IN ORDER to get several copies of the Snyder County Marriage book into every district of Snyder county and elsewhere and introduce it where it is not known, we propose to offer six copies of the book to every distrist in Snyder county and fifteen copies outside of the county, 127 replies in all, to the highest bidders. In other words, you get the books at your own price. We propose to do this instead of sending out an agent to sell them. We would have to pay an agent a heavy commission and we would prefer to give it to the buyer of the book. We are willing to put six books in every district and the six highest bidders will get the books. The fitteen highest bidders residing outside of the county will each get a book at his bid.

"Snyder County Marriages,-1835-1899" compiled by Geo. W. Wag enseller, A. M., contains a record of about 7500 marriages or 15000 cande of Snyder county people. It consists first of a miscellaneous list of terr-The poor crops and the low price of riages compiled from the files of the Middleburg Posr from 1868 to Oct. grain does not keep our farmers from 1, 1885, when the marriage license law went into effect. Second, from Oct. 1, 1885 to April 1899 taken from the license docket of Seyder county. Third, the marriage record of Rev. Adolph B. Caspar-1 Sol-82. Fourth, that of Rev. J. P. Shindel, Jr.,-1835-1888; and Fifth After spending a week with friends the record of C. G. Erlenmyer, 1840-75.

The book is nicely bound in substantial cloth binding and contained 266 pages. At the end of the book there is an index of surname, by eral lots in the Witner United Evan- which you can tell at a glance on what pages every family name curs. There is not a family residing in Snyder county or has reading here for any length of time who will not find a record of many of the own number and that of their families. The real history of any locality is the detail information of its people. There is not another book well lished which contains so much information concerning our own propand as there was only 284 copies printed and bound and 42 have been sold leaving 242 copies on hand. Deducting from this the 127 maps offered in this sale to the highest bidders will leave only 115 c which must be sold at the regular price of three dollars per copy. W. want to convert the entire stock into eash and in order to get copies of these books scattered to all parts of the county so that everyone entire and appreciate the value of such a book, 127 copies will go to the highbidders, six to each township and borough, and fifteen outside of the county. When the entire stock is exhausted and circulated among the people, and the value of the book appreciated no one will part with their copy and it will be next to impossible to get a copy for love or money. That is the history of all books of this character. No second edition will be published by the compiler and no one else dare as the book has been copyrighted by him. Send in your bids at once.

CONDITIONS.

The opportunity to bid on this other will last only four or five weeks. When the time for bidding has close l, the highest bidders will be notified, when they can lift their books at this office; or they can have them sent by mail for 14 cents postage. Bids to be successful should not be less than $1.50 and from there up to $3.00, the regular price. Copies of the book can be seen at this office. If any successful bidder is not satisfied that the book is as represented, he need not accept it and in that case the first bidder below him gets the book.

Use the form below for making your bid and mail it to the compiler of the book.
