

BEARSKINS SUBDUED.

General Bacon's Little Force Conquers the Hostiles.

ANY OF OUR SOLDIERS KILLED.

... of the Battle as Told by a Newspaper Correspondent—The Troops Fought With Great Bravery, Though Fired on From Ambush.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 8.—J. C. Beaton, one of the three newspaper men marched with General Bacon's troops on Sugar Point, writes the Minneapolis Tribune a long account of the battle. After describing the landing he says: "As there was no indication of trouble, we were ordered to land on the beach. As we were on the beach, waiting for rowboats to take us to the steamer, when a shot was heard. Immediately we ran back to the crest of the hill, when a volley came from the woods to the front of us.

"Run to cover," some one cried, and as the soldiers grabbed their guns and ran to the left I hurried down to the beach, where I was soon safely housed behind big boulders and brush. As I ran down, however, more bullets chased me, and it was a wonder that myself and those with me were not killed.

"Steady, men, steady," was the first sound of a voice we heard, and as I raised my head I could see General Bacon running about with his troops. "Get up in the firing line," was the next order given, and the men of the fighting Third were seen to run through the grass and woods in the direction from which the shots had been fired.

The men continued to advance. The three officers were everywhere. Major Wilkinson in charge of the left flank, General Bacon in charge of the center and Lieutenant Ross in charge of the right flank. The soldiers were running along, it appeared to me, on their hands and knees, dropping every moment to fire a volley into the ranks of the enemy. The officers, however, stood in the open.

For 30 minutes there was a ceaseless roar, and every little while we could hear cries of the men who had been shot. I looked up once and saw that Major Wilkinson had been injured, but where I did not know. I heard him cry: "Ross, I've been wounded, but don't give up, for it's not bad."

The next moment, as the stood right back of his firing line, calling to his men, "Give it to them, boys; you got them going; give it to them; they are coming, and they're going to run," he seemed to stagger and Surgeon Ross ran towards him.

"Give them hell, general, give them hell," Wilkinson called at the top of his voice over toward the central flank, where General Bacon was taking aim at a red man. Then he fell into the arms of the doctor, who carried him into the log cabin at the crest of the hill, where he died in one hour and 30 minutes later.

About the same time the major fell Private Powell, who was running from one cover to another, was seen to drop, and in the evening after darkness had come he was carried to the little cabin, the victim of another bullet from the Indians' Winchester.

Suddenly to our right we heard the voice of Colonel Sheehan, of St. Paul, deputy United States marshal. We glanced up and could see the veteran Indian fighter leading an advance by a portion of the right flank.

"You've got them whipped, boys; you've got them whipped. Give it to them, give it to them," the colonel was yelling at the top of his voice.

Every time his voice was heard a volley rang out and every time it was further away from us. Afterwards we learned that he had the colonel to thank for our lives. Some Indians had attempted to turn our right flank and attack the civilians on the beach. The colonel saw us and realized our danger, and his gallant attack had undoubtedly saved our lives. Soon afterward he joined us, having been wounded in the abdomen.

We lay in wait for some time, and finally I started out to reconnoiter. It did not take me long to learn that our troops were masters of the situation, and we at once summoned the company physician, who attended to Colonel Sheehan's wound, which proved to be not serious.

Our casualties in the battle were only six soldiers killed and eleven wounded, while five civilians were slightly wounded. The dead soldiers, who survived the battles before Santiago to be slain by murderous Indians, are Major Millville Wilkinson, Sergeant William Butler, Edward Lowe, John Olmstead, John Swallenstock and Alfred Zebell.

General Bacon escaped without a scratch. He arrived here yesterday and sent the following dispatch to the war department at Washington:

"Arrived here at noon with my detachment in good condition. The killed and badly wounded have been shipped to Fort Snelling. The Indians have been badly whipped and left the country adjacent to the fight. En route here other Chippewa bands displayed white flags along the lake shore. Have been in no danger of massacre and need no reinforcements. Colonel Harbach's coming was good in sending out boats."

A Warning to the Indians. Walker, Minn., Oct. 11.—The Indian council was held at the agency yesterday afternoon, and was well attended by Flat Mouth and representative delegations. General Bacon and Inspector Tinker told the Bear Islanders that if they would give up the men for whom warrants have been issued, and come in themselves, they could go home. If they resisted the government would not rest till the recalcitrants had been captured, and that the Bear Islanders would not then be permitted to occupy the islands again. This message was at once sent to the hostiles. General Bacon's terms were received by the chiefs with signs of evident pleasure, and they all signified their approval of them. It is believed the Pillagers will accept them.

INDIANS DEPLORE THE OUTBREAK.

White Earth, Minn., Oct. 11.—A council composed of 30 chiefs and head men, including leading mixed bloods of the White Earth reservation, representing some 5,000 people, was held here yesterday. Resolutions were adopted deploring the sad state of affairs existing at Leech Lake, and denouncing the authors of the mischief. A petition of loyalty to the government was signed by all present.

Driven From Home by Indians.

Barker, Minn., Oct. 11.—A woman just in from McGregor on Portage Lake, four miles west of here, reports that two dozen Indians in war paint drove her from her home. She thinks her husband and father are killed.

COMMISSIONER EVANS' DENIAL.

Refutation of Charges Made at the G. A. R. Encampment.

Washington, Oct. 11.—There has been wide circulation given to the story originating at the recent encampment of the G. A. R. at Cincinnati that "the commissioner of pensions had called his chiefs together and instructed them to disregard totally every application based on deafness and rheumatism in the adjudication of claims for pensions." The commissioner authorizes the following statement:

"No such instructions were given. The present medical referee of the bureau, Dr. J. R. Raub, a prominent G. A. R. man, says there has been no change in the adjudication of claims for deafness since the present schedule of ratings, which was approved Dec. 4, 1891, in accordance with the act of Aug. 27, 1888. The present chief of the board of review, Colonel F. D. Stoppenon, also a prominent G. A. R. man, says there has been no change in the adjudication of claims for rheumatism since he came to the bureau in 1889. There has probably not a single working day passed since April 1, 1897, that there has not been certificates issued for both deafness and rheumatism. There has been no change in the laws, therefore no change in the practice during the present administration."

CHINESE RETROGRESSION.

The Flowery Kingdom Is Not Ready For Reform Movements.

London, Oct. 11.—The Pekin correspondent of The Times says: The retrograde movement spreads. An imperial edict orders the suppression of the native press and the punishment of the editors. It also cancels all the new methods of examination promulgated during the last 12 months. The latter step must give general satisfaction, since the proposed changes were too radical for the people.

DEATH IN THE RAPIDS.

Four Men Perished Through the Capsizing of a Skiff.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Four Canadian canal laborers perished by the capsizing of a skiff in Galoupe rapids, below this city, Sunday night. The men, with a comrade, were on their way to their camp on Drummond Island. After having spent the evening drinking in Ogdensburg, they lost their way and when near Galoupe rapids the man rowing said: "It's all up; we have lost our way."

Four of the men stood up, capsizing the boat. Joseph Jobin, of Montreal, and Alfred Beausefour, of Woonsocket, R. I., caught hold of the boat and drifted through the rapids four miles, and then crawled into the half filled boat. Jobin paddled two miles to the shore with his hands and crawled to a barn on the Martin farm. Waiting until daylight he aroused neighbors. Beausefour was found sitting in the boat dead.

Two of the drowned men were known as Pasquette and O'Hugh, residence unknown. The other, an old man, was unknown to the survivor.

ROTONS SOLDIERS SUPPRESSED.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—As a result of the killing of a private in the Twelfth New York regiment by Provost Guard Kitchen Sunday night 300 or 400 members of that regiment formed a mob last night and seized a train at Camp Hamilton, with the intention of coming to town on it and raiding the county jail for the purpose of taking Kitchen out and lynching him. General Wiley and Colonel Leonard suppressed the mob by the most radical and prompt action. The outbreak was not unexpected, and the jail was heavily guarded. The provost guard in the city was also doubled, and things are quiet. It is believed that the prompt measures that were taken prevented what promised to be a serious conflict.

Eli Shaw Acquitted.

Camden, Oct. 10.—The jury in the case of Eli Shaw, charged with killing his mother, brought in a verdict of acquittal Saturday, and the accused man was at once set at liberty. None but newspaper men and counsel were allowed in the court room, but when Shaw appeared before the great crowd outside he was greeted with thunderous applause, and ovation after ovation followed his progress. So dense was the crowd that it was necessary to have him taken from the prison in a carriage, which was followed by cheering crowds. Subsequently, at the home of a relative, he had an affecting interview with his sweetest, Miss Nelson, who has stood by him all through his troubles.

A WEEK'S NEWS CONDENSED.

Wednesday, Oct. 8.

Forty thousand people witnessed the launch of the battleship Illinois at Newport News, Va.

Senator Hanna announces that he has no present intention of resigning the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

Thomas Greenway, a private soldier, escaped from the guard house at Fort Slocom, near New Rochelle, N. Y. Refusing to halt, he was shot dead.

Howard Clark, a fugitive murderer from Louisville, was pursued with his girl, Hattie Mahoney, to the Indiana side of the Ohio river. They fired on the officers and both were killed.

ORDER IN PORTO RICO.

Reports of Depredations in the Western Part Unfounded.

THE EVACUATION PROCEEDING.

Hastening Preparations to Send All the Spanish Troops Away This Week.

The Sixteenth Pennsylvania Regiment Leaves Ponce For Home.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Oct. 11.—Wild rumors of depredations in the western part of the island continue, but there is little foundation for them, though a certain disorderly element is still seeking the opportunity of personal vengeance.

Inquiry here as to the stories, which are of Spanish origin, shows that they are greatly exaggerated. For instance, there is a report in circulation of the killing of a German merchant at Mayaguez and of the killing of several men at Arecibo. All this is entirely without foundation, though the Arecibo story probably arises from a recent accident in the vicinity, which resulted in the killing of an American soldier.

On the order of General Macio, issued last Friday, the Spanish evacuation of Vega Alta, Vega Baja, Toa Alta, Toa Baja, Dorado, Barceloneta and Manato was delayed owing to the rains and floods, but it is proceeding now.

The American evacuation commissioners received an important communication from Washington Sunday, and a special meeting was at once called to consider it and to formulate a course of action. At the joint session yesterday the Americans told the Spaniards it would be necessary to complete the evacuation by Oct. 15, undertaking to supply transportation for the remainder of the Spanish troops at that date, if it should be necessary.

A Spanish freight steamer, due to sail for Havana today, has been ordered to remain here, probably to be used for the transportation of Spanish troops.

The American postal commission has completed its examination of the postal needs of Porto Rico. The staff for the San Juan postal station is now here, waiting.

Dr. Huidekoper will return to Washington at the first opportunity to meet any charges. He will stand on his Chickamauga record and his work done here, which is approved by his superiors. He says he will make trouble for any unjust accusers, and is prepared to demand a board of inquiry.

General Oswald H. Ernst, with his staff, and the Sixteenth Pennsylvania volunteers, with all the convalescents of that regiment, left Ponce yesterday for the United States transport Manawaska for New York. The quartermaster was instructed to provide every possible comfort for the troops, ailing or well. Colonel John B. Castleman, of the First Kentucky volunteers, will assume command of the troops at Ponce. He will report as to any lack in the sanitary conditions surrounding the troops at Ponce and elsewhere. The men have been cautioned as to the proper dress, and have been impressed with the fact that their general conduct will reflect upon the country they represent.

A CANTON SENSATION.

The Brother of Mrs. McKinley Murdered by a Woman.

Canton, O., Oct. 8.—George Saxton, a brother of Mrs. William McKinley, was shot dead at 6:10 o'clock last evening before the residence of Mrs. Eva A. Althouse, widow of the late George Althouse, 319 Lincoln avenue, where he is presumed to have gone to make a call. Five shots were fired, three of which entered his body, and Mrs. Anna C. George has been placed under arrest on suspicion of the murder.

Mrs. George is the divorced wife of Sample C. George, who formerly was a tenant of Saxton in his downtown business block, conducting a dressmaking business. Her divorce was obtained in Dakota, and a proceeding later filed in local courts by the husband against Saxton charged that Saxton had sent her there to secure the divorce, the proceeding here being a suit for damages for the alleged alienation of the wife's affections. This case has been through all the intermediate courts and was passed upon by the state supreme court on an inter-pleading, and finally remanded for hearing on its merits here. Before this occurred, and on Wednesday, a settlement was effected, Saxton paying George $1,825 on the claim set up of $20,000 for damages. As soon as he had settled the case George announced that he had been married for more than a year to Miss Lucy Graham, of Alliance, O.

Mrs. George claims Saxton deceived her and deserted her for another.

FEVER SITUATION MORE SERIOUS.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 11.—The fever situation here is more serious today. With the appearance of the disease in North Jackson there is no section of the city free from infection, and new cases are multiplying already. Dr. J. H. Purnell, state health officer, has issued the following proclamation: "Yellow fever is appearing in all parts of the city. The spread is becoming general, and as it will be three or four weeks before cold weather can reasonably be expected, it is again urged that all parties who possibly can do so, leave at once for northern or other points that will receive refugees. Remaining in Jackson several days longer will make it dangerous to leave."

A WRONGED SOLDIER'S CRIME.

St. Louis, Oct. 11.—Charles Kemm, a private in Company E, Second Missouri volunteers, stationed at Lexington, Ky., who is now here on a furlough, yesterday shot and killed Leslie Wesley, a negro with whom he found his wife living. Before coming to St. Louis to live Kemm served four years in the regular army. He returned recently and tried to find his wife. He found her in the company of Leslie, whom he shot and instantly killed. Kemm is in jail.

HARVARD MEN IN THE WAR.

Cambridge, Oct. 11.—The Harvard Crimmon publishes a list of Harvard men who were in the military or naval service of the United States during the war. The list comprises 117 names of which 52 were those of those who were in undergraduate service. There were eight deaths.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR CONCLAVE.

Brilliant Displays of Electric Lights Welcome Pittsburgh's Visitors.

Pittsburg, Oct. 11.—With the brilliancy of incandescence, emanating from nearly a half million electric lights, the conclave of the Knights Templar fairly started last night, and today close upon 50,000 pilgrims are reveling in each other's hospitality. Except a few stragglers, every commandery which was expected to be represented has now a delegation on the ground. Souvenirs of all shapes, sizes and designs are in abundant evidence, and most of the knights are bedecked with decorations.

The sights in the streets have never been equaled in this city as far as the crowds are concerned. Street car traffic is at a standstill and vehicles of all descriptions are banished from downtown thoroughfares, while every inch of ground is monopolized by tens of thousands of pedestrians.

The brilliancy of the city's street decorations marks an epoch in the history of electric illumination. Within a radius of four blocks from the heart of the city 400,000 incandescent lamps burn every night. Huge electric crosses and other emblems of templarism are suspended on the sides and fronts of the city's tallest buildings, and from nearly every store or shop in the downtown district.

Electioneering for the honor of holding the next conclave is in active progress. In this respect the Louisville people are apparently in the lead. They are very active, and confidently assert they will win. Yesterday afternoon the members from the Minnesota commanderies virtually gave up the contest they had expected to make in favor of St. Paul. Northern New York delegations are "plugging" for all they are worth to have the next conclave held at Niagara Falls in 1901. However, it is as yet difficult to tell what the outcome will be, because a decision will not be reached until Thursday morning.

CAMP MEADE EVACUATION.

Vaccinating the Troops Preparatory to the Movement South.

Middletown, Pa., Oct. 10.—Chief Surgeon Girard is getting ready for the movement south of the Second corps. He began today vaccinating the troops to guard against an outbreak of smallpox. The colonel has arranged with the hospitals in Philadelphia and through the eastern end of the state to take care of the sick of the corps. As fast as the field hospitals fill up the invalids will be shipped away in a special hospital car.

Major General Graham has no definite information as to the movement of his command beyond the order of Quartermaster General Ludington to the chief quartermaster to commence the shipment of troops Oct. 27. General Graham is opposed to taking his command south, and has requested the war department to forward the corps as a unit to Cuba for duty as an army of occupation. He is afraid of an outbreak of sickness among his men if they are taken from the healthy climate in the north and dropped down in the south for a month and then shipped to the West Indies. The troops are in excellent condition and General Graham thinks if they are shipped direct across the water there will not be much sickness.

The Two Hundred and Third New York regiment is still isolated in the Conewago Hills, and will hardly return to Camp Meade before the latter part of next week. The sick in the regiment that have not been sent to city hospitals are doing nicely, and yesterday over 500 reported for duty. The Second West Virginia is scheduled to arrive tonight from its march to Gettysburg to attend the dedication of a regimental monument. Colonel Castled has asked permission to take his command to Philadelphia's peace jubilee.

ITEMS OF STATE NEWS.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 9.—Caroline Bruckman, a sister of the late ex-Judge Bruckman, filed a petition in the orphans' court yesterday asking that the probate of the will of the late Judge be set aside, as well as the letters testamentary granted to Carrie Bruckman, his widow. The estate is estimated at $40,000. She alleges that the will was procured through undue influence. The judge was a sufferer from paralysis during the last eight years of his life. Shortly before his death he went to Camden, against the wish of his relatives, and married his housekeeper. The petitioner is 84 years old.

Bedford, Oct. 7.—The attendance during the second day of the Bedford county fair was large. The three minute race was exciting and amusing. Quever, owned by R. A. Stivers, Bedford, won the running race. Best time, 51 1/4. Consolation, owned by F. Rosworm, Cumberland, Md., was a pretty close second. About noon there was considerable excitement among the officials of the fair association from the fact that the large crowd of fakirs and sharpers had decamped without paying the entrance fee. Their wheels and games were thrown over the fence and carried away by their pals.

Sellsgrove, Pa., Oct. 11.—Daisy Smith, aged 16 years, a daughter of Henry Smith, a wealthy farmer of Boies Run, near here, was found murdered yesterday in a field near her home. The discovery was made by the girl's father, who had sent Daisy to gather some herbs which he was to compound for treatment for a sick horse. Her throat had been cut from ear to ear, while a bullet hole was in her head, as well as her back. William Kriessinger, an ex-convict, was arrested on suspicion of the assassin. It is thought the assassin attempted to assault her, and meeting with resistance she killed her.

Ashland, Pa., Oct. 10.—Two Poles engaged in a fight in Jake Mekelofsky's saloon, at Centralia, Saturday night, and when Cornelius Carr attempted to separate them several other Poles set upon him with clubs and chairs, beating him so badly that he is in a serious condition. A mob outside the saloon hurled stones through the windows, striking and badly injuring a child named Trevosky. Mekelofsky seized a gun and fired two shots into the mob, wounding Thomas Collins and George Schoffer. Many others were injured, but their names could not be ascertained.
