A slick swindler has been doing some of the farmers in some sections of the State. He calls at the farmer's house and salutes the lady in about this way: "Good morning, madam. I have just met your husband and purchased a calf from him. He could not change this $20 bill and told me to call at the house and get $15 change." The good woman supposing it to be all right gives him the requisite change, and he departs, saying he will call for the calf in a day or two. When the husband comes in and is told of the transaction, he concludes there is some mistake; but as he has the $20 bill he concludes he is not out much. But when he undertakes to pass the bill he discovers it to be counterfeit and then knows that it is not right. SELINGS GROVE. Albert Lapher and wife of Steelton are the guests of W. O. Holmes.
