ELKIN SHOWS STALWART GAINS.

An Estimate Giving the Big Lead of Regular Republicans.

QUAY TO MEET THE VOTERS.

Beaver Statesman on Returning From Maine Will Go Into the Counties and Canvass For Re-election to the United States Senate.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, Aug. 14.—Since the departure of Col. M. S. Quay on a trip to Maine a persistent effort has been made by the insurgents and Democrats in Pennsylvania politics to create the impression that the Beaver statesman has decided to retire from politics. All sorts of reports have been put into circulation to the effect that the insurgents have made great gains and are in a position to influence the selection of the candidate for United States senator. Lists of figures purporting to represent the relative strength of the regulars and the insurgents have been published in insurgent papers and other matter has been given publicity with the idea of misleading the Republican voters in the counties yet to nominate members of the legislature.

FORMER CHAIRMAN ELKIN SPEAKS.

Former State Chairman John P. Elkin, who is in a position to get exact information on the political situation, has given a complete refutation of the insurgent statements, and in an interview for publication he has had this to say:

"Estimates and tables of figures proclaimed by insurgent newspapers on the senatorial situation lack convincing force because no details are given. I have just looked over the estimate published in the Philadelphia Press in an issue of recent date, and find it so wide of the mark that I do not apprehend it was intended to be either reliable or accurate. If the opposition newspapers want to be fair with the public in this matter it would be an easy task to make up a list of counties in alphabetical order, showing upon what facts their claims are based. The estimates thus far made public are as misleading and misleading as the cipher dispatches of Chinese diplomats. There are a few things which may be taken as fixed facts in this controversy. In the first place Senator Quay is a candidate and will remain in the field until his successor is elected. Before leaving for Maine he informed his friends that upon his return he would make a tour of the state in the fall campaign on the senatorial and other public questions. It is his intention to carry this vexed senatorial question to the forum of the people, where he will meet his adversaries and give the electors of the state the opportunity of deciding. In my judgment a decided

WE[illegible] of the voters in the state are in favor of re-electing Senator Quay for the United States senate. There has been so much misrepresentation about the partisan and factional complexion of the incoming legislature that a plain statement of the exact situation may prove of interest. The list of counties below show those in which primaries have already been held, those in which primaries have not been held, together with the results so far as known.
