Frank Hepner the Lucky Man

P. Keiser, the accommodating proprietor of the Herndon House, killed his two large porkers on Tuesday. They dressed 980 pounds, the heaviest one weighing 586. This beats them all thus far reported. There were 276 guesses in as to their weight at 10 cents a guess making a total of $27,600 for the one who would guess the nearest, and Frank Hepner of this town guessed it within 1 pound, his guess was 979. The guesses run from 927 up to over 1100 pounds.—Herald-Star.
