., 21). Whatsoever things are true, honest, just, lovely, we are to think on these things (Phil. iv., 8).

18. "If it be needed.

things (Phil. iv., 8).

18. "If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men." This seems very carefully worded. There are those who know nothing of peace, they seem born for war, and yet somehow they get united to or mixed up with those who are for peace, and the peaceful party seems to be in a good school for the cultivation of patience. Well, we must "let the peace of God rule in our hearts" and be thankful that He is able to subdue, for He is the Prince of Peace (Col. iii., 15; Phil. iii., 21).

19. "Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath, for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord." This certainly cannot mean that we are to be satisfied with getting angry, but without taking vengegetting angry, but without taking venge-ance. Rather, as in the R. V. margin, give place to the wrath of God. Let Him take charge of all the wrath and vengeance business, 20. "Therefore, if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head." This is a quotation from Prov. xxv., 21, 22, but the last clause of that passage is omitted, "The Lord shall reward

21. "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." The ornament of a meek and quiet spirit is in the sight of God of great price (I Pet. iii., 4), and the meek and lowly one who when He was reviled, reviled not again; when He suffered, He threatened not, will work in us this spirit and live in us this life whenever we are willing that Ke should. The word "transformed" in verse 2 of this chapter is the formed" in verse 2 of this chapter is the same word that is translated "transligured" in Math. xvii., 2; Mark ix., 2, and "are changed" in II Cor. iii., 18, and used only in these four places. The last passage seems to me to show the only way to be thus transfigured; therefore let us go on "benolding Him" until we see Him face to face, and then we shall be like Him (1 John iii., 2).—Lerson Helper.

The Yellowstone Herd.

The Yellowstone park buffaloes are the only remnant of the many herds that once roamed thousands strong all over the West. It is highly desirable that these should be preserved and the species saved from utter extermina-tion. Hunters without conscience and with little sense, for the mere glery of killing a buffalo, keep shooting away at these Yellowstone park buffaloes they can evade the park at these Yellowstone park whenever they can evade the park guards, until the herd, which a few years ago numbered 250, is now reduced to less than fifty. These hunters deserve to be shot themselves. There deserve to be shot themselves, a nenalty of fine and imprisonment to the state of the park when the same and the is a penalty of fine and imprisonment for the crime they are guilty of, but they seem thus far able to escape ar-rest, and the American buffalo promis-es very soon to be an extinct species.

To all women who are ill:-It affords me great pleasure to tell you of the benefit I have derived from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I can hardly find words to express my gratitude for the boon given to suffering women in that excellent remedy. Before taking the Compound I was thin. sallow, and nervous. I was troubled with leucorrhoea, and my menstrual periods were very irregular, I tried three physicians and gradually grew worse. About a year ago I was advised by a friend to try Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and Vegetable Compound, which I did. After using three bottles of the Vegetable Compound and one package of Sanative Wash, I am now enjoying better health than I ever did, and attribute the same to your wonderful remedies. I cannot find words to express what a Godsend they have been Whenever I begin to feel nervous and ill, I know I have a never-failing phy-20 sician at hand. It would afford me pleasure to know that my words had directed some suffering sister to health and strength through those most excellent remedies. - MISS MAY SACHNER, 2481, E. Rich St., Columbus, O.

]000000000000000 The Blue and the Gray. Both men and women are apt to feel a little blue, when the gray hairs begin to show. It's a very natural feeling. In the normal condition of things gray hairs belong to advanced age. They have no business whitening the head of man or woman, who has not begun to go down the slope of life. As a matter of fact, the hair turns gray regardless of age, or of life's seasons; sometimes it is whitened by sickness, but more often from lack of care. When the hair fades or turns gray there's no need to resort to hair dyes. The normal color of the hair is restored and retained by the use of
