KEYSTONE HAPPENINGS.

News Items of Interest From All Parts of the State.

THE DEATH OF GEORGE CHANCE.

The Noted Labor Leader a Victim of Cancer of the Stomach—Father and Son Asphyxiated in a Well—Criminal Christian Science.

Baltimore, July 16.—Poverty, coupled with ill health and a weak minded wife for a helpmeet, were probably the causes which impelled Louis Eisen, a shoemaker, early yesterday to kill himself, his wife and babe, and to wound almost unto death his little son. The dead: Louis Eisen, aged 31 years; Sarah Eisen, his wife, 30 years; Morris Eisen, 13 months old. Wounded: Harry Eisen, 3½ years old, will probably recover. The weapon used was a razor, the victims' throats being cut.

The tragedy occurred at the squalid apartments which the family called home at 1208 East Lexington street, but the exact time is not known. An occupant of the upper floor of the little tenement discovered the tragedy about 9 o'clock and immediately summoned the police.

A minute search of the apartments failed to discover a crust of bread or a scrap of meat. A little salt and a small quantity of milk were the only edibles in the place, while the amount of money discovered after a careful search was 10 cents which Eisen's pockets contained and 32 cents which lay upon the cobbler's little counter.

Asphyxiated in a Well.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 16.—A number of boys were playing ball on a vacant lot at Buttonwood, a small mining village south of this city, last evening, when the ball rolled into an abandoned well. Daniel Golivinski, aged 14, went down the well after it. As he did not come up within a reasonable time the lad's father, Frank Golivinski, was notified and hastily descended the well. When he failed to return a third man, Stanley Knofski, went down. Nothing was heard from him either. A fourth man, carrying a rope, succeeded in bringing the three bodies to the surface. The two Golovinskis were dead, but Knofski will probably recover. The well had not been used for many years, and was filled with gas.

Criminal Christian Science.

Philadelphia, July 17.—The death of 7-year-old Edward Heck at the "Bealah Orphanage," run by "The Fire Baptized Holiness Association," led to an inquest by Coroner Dugan, and it was shown that the boy, whose mother paid $1.50 a week for his board, died without medical attendance. On the witness stand H. E. Sollenberger, the minister who is the head of the orphanage, testified that all diseases were treated only "by faith in God," and that even if a child had both legs cut off it would be allowed to bleed to death "if it were God's will." The inquest was continued and Sollenberger held in bail.

Lived a Hundred and Seven Years.

Susquehanna, Pa., July 14.—Michael Maloney, of Glenwood, Susquehanna county, is dead, aged 107 years. He was one of the pioneer residents of northern Pennsylvania. At the age of 104 years he underwent a very critical surgical operation. Until within a very few years he was in possession of all of his faculties. He was probably the oldest person in Pennsylvania.

Died After Being Rescued.

Ashland, Pa., July 16.—John Shutt and George Balla, who were imprisoned in the mines at Big Mine Run Saturday noon by a cavein in the gangway and who kept signaling to their rescuers, were finally reached by the rescuing party. Shutt was unhurt, but Balla was so badly injured that he died while being placed in the ambulance.

Chester Lad Died From Lockjaw.

Chester, Pa., July 14.—Thomas Clegg, aged 10 years, who was attacked with lockjaw, as a result of being shot with a blank cartridge on July 4, died at the Chester hospital Thursday night. He was wounded in the right arm by a revolver held close to him and fired by another lad.

Fatal Quarrel in a Boat.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 16.—While three men were crossing the Susquehanna river at Nanticoke in a boat last evening they quarreled. The boat was upset and John Schinski was thrown into the water and drowned.
