A POLITICAL CHANGE

Senator Wolcott Talks of Conditions in Colorado.

REPUBLICANS MAY CARRY THE STATE.

They Certainly Will If Fusion Can Be Prevented.

Senator Wolcott, who presided over the Republican national convention, says a special from Denver, is quite hopeful of the Republicans carrying Colorado.

"I have never seen such a change politically as has taken place in this state within the past two months," said Senator Wolcott. "When I returned to Colorado after the Philadelphia convention I had no hopes of the SENATOR WOLCOTT.

Republicans carrying the state, and it is really against my best judgment that I have been convinced that we do stand a very good show. My friends told me when I came here that there had been a change in public sentiment, but I really did not believe it was so extensive until I commenced to meet the people. Of course a great deal depends upon what the Republican opposition will be composed of. If there is real solid fusion between all the elements opposing the Republican party it will make the result more doubtful, but we are hoping that the fusion which the Democrats, Populists and Silver Republicans are trying to bring about will be imperfect. Of course, my principal efforts at this time are devoted to preventing such fusion if it is possible to do so.

REPUBLICANS STEADILY GAIN-

"The Republican party has been steadily gaining in the last few elections in Colorado. In 1896 we cast but 14 per cent of the vote. In 1898 we had about 33 per cent and in 1899 49 per cent. The fight among the Democrats for the senatorship has disrupted their party, a great many of the Silver Republicans are coming back to their original allegiance, and some of the Populists are dissatisfied with the course taken by their national leaders. We will carry this state unless the fusion of the opposition is complete. In a three-cornered fight the Republicans are largely in the majority. It is interesting to note that possibly one-half of the candidates on the Republican ticket this year will be men who voted for Bryan in 1896. In that campaign the Silver Republicans of Colorado contributed $133,000 to the national Democratic party. This year the committee is disbanded and the Silver Republicans will not contribute 133 cents to the Democratic treasury.

BYRAN HAS LOST STANDING.

"We are all expansionists in Colorado. This state furnished a large quota of soldiers to the Philippines, and these ex-soldiers are a strong influence in bringing to the administration support for the present policy in the Philippines. There is very little talk of anti-imperialism, and the silver issue is quiet. Many of those who believe in free silver are now confident that the interests of the white metal will be better served in the end by the Republican party than by the Democrats. Bryan has lost standing in Colorado, and I find much of his personal prestige gone. This is due to the shelving of silver and the substitution of anti-imperialism as a paramount issue, an issue which does not appeal to the people of this state.

"I have been all over the state recently, and hundreds of people have come to me and told me that while they voted for Bryan in 1896 they will vote for McKinley this year. Of course I only hear the Republican side of the question, but I cannot help believing that the Republicans stand a good chance of carrying the state for the national ticket and electing a Republican legislature. The trust question does not seem to be very much agitated. The smelter combination has stayed the price of silver, which formerly fluctuated according as the fears or hopes of individuals forced bullion upon the market. It is a fact which I have never seen in print that the great fall in the price of silver when our international monetary commission was abroad was due to the stamping of a few holders of bullion, who dumped their product on the market in anticipation of still lower prices.

A PECULIAR SITUATION.

"The Democrats have created a peculiar situation for themselves, inasmuch as some of their leaders are ardent expansionists and at the same time anti-imperialists. Their efforts to define their position are very amusing, as the Democratic cry of imperialism has its only foundation in the expansion of the United States during the past two years through events which were merely the inevitable outcome of certain international condi-

When asked as to the industrial condition of Colorado Senator Wolcott said: "The industrial condition of Colorado is splendid. There is plenty of labor for all classes of people, the mining industry is flourishing and profitable and as a consequence the large agricultural interests of the state have been greatly benefited. The people are well satisfied with the present state of things and see no very good reason for making any changes. From what I hear from all other states the feeling is the same, and I expect to see President McKinley re-elected by as large or a larger majority in the electoral college than he had in 1896."

WORTH CULTIVATING.

Mrs. Witherby—Those people next door haven't paid their rent for four months, and yet they seem perfectly happy.

Witherby—Haden't we better take them up?

"What for?"

"Why, I should like to find out how they do it."—Town Topics.

MISPLACED LINES.

Nell—Mad at him? Why, he wrote a lovely poem to her.

Belle—Yes, but she never read it.

When she saw the title of it she tore the whole thing up in a fit of anger.

You see, he called it, "Lines on Nell's Face."—Philadelphia Catholic Standard and Times.

The Great Orator's Finish.

He went to college, took the prize for oratory, and Then from rear platform talked to all The people in the land;

And twice he missed the honor that Had erstwhile been so dear—

Mark! You may hear him talking still, He's now an auctioneer.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

Improving Them.

"Very often," remarked the long-haired man, "the printer mixes up words in my poems, thus creating different meanings and thoughts from what I intended."

"That so?" inquired the practical man. "How much does he charge you?"—Indianapolis Sun.

Seeking to Be Disqualified.

"Do you know anything about the Smithkins murder?" he asked, anxiously.

"Only what I've read in the papers," was the reply.

"Well, tell me all you remember, and be quick about it. I've just been summoned as a juror."—Chicago Post.

Fatal Misinterpretation.

"I thought that girl was in love with me, so felt kind o' forced to propose."

"Well?"

"She declined me, saying she had only been unusually friendly because I was so pathetically ugly."—Indianapolis Journal.

Tommy's Aversion.

"Tommy, let me help you to some of this new dish. It's called—"

"Never mind—'t it's called, auntie, as it is a health food?"

"No."

"Then I'll take some."—Chicago Tribune.

A Difficult Rule.

"A bird that can sing but won't sing Should be made to sing" his part;
The man that can't sing but that will sing Should be stopped right at the start.
—Judge.

MOST CONSIDERATE.

Mrs. Snobington—We had meant to call long before this, really, but with the best intentions, somehow, we always kept putting off the evil day.— Punch.

The Price of Fads.

Joe buys old things continually;
On new ones, too, she's bent; —'twixt these crazes, as you see, She never has a cent.
—Chicago Record.

Bringing Him to Terms.

Blanche—I shall quarrel with him to-night as a matter of necessity.

May—What for?

Blanche—He hasn't been as devoted to me lately as he ought.—Detroit: Free Press.

Appreciative.

"Ah!" softly hummed the mosquito, as the sleeping victim restlessly turned over in his bed. "The other cheek!
He must be a good man!"

And the grateful insect settled gently down again.—Chicago Tribune.

Easy Choice.

"Did you have any trouble selecting a name for the baby?"

"None at all; there's only one rich uncle in the family."—Richmond Dispatch.

The Philosopher Explains.

Little Charley—Papa, what is broadmindedness?

His Dad—Agreeing with headstrong people when you know they are wrong.—Tit-Bits.

Poor Fellow.

"Poppit was to propose last night.
Wonder if he did?"

"Yes, poor fellow."

"Rejected, eh?"

"Oh, no. Accepted."—Harken Lite.

Blood Troubles: Cancer, Scrofula, Old Sores, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Chronic Ulcers.

As the blood contains all the elements necessary to sustain life, it is important that it be kept free of all impurities, or it becomes a source of disease.
Son't poisons enter the blood from without, through the skin by absorption, or inoculation; others from within, as when waste products accumulate in the system and ferment, allowing disease germs to develop and be taken into the circulation. While all blood troubles have one common origin, each has some peculiarity to distinguish it from the other. Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema and other blood diseases can be distinguished by a certain sore, ulcer, eruption or inflammation appearing on the skin. Every blood disease shows sooner or later on the outside and on the weakest part of the body, or where it finds the least resistance. Man's mistake the sore or outward sign for the real disease, and attempt a cure by the use of salves, liniments and other external applications. Valuable time is lost and no permanent benefit derived from such treatment.

BLOOD TROUBLES REQUIRE BLOOD REMEDIES; the poison must be completely and permanently eradicated—the blood reinforced, purified and cleansed, or the disease goes deeper and saps the very life. Mercury, potas and arsenic, the treatment usually prescribed in this class of diseases, are violent poisons, even when taken in small doses—never cure, but do much harm by adding another poison to the already overburdened, diseased blood.

S. S. S., Nature's own remedy, made of roots and herbs, attacks the disease in the blood, antidotes and forces out all impurities, makes weak, thin blood rich, strong and healthy, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only one that can reach deep-seated blood troubles. A record of 50 years of successful cures proves it to be a reliable, unfailing specific for all blood and skin troubles.

Free Medical Treatment.—Our Medical Department is in charge of skilled physicians, who have made blood and skin diseases a life study, so if you have Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Eczema, or Old Sores or Ulcers, write them fully for advice about your case. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence. We make no charge for this service. Book on blood and skin diseases free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.
