MOSTEEN DEAD AND TEN DYING.

turning From a Labor Day Pionio, the Car Was Cut in Two at the Crossng of the Delaware and Hudson Rail-Road-Bodies Terribly Mangied.

Cohoes, N. Y., Sept. &-An appalling issister occurred in this city sast night. thortly before 8 o'clock a trolley car of the Troy City Railroad company was struck by the night boat special of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, at a crossing at the west end of the Hudson river bridge, which connects this city with Lansingburg, and its load of human freight was hurled into the air. Eighteen of the 35 passengers are dead, and at least ten of the remainder

The cars entering the city from Lansingburg were crowded with passengers returning from a Labor Day picnic at Rensselaer Park, a pleasure resort near Troy. Car No. 192, of the Troy City railroad, was the victim of the ster. It came over the bridge about 1:35 o'clock, laden with a merry party of people, fresh from the enjoyment of

The crossing where the accident occurred is at grade. Four tracks of the Delaware and Hudson road, which runs north and south at this point, ross the two tracks of the trolley road. The tracks of the street line run at a grade from the bridge to the point where the disaster took place.

In consequence of this fact and of the frequent passage of trains it has been he rule for each motor car conductor to stop his car and go forward to observe the railroad tracks and signal his car to proceed if no trains were in ight. It cannot be ascertained whether that rule was complied with on this occasion, for all events prior to the crash are forgotten by those who were in-

The motor car was struck directly in the center by the engine of the train, which was going at a high rate of speed. The accident came without the slightest warning. The car was upon the tracks before the train loomed in ight, and no power on earth could have saved it. The motorman evidently saw the train approaching as he reached the track and opened his throttle, but in vain. With a crash that was heard for blocks the engine crashed into the ighter vehicle. The effect was horrible. The motor car parted in two, both sections being hurled into the air in splinters. The mass of humanity, for the car was crowded to overflowing, was torn and mangled. Those in the front of the car met with the worst fate. The force of the collision was there experienced to the greatest degree, and every human being in that section of the car was killed.

The scene was horrible. Bodies had been hurled into the air and their head-less and limbless trunks were found in some cases 50 feet from the crossing. The pilot of the engine was smashed, and amid its wreckage were the maimed corpses of two women. The passengers of the train suffered no injury in addition to a violent shock. The majority of the passengers of the trolley car were young people. They included

After the accident the bloody corpses were placed in boxes and taken to a neighboring mill shed. Many of them were unrecognizable. The crash was frightful in its results. Headless women with gay summer dresses bathed in their own and the blood of others; limbs without trunks or any means of identifying to whom they belonged: women's and men's heads with crushed and distorted features; bodies crushed and flattened; these sights constituted a spectacle most horrible to behold.

The train of the Delaware and Hudson road immediately after the accident proceeded to Troy. The engineer stated that he did not see the car until he was upon it. Pr tried to prevent his train from strilling the car, but his efforts were fruitless. His train was going at a very high rate of speed at tion taken by the trolley road to ascertain if the tracks were clear at this crossing, the engineers of trains have always felt safe in running at a high rate of speed. The engineer thinks that the motorman, when he saw the train was upon him, tried to get beyond the danger line. The grade of this cross-ing and the speed at which his car was going also made it impossible for him to stop before he reached the Delaware and Hudson tracks. It was the front end of his car that caught the crash, and the motorman was killed outright. The following dead bodies have been identified thus far: Archies Campeaux, of Cohoes; James Temple, Lansingburg; Edward Barney, Cohoes; Mrs. John Craven, Cohoes; Miss Kittle Craven, Cohoes; Joseph Sens, Cohoes; Nellie Sweet, 15 years, Cohoes; Mrs. Eliza McElroy, Cohoes; Mrs. John W. Sut-

Among the injured are: Isaac Shaw. Cohoes, skull fractured; George Ankers, Cohoes, injured internally; John W. Sutcliffe, Cohoes, head cut and ribs broken; Mrs. Lizenesse, Cohoes, collar bone fractured and several ribs broken; she had a baby in her arms, which was crushed and will die; Emma Devashire, Cohoes, skull fractured; Mrs. James Temple, Lansingburg, jaw fractured and injured internally; Mrs. Ira Dewey, Cohoes, head crushed.

Paris, Sept. 8.—When the orbinst most yesterday the minister of fastice, M. Perdinand Sarrien, informed his celleagues of the receipt of Mine. Dreyfus' request for a revision of the yerdict against her husband. M. Sarrien promised to give a statement of the result of his examination into the matter at a meeting of the cabinet, to be cona meeting of the cabinet, to be con-vened after the minister of war should have been appointed.

office of war minister was offered to Generals Zurlinden and Saussier and declined by them, but subsequently General Zurlinden yielded to the urg-ings of Premier Brisson. After long conferences with the prenier, M. Brisson, and the minister of justice, M. Sarrien, General Zurlinden was interviewed by a newspaper repre-sentative. The general said that the minister of justice asked for the Dreyfus dossier. When these were given him, he added, he would study the documents carefully and inform himself thoroughly regarding the case before discussing it with the cabinet.

Opinions differ as to how the latest developments effect the situation. There is a rumor that General Zuriinden, the new minister for war, will advocate a mere annulling of the Dreyfus judgment and sentence as a safer out of the imbroglio than a retrial involving all sorts of awkward

NAVAL VETERANS PROTEST.

They Demand Quarters on a Boat and

Nowhere Else. Cincinnati, Sept. 6.—The National Association of Naval Veterans threatens to withdraw from the reunions of the week. When the visiting naval veterans were escorted to Horticultural Hall, in the Exposition building, yesterday they rebelled against the arrangements. They acknowledged that the cots and everything were better than usual on such occasions, but they wanted quarters in a boat and nowhere else. They have had boats at other places, notably Buffalo, Louisville, Detroit and Pittsburg, and clain they were promised a boat here. Commodore William E. Atkins, of this city who is in charge of the local naval arrangements, has had no opposition for rear admiral of the association to succeed Kelly, and he at roon yesterday announced his withdrawal from the contest, although he had more than enough endersements to elect.

Colonel Albert D. Shaw, of New York Colonel James A. Sexton, of Illinois, and Colonel I. F. Mack, of Ohio, the three candidates for commander-in-chief, are all here with elaborate headquarters and with their respective followings for the coming election, which will take place Thursday evening or Friday morning. Owing to the fact that the senior vice commander-inchief has for 17 years been conceded to the city that entertains the encampment, and the fact that Cincinnati has chosen W. C. Johnson for senior vice commander, their department is not solid for Mr. Mack for commander-in-

The contests for the election of the next encampment seems to lie between Philadelphia, Kansas City and Denver.

The Democratic state ticket, headed by Daniel W. Jones, is undoubtedly elected, the only question being the size of the Democratic plurality. The vote on the constitutional amendments is in doubt. One of these provides for the creation by the legislature of a railroad commission and the other for the levying of a tax of three mills for road pur-

Khalifa Still at Liberty.

Cairo, Sept. 6 .- Advices from Omdurman say that the Anglo-Egyptian cavalry which went in pursuit of Khalifa Abdullah, after the fall of Omdurman, abandoned the pursuit about 30 miles beyond the city. The horses were completely exhausted, having been ridden 48 hours, during 15 of which they had been engaged in fighting. The khalifa has gone to Kordofan, to the southwest of Omdurman. General Kitchener has organized Arab camel squads to follow him. On Sunday the British and Egyptian forces, with the Sirdar, participated in an imposing service in memory of General Gordon.

Mr. Bayard's Condition. Dedham, Mass., Sept. 6.-The condition of Hon. Thomas F. Bayard during Sunday night was unchanged, but yesterday a slight improvement was noticeable, and for the first time for 24 hours he was able to recognize the members of his family. He was unconscious all day Sunday, but as the air became cooler in the early morning he revived somewhat and returned to consciousness. Signal Victory For the Anglo-Egyp- Readquarters Established in a Subtian Forces Under Kitchener.

DERVISHES MADE A BRAVE FIGHT

But They Were Finally Put to Flight, Leaving Thousands of Their Dead on the Field-The Khalifa Escapes With His Harem.

Omdurman, Opposite Khartoum, on the Nile, Nubia, Sept. 2, by camel post to Nasri.—The Sidar, General Sir Herbert Kitchener, with the Khalifa's black standard, captured during the battle, entered Omdurman at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the head of the Anglo-Egyptian column after completely routing the dervishes and dealing a death blow to Mahdism. Roughly our losses were 200, while thousands of the derrishes were killed or wounded.

Last night the Anglo-Egyptian army encamped at Agaisa, eight miles from Omdurman. The dervishes were three miles distant. At dawn our cavalry, patrolling toward Omdurman, discovered the enemy advancing to the attack in battle array, chanting war songs. Their front consisted of infantry and cavalry, stretched out for three or four miles. Countless banners fluttered over their masses and the copper and brass drums resounded through the serried ranks of the savage warriors, who advanced unwavering with all their old

Our infantry formed up outside the camp. At 7:20 a. m. the enemy crowded the ridges above the camp and advanced steadily in enveloping formation. At 7:20 our artillery opened fire, which was answered by the dervish riflemen.

with the design of rushing our flank. But the withering fire maintained for 15 minutes by all our line frustrated the attempt, and the dervishes, balked; swept toward our center, upon which they concentrated a flerce attack. A large force of horsemen, trying to face Cameron highlanders, the Lincolnshire regiment and the Soudanese, was lit! erally swept away, leading to the withdrawal of the entire body, whose dead strewed the field.

The bravery of the dervishes can hardly be overestimated. Those who carried the flags struggled to within a few hundred yards of our fighting line, while the mounted emirs absolutely threw their lives away in bold charges.

When the dervishes withdrew behind the ridge in front of their camp the whole force marched in battalions toward Omdurman. As our troops sur- drastic an order. mounted the crest adjoining the Nile the Soudanese on our right came into contact with the enemy, who had reformed under cover of a rocky eminence, and had massed beneath the black standard of the khalifa, in order to make a supreme effort to retrieve the fortunes of the day. A mass, 15,000 strong, bore down on the Soudanese.

General Kitchener swung round the center and left of the Soudanese and seized the rocky eminence, and the Egyptians, hitherto in reserve, joined the firing line in ten minutes, and before the dervishes could drive their attack home.

The flower of the khalifa's army was caught in a depression and within a zone of withering cross fire from three brigades, with the attendant artillery. The devoted Mahdists strove heroically to make headway, but every rush was stopped, while their main body was literally mowed down by a sustained deadly cross fire.

Defiantly the dervishes planted their standards and died beside them. Their dense masses gradually melted to companies, and the companies to driblets. peneath the leaden hall. Finally they broke and fled, leaving the field white with libbah clad corpses.

At 11:15 the sirdar ordered an advance, and our whole force in line drove the scattered remnant of the foe into the dessert, our cavalry cutting off their retreat to Omdurman.

Among the chief incidents of the battle was a brilliant charge by the Twenty-first lancers, under Lieutenant Colonel Martin. Galloping down on a detached body of the enemy, they found the dervish swordsmen massed behind, and were forced to charge home against appalling odds. The lancers backed through the mass, rallied and kept the dervish horde at bay. Lieutenant Grenfell, nephew of General Sir Francis Grenfell, and Captain Caldecott, of the Warwickshire regiment, were killed and four other officers wounded. Twen ty-one men were killed and 20 wounded. The heroic bravery of the dervishes evoked universal admiration. Time after time their dispersed and broken forces reformed and hurled themselves upon the Anglo-Egyptians, their emirs conspicuously leading and spurning death. Even when wounded and in death agonies they raised themselves to fire a last shot.

Among the wounded is Colonel Rhodes, the correspondent of the London Times, and a brother of Cecil Khalifa Abdullah, with his harem, and Osman Digna, his principal general, managed to eccape, but Abdullah's banner and thousands of prisoners are in our hands. It is estimated that 15,-000 of the enemy were slain. Our total casualties were about 500.

Besides Colonel Rhodes, another cor-respondent was slightly wounded. Mr. Howard, the New York Herald correspondent, was slain by a shell in Om-

WHILOM ENEMIES FRATERNIZING

Our Soldiers Exchanging Buttons With Spanish Troops Until Many Are Buttonless-General Brooke Occupies the Captain General's Suburban Abode.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Sept. 6.-Ma-General John R. Brooke, his staff and escort, have completed their journey across the island toward this city. The march has been like a march through a friendly territory. On Saturday General Brooke stopped at Cayey. Sunday he reached Caguas, 20 miles from here. Yesterday afternoon he entered Rio Piedras, one of the aristocratic suburbs of San Juan, where he will establish headquarters.

General Brooke has accepted the hos pitality of Captain General Macias, who graciously offered him the use of his private residence at Rio Piedras.

The column, though small, is impos ing, and is making a deep impression. General Brooke, with his chief of staff, rode at the head of the column. The natives, who had news of the coming of the Americans, lined the roads, their faces showing their pleasure, although there were demonstrations. At intervals along the way the Spanish sol-diers of the Guarda Civil presented arms as our troops passed.

At Cayey and Caguas the Spanish commanders received General Brooke with marked courtesies, and the aicaldes paid official visits, extending welcomes to their towns.

At Caguas, where a thousand Spanish regulars are stationed under the command of Colonel Rodriguez, the ceremony was pretentious. The Span-ish bugiers gave the flourishes in honor of a major general upon our arrival. Houses had been set apart for the accommodation of General Brooke and

The infantry and cavalry companies camped in the outskirts of the town and were visited by the Spanish soldiers. There was no display whatever of ill feeling. Spanlards and Americans mingled freely, fraternizing and ex-changing buttons as souvenirs. Already many of the American soldiers are buttonless.

Spanish flags flew at Cayey and Caguas, but as guests in an enemy's country we showed no colors save the cav alry guidons.

Our stalwart soldiers and massive horses caused cansoless wonder to the natives, accustomed to men of small stature and nimble footed ponies. General Brooke arrived here in advance of the other American commissioners, who are expected tomorrow by the Seneca.

Butler's Order Was Too Arbitrary. Washington, Sept. 6.-The court of inquiry appointed to investigate the trouble in the Third Virginia volunteers at Camp Alger, caused by an alleged assault upon a negro and the consequent issuance of an order by General Butler reflecting seriously upon the regiment and restricting the members to the limits of their camp and requiring several roll calls a day to be had, has reported its findings to the war department. The report, it is understood, acquits the regiment as a body of all riotous and unbecoming conduct, and declares that had Genera Butler been cognizant of all the facts of the case his sense of justice would not have permitted him to issue so

An Accused Chaplain's Denial. San Francisco, Sept. 6.-Chaplain Joseph P. McIntyre, reported as having been ordered court martialed for certain utterances said to have been made by him against Captain Evans, whom charged with cowardice, arrived here a few days ago. He professed to be greatly surprised when told of the action of the department, and says he has been misquoted and misrepresented by the newspapers, and the the reported interview with him published by several eastern papers was garbled. He says that he will prove his conduct to have been not unbecoming an officer.

To Be Tried by Court Martial. Middletown, Pa., Sept. 6.-First Lieutenant Guy Morrison, of the Twentysecond Kansas, will be tried by court martial at Camp Meade tomorrow for alleged desecration of the graves of Confederate soldiers near Thoroughfare Gap. Morrison will be defended by a Kansas lawyer, who is en route to camp. The court had under consideration yesterday the case of Private Charles L. Kerr. One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Indiana, against whom charges of insubordination have been preferred by Major Lowden.
