On Saturday night our old friend, Henry Eyer Gaugler, came near losing his little home by fire. He was just in the act of reading his bible before retiring for the night, when by some means or other the lamp fell to the floor, was broken and the oil began to burn. Mr. S. P. Burns arrived on the scene and tried to smother the flame with a pillow, while at the same time Henry was causing the oil to spread and burn more fiercely by throwing on water. Chauncey A. Keeley passing that way, saw the blaze and ran into the room and assisted to outen the fire by means of a piece of carpet. Had this relief not come to Henry's aid there is not much doubt but that the house would have burned down while he himself would most likely have been seriously, if not fatally, burned.—Tribune.

Fire at Northumberland.

The Northumberland correspondent to the Sunbury Item Monday of this week says:

About 4 o'clock Monday morning a fire alarm was sounded by the whistles at VanAllen's iron works which aroused our people, when it was found that a fire was burning in Colt's store room, occupied by Harry H. Harter as a general store. The fire company was quickly at work and played a steady stream on the building. The smoke was so dense that it was impossible to tell at which part of the building the fire was, so that the contents of the room was saturated with water. The fire was the result of a robbery. The window in the rear of the store had been pried open and muslins, shoes and other goods were found in an adjoining yard and in rear of lot and it is thought the robbers carelessly threw matches and fired the building which frightened them away before they could carry away all of the booty. The fire was first discovered by John E. Colt, who gave the alarm. The building is owned by John T. Colt and with the loss of shelving and counters the loss will be about $700, fully insured. The stock of Mr. Harter was insured for $2000 which will cover his loss. Mr. Harter will occupy the room next to Fisher's barber shop until the former room can be repaired for his occupancy. The prompt arrival of the fire ladders is greatly appreciated by the assured.

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID.

Our neighboring town of Mifflinburg has an epidemic of typhoid fever. There are from twelve to fifteen cases and one death has occurred—a young woman named Young. There are also a great many cases of the same disease in the country around the town. The epidemic is a mystery. The water supply of the town is one of the best in the country and the sanitary condition of the town is said to be good. The fact that the epidemic is not confined to the town dispels the idea that it is due to the water or to unsanitary conditions.—Mifflin Standard.

In Vacation Time.

Vacation is the season of "eat, sleep and read," the time when the business man removes himself from the cares of routine office, reads, turns his attention to home comforts and home, and makes up his mind that he wants this or that; long before he buys it, because he has then the time in which to consider it. The assertion can be safely made that one-half of the goods purchased, between the first of September and the first of December, have been bought in the mind of the purchaser, during July and August, even though he himself may not have realized that he had involuntarily made the decision.—Ohio Merchant.

How the Costs Will be Divided

In the event of a new inter-county bridge being built at Lewisburg under the provision of the law enacted by the last legislature. Northumberland county will have to pay about four-fifths of the bill. If there is a big steal of say $10,000 in letting the contract Northumberland county taxpayers will contribute $8,000 and Union county $2,000. In the distribution of the swag there is no doubt but our county will get its full proportion.—Mifflin Standard.

Ten Cents Additional.

The matter of procuring a marriage license will be attended with more expense than formerly on account of stamp duty. We understand that each marriage license granted must have a ten-cent stamp attached under the new law. If one of the applicants be under a legal age an additional ten-cent stamp will be required, and should both applicants be under age two additional stamps will be required.

How it Worked at Bloomsburg.

It is said that when the Bloomsburg assessors were at work enumerating the school children the parents of many of them made false returns as to age, etc., to enable them to keep their children at work in the factories. The return made was 200 short of the actual number. Now the school board discovers that the state appropriation, which is apportioned upon the number of children of school age, has been cut $800. An extra half mill has been added to the levy in order to keep the schools open.
