The telephone line to Richfield has been completed. M. E. Shellenberger of Richfield sold his farm to Anos Winey for $1000. On Tuesday Co. G. 147 P. V. I. held their annual bean soup at Selinsgrove. Lewis E. Pawling, Esq., Snyder county's chief potato raiser, is harvesting his crop this week. Philip Roush is making preparations to erect a new dwelling house alongside of the church at Kreamer. Private Swartzlander of Freeburg and who is a member of Co. E, 12th Pa. Vols., is in the Mary Paeker hospital in Sanbury. Milton P. Herman, Penn township's champion fisherman, succeeded in landing to the shore of the Susquehanna a 5 pound bass. Charles Lenig of Kreamer, a member of the 12th Pa. Volunteers, Company E, is in the Sanbury hospital suffering from typhoid fever. Capt. Follmer of Lewisburg, the commander of Co. A, 12th Regiment, now at Camp Meade, Middletown, was in Selinsgrove on Friday of last week. W. H. W. Schell has returned home from Opelika, Ala., where he had gone last December to engage in the viewing business. Mr. Wendt comes home to Mt. Pleasant Mills favorably impressed with the South. On Saturday, Sept. 17th, the St. John's and St. Paul's Sunday Schools will picnic at the Black Oak Ridge grove. Music will be furnished by the Troxelville Band. Refreshments of all kinds on the ground. The school directors of Washington township awarded the hauling of the coal to the various school houses to William Renninger at 57 cents a ton, and to Frank Bingham, for the upper district, at 55 cents a ton. Tax payers cannot complain at these prices.

PORT TREVORTON.

Miss Nora Shambach, of Phila., is visiting her parents. Landford Reische and family were in Freeburg Saturday. Alice Rothermel and Martha Snyder were Selinsgrove visitors Friday. Rev. W. C. Brillhart attended the Bible Convention in Berwick last week. Why not subscribe for the Post? You want to read it anyhow, and it will be more convenient to go to the postoffice and be sure to get your paper than to risk borrowing of your neighbor. Rest assured it is not pleasant for the neighbor. Mrs. Clas. Scott of Arkansas City is visiting her mother, Mrs. Houtz. Chas. Mullner went to Shamokin Monday to accept a position of Mr. Hefelstein. Mrs. F. A. Bingham has fully recovered from a severe attack of grippe. B. C. and E. C. Shaffer of Shamokin visited their parents last Friday. James Leung and wife spent Sunday in Pfoutz's Valley. Chas. Shaffer and wife enjoyed a drive to Dry Saw Mill Sunday. The Stereopticon View in the U. B. Church attracted a large crowd. Thomas Houser of Altoona, Harvey Mitchell and the Misses Lottie and Anna Rohrer of Millmont, Mathias Steffen of Dornate, David Wendt and Jacob Shaffer of Sunbury, George Rine of McKees, Mrs. Duttery of Shamokin, Harvey Bogar of C. P. C. New Berlin spent Sunday in town. Rev. Hummel of Derry Station preached a missionary sermon to a large and attractive audience Sunday evening in the U. B.

church. Last Thursday, Daniel Houtz and Adam Gensarner, awakened the usual quietness of our small village in a manner that may yet prove a very disagreeable affair. A dispute, between the two men, which they thought could not be settled with words, was ended for the time being, by a fight. Houtz, having the advantage in youth and science, quickly did his man. Gensarner, however, did not approve of Houtz's settlement, so he gave his part of the argument to J. Kohler Peck, Justice of the Peace. Houtz then gave bail for his appearance in court. For entertainments of this kind, we are sorry to say, Port has a reputation.

ADAMSBURG.

Mrs. James Dreese died on Friday morning. She was taken sick on Tuesday morning. She was taken to Yeagertown for burial. Miss Blanche Bingham of Dalmatia, after visiting in town for some time, left on Monday for Sunbury. Harvest Home Services will be held in the Lutheran church on Sunday, Sept. 18th. Mrs. Wm. Bingham and son, Guy, of Dalmatia, accompanied by Bruce and Lottie Crouse, of Middleburgh, were guests of H. G. Romig's on Sunday. Miss Royer of Millinburg was the guest of Miss Nellie Smith over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beirly of Lewistown visited Mrs. Gundrum over Sunday. A. H. Siegfried of Selinsgrove was a recent visitor in town. Misses Libbie and Gert-rude Dunkelberger, Lillian Stetler and Mrs. Geo. W. Wagenseller rode on their wheels to this place last Thursday evening and, while here, called at Dr. A. M. Smith's.

tives of his native town. Prof. H. B. Moyer and wife, Dr. Tool and some others attended the Kratzerville picnic. Rev. Drukenmiller officiated at the funeral of Mr. Ruffelt at Fremont last Friday, at the funeral of Mrs. Mengel at the same place Saturday and at the funeral of Mr. Harris at Richfield Sunday. Dr. Smith calls on his patients riding a splendid saddle horse.

CENTREVILLE.

Landlord Hartman and wife made a flying trip to Middleburgh on Sunday. The Jaittel Family are the most worthy entertainers that ever showed in old Centreville, also selling the great remedies of the German Medicine Co., Cincinnati, O. Don't forget the picnic on Saturday, Sept. 17th. Everybody, come and enjoy yourselves with your best girl in the old grove. A Clay Spangler will take possession of his new house on the first of Oct. P. O. S. of A. Washington Camp 549 located at this place is adding new members to the order at every meeting, you are doing well patriots, continue, and you will soon have every true American citizen a member of that grand and noble order.

The Spalding Memorial.
To the editor's desk came this week a copy of the "Spalding Memorial," a genealogical history of Edward Spalding of Virginia and Massachusetts Bay and his descendants with a record of their military service in the colonial, revolutionary and civil wars together with other information concerning various other branches of the Spalding Family by Charles Warren Spalding, A. M., Chicago, Ills. The copyrights, material and entire revised edition of 1276 pages was purchased by Walter S. Maher, (P. O. Box 190) Chicago, Ills.

MIDDLEBURGH, PA.

This genealogical work is a model of accuracy, neatness, beauty and completeness and readily commands the admiration of the beholder, however distantly related. To the nearest of kin it must serve a place only second in value and appreciation to the Great Book of books,—the Bible. There is a growing sentiment in America toward the preservation of family records that should have been inculcated when the first immigrant landed, but unfortunately the first settlers had to contend with the struggle for existence and records were scarcely thought of, being forced to the rear by the necessities of the hour. It is a very different matter to secure all the data of a family at this late day, but our Spalding friends have succeeded admirably. To it is accorded the following points of merit:

1. It is the largest and most complete genealogical record of any American family.
2. Its plan of arrangement and indexing is the best that has ever been devised and in these respects it will stand as a model of imitation.
3. It contains authentic information from the archives of the several states of those of the name who served in the Colonial, Revolutionary and Civil Wars, establishing the eligibility of their descendants to membership in the various societies.
4. The book is a beautiful specimen of typographical art; 1276 pages, fifteen fine steel engraved portraits, two cover lithographed coats of arms, the simile of a deed to Ralph Spalding made in 1318, believed to be the oldest legal document in America, a very accurate map of the old town of Spalding in England, and various other fine illustrations of family interest, no expense has been spared to make it the most complete and accurate work of the kind ever published.

Rev. George B. Spalding, D. D., L. L. D., of Syracuse, N. Y., says of it: "The Spalding Memorial has arrived and I have given it a thorough investigation. I am greatly pleased with it. The mechanical part is of the best quality and the whole appearance of the book shows almost good judgment and taste.

The material which is here gathered is best in its range and of great importance not only to members of his large family but to scholars generally. The arrangement of the genealogical table is by far the best that I have seen in books of this class. The order in the presentation of the respective families and the clear and full reference to successive generations, the double indexes covering every name, the great amount of most valuable historical information and full data of important personal matter make this Spalding Memorial a splendid model for study and imitation. The book will stand as a memorial of laborious pains-taking research and find discriminating judgment."

This elegant family Memorial, the result of five years intelligent and patient labor should be in the possession of every Spalding household as an heirloom for generations. It will also be found of general public interest. The edition is limited and on account of its expense is not likely ever to be equalled if reproduced. Price $10.00. Address Walter S. Maher, P. O. Box 180, Chicago, Ills.
