Heat in the Body. An important source of heat in the as it circulates in its vessels. All of this resistance, which is overcome by the heart, is transformed directly into beat. We may calculate the amount approximately. If we suppose that 180 ccs. of blood are expelled from the left ventricle at each stroke, under a pres sure of one third of an atmosphere, this would correspond to .6192 kilogramme metres at each stroke, and at 72 strokes a minute, this would give 44.3124 kilogrammemetres per minute. If we sup-pose that the right heart does one-quar-ter the work of the left, or about 10 kilogramme-metres per minute, we have for the total work per minute 54.312 kilogramme-metres, which corresponds to 128 calories per minute. This is perhaps a rather high estimate for ordinary conditions, but where the heart is forced to pump a much larger quantity of blood in order to maintain the normal temperature, this estimate is probably much exceeded at times. Since this friction takes in its place a good print of the place largely in the most constricted portions of the circulation, it would be natural to expect that the blood which had been driven through the capillary system of a gland would issue much warmer than it entered, and such we find to be the case. Thus the blood of the hepatic vein has been observed to be 40.73, while that in the right heart was 37.7. In the muscles no contraction can take place without an increased flow of blood through them with a simultaneous constriction of the capillaries, which would naturally give rise to a considerable production of at delight to him because of his heat-a fact constantly observed.-San-

The Sequence Car.

Freight car numbered 12345 of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad passed through Darlington, Pawtucket, one day last week on the branch railroad. What that car contained, where it was from, or where it was going is of no consequence. The number of the car, 12345, is all that is of special interest.

This number on freight cars is the fortunate number to find. A few years ago, and perhaps until to-day, commercial travelers and whoever else was traveling much, or was much about the railroad, were all the time looking for this magic number, in the belief that, to see it was a good omen, and wonderful were the stories told of the good fortune which fell to those who were so happy as to see it. It is a simple matter, and yet it is not often a car with this number comes into view. It is very likely that had any other particular number been chosen it would have been as difficult to find it.

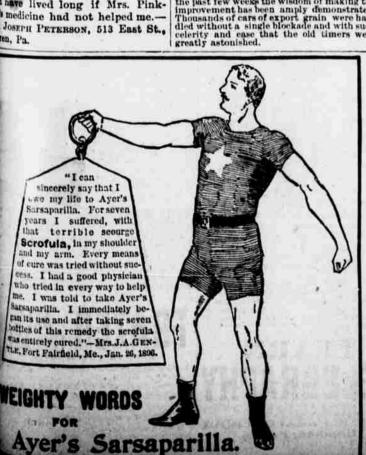

A gentleman who saw this car last week had been looking for it continually for more than half a score of years, and during that time had traveled thousands of miles, but his eye had never been blessed with a sight of it until Tuesday. He is not so superstitious as to fancy that his fortune is to change because he has seen the car with this number, but his curiosity is gratified after so long a search.-Providence Journal.

A Famous Pistol.

Capt. Wm. P. Hogarty, of Kansas City, Kan., has in his possession an old dueling pistol which was originally owned by Josef Maria Graf von Dann, who was commander-in-chief of the Austrian army during the Seven Years' War, and one of Austria's greatest heroes. The pistol is in an excellent state of preservation, although it has been little used since its owner in 1757 drove Frederick the Great from Prague and forced him to evacuate Bo-

Josef had two of these pistols, and after his death one passed to each branch of his family. William Theodore Maria von Dann, a grandson, who was banished from Austria in 1848, brought one of them to America, and before his death at Quindaro, a few years ago. he gave it to Capt. Hogarty. It is inlaid with gold and silver and artistically carved. Capt. Hogarty prizes it very highly. He is himself something of a military hero-having been decorated by Congress for his distinguished bravery in the battles of Antietam and Fredericksburg-hence it is a pleasure to him to own a pistol which was carried by such a great military

The Locust Point yards of the B. & O. are completed and that ocean terminal at Baltimore now has a capacity for $200 cars. During the past few weeks the wisdom of making the improvement has been amply demonstrated. Thousands of cars of export grain were handled without a single blockade and with such celerity and case that the old timers were greatly astonished.

A Farmer Who Has Starving Boys arrested is Sent to Jail.

William and Charles Williams, both William and Charles Williams, both under 10 years of age, were in court at Uniontown recently charged by John Gauton with stealing potatoes from his garden. Witnesses testified that the family was on the verge of starvation, that the father had told the boys they could get some potatoes and they were ignorant that they were stealing. The lads were acquitted, and the costs put on Gauton, who in default of payment was sent to jall, Judge Mestrezat saying Gauton should have given them something to eat.

Anthrax, the dreaded disease which is supposed to have caused the death of four men and 25 cattle at Falls Creek, has reached Reynoldswille. The first case affected a cow belonging to Thomas Gricks. Two more cows died Sunday evening. Drs. Porter and Hoffman, two prominent physicians of Prookville, are here and pronounce the cases genuine anthrax. L. M. Sim-mons, president of the borough board of health, and Hon. S. B. Elliott are having the matter thoroughly investi-gated. Word was telegraphed the United States authorities this evening, and representatives are expected here at once. The disease is supposed to have come down the creek from Falls Creek and attacked the cows that drank from this stream. A terrible spread of the malady is feared.

As a result of the Taxpayer's asso-ciation investigation, warrants have been sworn out at Pottsville against Commissioners Rentz and Martin and ex-Commissioner Allen, County Con-troller Severn and ex-Commissioners' Clerk Connell, charging them with be-ing parties to the misappropriation of $10,000 of county funds, which it is said, never reached the treasury after county notes had been discounted at one of the local banks. The commis-sioners gave ball in the sum of $3,000.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL LESSON.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS. FOR SEPTEMBER 26.

Review of the Twelve Lessons of the Third Quarter-Golden Text: Matthew v., 16-Commentary on the Quarter's Lessons by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Lessons by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

LESSON I.—First Converts in Europe (Acts xvi., 6-15). Golden Text—Ps. cxix., 130, "The entrance of Thy words giveth light." The golden text for the quarter, "Let your light so shine," etc. (Math v., 16), suggests that Christ, who is the light, is to be allowed so to work in us that God may be glorified in us (Gal. i., 24). Paul testifies that it pleased God to reveal Christ in him (Gal. i., 16), and as the Lord Jesus Christ never sought His own will or pleasure (John vi., 38; Rom. xv., 3), so Paul, when hindered from going into Asia or Bithynia, was satisfied to cross over to Macedonia at the call of His Lord and patiently wait for the opportunity and cheer-Macedonia at the call of His Lord and patiently wait for the opportunity and cheerfully accept the seemingly small one of speaking to a few women by the riverside.

Lassox II.—Paul and the Philippian Jailer (Acts xvi., 22-34). Golden Text—Acts xvi., 31, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved and thy house." To be arrested, beaten and imprisoned did not look much like success in their work: neither did it look like success.

prisoned did not look much like success in their work; neither did it look like success when our blessed Lord was arrested, buffeted, scourged, crucified as a malefactor.

LESSON 'HI.—Paul at Thessalonica and Berea (Acts xvii., 1-12), Golden Text—Acts xvii., 11, "They received the word with all the readiness of mind and searched the Scriptures daily." Some were added unto the Lord at Philippi, and Paul passed on to other cities, for he believed that it was His calling to cause all whom he could was His calling to cause all whom he could reach to see and hear the Gospel. It is to be seen in our lives and heard from our lips, and whether we are free or bound, resting in one place, or persecuted from place to place, it is that under all circumstances people may see and hear of Jesus Christ. Not all will receive him, but some will, and some, like the Bereans, will earn-estly search the Scriptures. Lesson IV.—Paul Preaching In Athens

(Acts xvii., 22-34). Golden Text—John iv., 24, "God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." He found the people of Athens worshiping all manner of gods, but ignorant of the only living and true God, and giving their time chiefly to hearing and telling the news regardless of anything be-selling the news regardless of anything beyond the present life.

LESSON V.—Paul's Ministry In Corinth
(Acts xviii., 1-11). Golden Text—I Cor.
iii., 11. "Other foundation can no man lay than that Is laid, which is Jesus Christ."
Here He works at His trade as a tentmaker and on the Sabbath days preaches Christ in the synagogue as long as the people will tisten to Him, and when they will hear Him an more He preaches in a house right beside ao more He preaches in a house right beside the synagogue. Many are saved, including the chief ruler of the synagogue and all His house. The Lord Himself visits and ensourages Paul, and He continues eighteen months at Corinth.

LESSON VI.—Working and Waiting For Christ (I Thess. iv., 9, to.v., 2). Golden Pext—John xiv., 3, "If I go and prepare a clace for you, I will come again and receive you unto Myself, that where I am there ye may be also." Turning to God from idols a the first sten the coming of His Son from may be also." Turning to God from ideas is the first step, the coming of His Son from heaven is the consummation, and all between is included in serving the living and true God (I Thess. i., 9, 10). We need to be assured of our salvation or there can be no peace of mind.

LESSON VII.—Abstaining For the Sake of Others (I Cor. viii., 1-13), Golden Text—Rom. xiv., 7, "For none of us liveth unto himself." The love that buildeth up the body of Christ is better than the knowledge that puffeth up oneself. To pity self, or please self, or live in any way unto ourselves (Math. xvi., 22, margin; Rom. xv., 3, II Cor. v., 15), is directly opposed to the spirit of Christ, and, therefore, cannot be pleasing to Him; but to deny self and daily to die unto self that Christ may be seen in as (Math. xvi., 24, 25; H Cor. iv., 11), this is as (Math. xvi., 24, 25; II Cor. iv., 11), this is Christlike and glorifying to God, and thus souls will be won to Christ. Lessen VIII.—The Excellence of Chris-tian Love (I Cor. xiii., 1-13). Golden Text —I Cor. xiii., 13, "And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three, but the greatest of these is love." God is love, and Christ was God manifest in the flesh, and this chapter is a photograph of Christ, so that, aithough His name is not in it, we cannot mistake the picture any more than we would that of an intimate friend.

Lesson IX.—Paul Opposed at Ephesus (Acts xix., 21-34. Gold Text—"Take heed and beware of covetousness." The trouble at Ephesus arose from those who raid, "Our craft, by which we have our wealth, is in danger." This is not to be wondered at when it comes from those who raid, "Our craft, by which we have our wealth, is in danger." This is not to be wondered at danger." This is not to be wondered at when it comes from those who have in this world all they ever will have, but when it is seen in those who bear the name of Christ In connection with our church, or our board, or our society, or our denomination, is piti-able indeed, and must be grievous to God, who, by His Spirit, is seeking to gather from all nations a body of people irrespec-tive of all names but that of our Lord tive of all names but that of our Lord Jesus Christ.

LESSON X.—Gentiles Giving For Jewish Christians (II Cor. ix., 1-11). Golden Text—II Cor. viii., 9, "Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor, that ye through His poverty might be rich." God so loved that He gave His only begotten Son; the Son of God loved me and gave Himself for me. If we see others need that which we have and we give not to them, how can the love of God be dwelling in us? (John iii., 16; Gal. ii., 20; I John iii., 16, 17.)

LESSON XI.—Christian Living (Rom. xii., 9-21). Golden Text—Rom. xii., 21, "Be

Lesson XI.—Christian Living (Rom. xii., 9-21). Golden Text—Rom. xii., 21, "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." This is again on the same line of thought as some previous lessons, and begins with, "Let love be without dissimulation," and it both begins and ends with hating evil and loving good. "There is none good save one, that is God."

Lesson XII.—Paul's Address to the Ephesian Elders (Acts xx, 22-35). Golden Text—Acts xx., 35, "Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive." He is able by the grace of God to testify that the exceeding abundant grace of God to him (I Tim. i., 14) enabled him for three years to give himself so fully to them that with all humility of mind and temptations and tears he had testified the gospel of the grace of God, preached the kingdom of Red. grace of God, preached the kingdom of God and declared the whole counsel of God, and now he cared not what awaited him if only he could still glorify God, so fully was he given up to Him who ap-peared to him on the way to Damascus. The same Lord Jesus will do the same in and through us if we are only willing .-

Mr. Gamble on Tuesday went through the gate and failed to even glance at the extended hand of the collector. Yesterday he again rode to Glassboro. The toil-keeper had him in mind and dropped the gate on the reverend gentleman. Without saying a word Mr. Gamble dismounted, pushed his wheel under the gate, crawled unhis wheel under the gate, crawled under himself and then sped away for Glassboro. The gate was open when he returned.

A MOTHER'S EFFORT,

A Mother Sees Her Daughter in a Pittful Her.

From the New Era, Greensburg, Ind. The St. Paul correspondent for the New Era recently had an item regarding the case of Mabel Stevens, who had just recovered from a serious illness of rheumatism and nervous trouble, and was able to be out for the first time in three months. The letter stated that it was a very bad case and her recovery was considered such a surprise to the neighbors that it created considerable gossip.

Being anxious to learn the absolute facts Being anxious to learn the absolute lacts in the case, a special reporter was sent to have a talk with the girl and her parents. They were not at home, however, being some distance away. A message was sent to Mr. Stevens, asking him to write up a full history of the case, and a few days ago the following letter was received from Mrs. Stevens:

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced if incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it falls to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J.
