MADE THE GREATEST PURCHASE

--OF--

Boys' Suits

Ever Known to Sunbury Nine Hundred in All

A Wonderful Sale Will Now Begin.
69 CENTS IS THE PRICE THEY WILL BE SOLD AT.

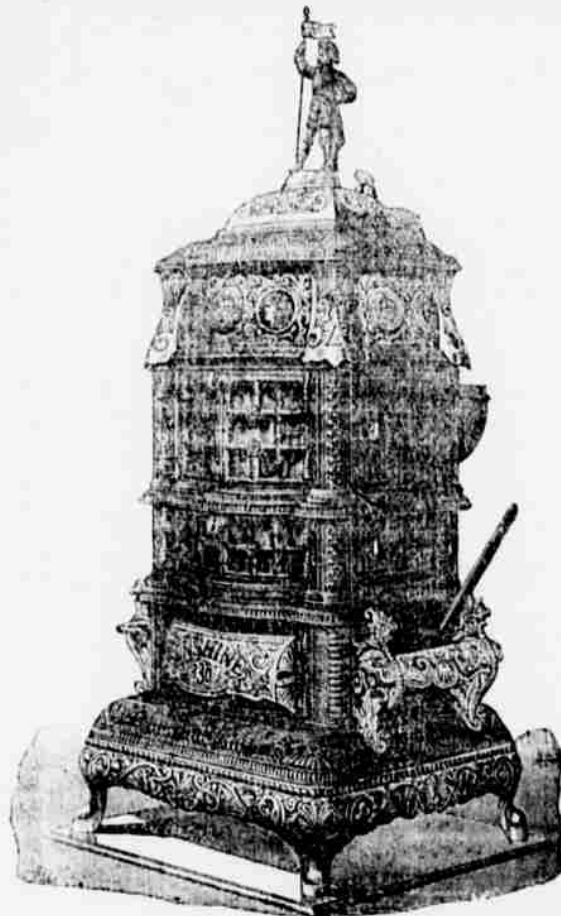

HOW WE DONE IT. July 6th we made an offer to a well known Clothing House in New York for NINE HUNDRED Boys' Suits, sizes to run from 4 to 15 years. The number of suits first staggered them and they asked if we had not made a mistake and if not what we intended to do with them. SELL THEM was the two words we gave them for an answer, but when they seen the price we offered them they were amazed, as the suits formerly sold for ONE DOLLAR. They then responded with a big NO, we are sorry we cannot fill your order, as the price is entirely too little.

NOW THEY COME TO OUR TERMS.

October 1st they notified us they would accept our offer and make the first shipment the 15th. They are now here and we now invite everybody in the universe to come and examine them.

Harold Frederic, the well-known journalist and novelist, who died in London a few days ago, sustained a stroke of paralysis some time ago and while helpless fell into the hands of Christian Scientists, who refused to summon medical assistance and treated him in their own peculiar manner. It was only when some friends of the bright man heard of his treatment, and protested, that a physician was summoned, but it was then too late. The news from London is to the effect that the legal authorities will take the matter up, with a view of beginning proceedings against the quacks, who may be said to have murdered Frederic.

GENERAL GRAHAM'S ULTIMATUM

Middletown, Pa., Oct. 21.—Major General Graham is waiting to hear from Chief Surgeon Girard before making up his mind whether to send his troops to the Philadelphia Jubilee. The general is not pleased with the arrangements which have been made to take care of the soldiers, and if the committee does not provide better quarters the boys will not go. He has directed Colonel Girard to make an investigation of the sanitary condition of the buildings in which it is proposed to shelter the Second corps. It depends entirely in his report whether the troops will go to Philadelphia, and General Graham expects to know definitely by this evening. His intentions were to take the four Pennsylvania regiments, Ninth Ohio colored battalion, a provisional battalion from every other regiment in the Second corps, the engineer and signal corps companies and the division, brigade and regimental commanders and their staffs. If General Graham agrees to make the trip the movement will begin tomorrow morning, and by evening 10,000 troops will contribute to the crowds in the Quaker City.

The movement of the corps south will begin Nov. 16, and General Graham expects to have all troops away ten days later. Governor Bushnell, of Ohio, visited the camp this morning, and a review of the Ninth Ohio colored battalion and Tenth Ohio was given in his honor.

Private James P. Stanton, Company K, Second West Virginia, fell from a freight train Saturday night and broke his left leg and mashed the other so badly that it had to be amputated below the knee. The surgeons say the patient will recover.

A riot occurred in Harrisburg Saturday night between privates from the Fourteenth Pennsylvania and Two Hundred and Third New York regiments. The rioters were arrested. Nobody was badly hurt, although a Second Tennessee man tried to shoot two colored policemen who were called in to quell the disturbance.

Case for Suspicion.

"I am surprised, Mr. Flintrock, at your request," said the president of the Solidville bank, with considerable feeling. "Mr. Straight has been a model of conscientious rectitude during all the years in which he has filled the position of cashier of this institution. There has never been a whisper breathed against his integrity, and—"

"So I have always thought till recently," interrupted Director Flintrock, a hard-headed old fellow, with a jaw like a steel-trap. "But I have just learned that his friends are referring to him as 'Honest John,' and I demand that his accounts be examined at once." —N. Y. Weekly.

Pa Probably Taught Her.

A little girl, who attends a Maine public school, has quite an idea of nobility, as was evidenced by her reply to her teacher. The class had been reading about the king's family. The teacher, wishing to inculcate the correct idea of royal descent, said: "Now, children, if the king and queen had a son, what would he be?" "The Jack," was the quick response. —Rockland (Me.) Episcopal Church and Divorces

The Episcopal church has rejected its catholicism and declared in favor of the liberal element and liberal divorce and re-marriage of the innocent party. The Episcopal church will not lessen the popularity of divorce nor prevent its execution by the courts, but it will uphold the time-honored tenets of the church. The result is a victory for the High Church party, now vast majority in England and evidently rampant in America. If churchism and intolerance of divorce will not tend to materially increase the membership of the church in America, but it will preserve its exclusiveness and alienism from masses.
