SIXTY YEARS OLD.

We have before us a copy of the Union Times, printed at New Berlin April 21, 1839, which contains many "quaint and curious volumes of forgotten lore." At its political mast head is nailed the following ticket: "M. Van Buren, and Constitutional Treasury against Henry Clay & Co., and National Banks.' The principal advertisements are those of hotels which call particular attention to the extra quality of their liquors. Scattered through the columns of the paper are numerous calls upon the militia for drill, which the troops "come in full uniform, and fully equipped for drill, provided with ten rounds of cartridges." Among the jurors drawn for May Court, 1839, we find the following
