

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism comes from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidneys.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

It is sold in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, Free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

New Ideas in Dress Introduced with Costumes of the Season.

Some of the hats to be seen in the shops do not look like anything else so much as the tops to baby carriages. They are low, lace-covered, with a wide, hanging fringe of lace over the edge. Almost everything in the way of a hat is large, says the New York Times.

The little white embroidered handkerchief stocks are pretty and serviceable, and a girl can make for herself any number of them. They have the handkerchief effect, but they can be made of Hamburg of a suitable design—simple little straight pieces to go around the neck and fasten at the back. More of the Hamburg can be sewed together into a square, bunched together into a bow and sewed in place with a few stitches. It is easily laundered at home, and it is no trouble to rip the bow to pieces and put it in shape again.

For the women with short necks who wear no stocks there are soft, straight pieces of silk, caught together once at the back, with a little shirring again on each side, and brought around the neck of the gown and fastened with a little clasp, pin, or bow, the ends hanging half way to the waist, and finished in one of the many popular ways, with lace or fringe or hemstitching. There are innumerable ways of dressing the neck. There can only be an individual style when one is adopted and made her own by some one woman.

The bell sleeve, which is seen so frequently, is pretty and comfortable for the negligee gown. The undersleeve, worn with a light gown for morning wear, with a turned-back embroidered or lace cuff to the bell-shaped sleeve, is particularly pretty. Undersleeves suggest in some way the house gown.

A charming mourning gown is made of crepe, with peau de soie. The skirt is simply made of the crepe in long, soft lines and fitting snugly over the hips. The bodice is more elaborate. The bodice proper is of the crepe, gathered with a little pouch at the waist line, which is low in front. There is a pointed yoke effect of embroidered peau de soie, which also covers the top of the sleeves. The scooped edge of the yoke opens, vest fashion, in front, and inside of the edges is a little inner vest effect, made with folds of white lisse. The peau de soie forms a yoke in the back, at the lower edge of which is a fringed scarf of crepe de chine, which passes around the shoulders, outlining the deep point in front, and the two ends fasten with a knot in the center, from where hang long fringed ends some distance below the waist. The collar is a plain stock, the lower half of the crepe and the upper of the white lisse. The scarf is caught here and there to give it a draped effect.

Nasturtiums as flowers are not frequently seen in the city, but they are to be seen occasionally. There are many women who are devoted to their deep, rich colors, and they are kept in the milliners' supplies on purpose for the hat. The nasturtium is not an inexpensive flower, and it does not wear over well, for it is apt to curl in the dampness, but it has its devotees, notwithstanding. It is one of the most natural of artificial flowers. Wall flowers are more easily found and come in the same rich colors, but they are not so attractive.

Women can get not only their wool outing skirts with a tailor finish, half made, ready for hanging, but they can get their wash skirts and piques as elaborately trimmed as they may wish them.

How Mrs. Pinkham HELPED MRS. GOODEN.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 12,111]

"I am very grateful to you for your kindness and the interest you have taken in me, and truly believe your medicines and advice are worth more to a woman than all the doctors in the world. For years I had female troubles and did nothing for them. Of course I became no better and finally broke down entirely. My troubles began with inflammation and hemorrhages from the kidneys, then inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb and inflammation of ovaries.

"I underwent local treatment every day for some time; then after nearly two months the doctor gave me permission to go back to work. I went back, but in less than a week was compelled to give up and go to bed. On breaking down the second time, I decided to let doctors and their medicine alone and try your remedies. Before the first bottle was gone I felt the effects of it. Three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of her Sanative Wash did me more good than all the doctors' treatments and medicine.

"The first remark that greets me now is 'How much better you look!' and you may be sure I never hesitate to tell the cause of my health."—Mrs. E. J. GOODEN, ACKLEY, IA.

A Question of Cordiality.

Mamma—I was surprised, May, at your lack of cordiality in greeting Mrs. Longstay.

Daughter—And I, mamma, was surprised at the effusive way in which you said good-by.—Philadelphia Record.

Just to Keep Him Down.

Mrs. Witherby—Good gracious! how did you come to get so many new gowns? Why, you don't need them, do you?

Mrs. Von Blumer—Oh, no. But I accidentally discovered that my husband was out of debt.—Town Topics.

IN COMBINATION WITH THE POST.

We give below some clubbing combinations with the Post. The rates quoted are very low.

The Farm Journal, monthly, for almost five years and the Middleburg Post one year, paid in advance, $1.00.

The Farm Journal is one of the best and most popular papers published in the United States. It contains the most reliable and interesting news of the farmer, laborer and working man.

The New York Tri-Weekly Tribune and the Middleburg Post, one year, paid in advance, only $1.75.

The Tri-Weekly is published Monday, Wednesday and Friday, reaches a large proportion of subscribers on date of issue, and each edition is a thoroughly up-to-date daily family newspaper for busy people.

The New York Weekly Tribune and the Middleburg Post, one year, paid in advance, only $1.25.

The Weekly Tribune is published on Thursday, and gives all important news of national and world, the most reliable market reports, unexcelled agricultural department, reliable general information and choice and entertaining miscellany. It is the "people's paper" for the entire United States, a national family paper for farmers and villagers.

The New York Tri-Weekly World and the Middleburg Post, one year, paid in advance, only $1.65.

The Tri-Weekly World comes three times a week, is filled with the latest news of the country and is well worth the price asked for it.

The Practical Farmer, one year, and the Middleburg Post, one year, paid in advance, $1.50. Both of the above papers and the Practical Farmer Year Book and Agricultural Almanac for 1900, paid in advance, only $1.65.

The Practical Farmer is one of the best farm papers published, issued weekly, at $1.00 per year. The year book contains 600 pages in which there is a fund of information that is useful to the farmer. The price of this book alone is 50 cents, and the Year Book for only $1.50.

SCROFULA The Blighting Disease of Heredity.

In many respects Scrofula and Consumption are alike; they develop from the same general causes, both are hereditary and dependent upon an impure and impoverished blood supply. In consumption the disease fastens itself upon the lungs; in Scrofula the glands of the neck and throat swell and suppurate, causing ugly running sores; the eyes are inflamed and weak; there is an almost continual discharge from the ears, the limbs swell, bones ache, and white swelling is frequently a result, causing the diseased bones to work out through the skin, producing indescribable pain and suffering. Cutting away a sore or diseased gland does no good; the blood is poisoned. The old acrofulous taint which has probably come down through several generations has polluted every drop of blood.

Scrofula requires vigorous, persistent treatment. The blood must be brought back to a healthy condition before the terrible disease can be stopped in its work of destruction. Mercury, potash and other poisonous minerals usually given in such cases do more harm than good; they ruin the digestion and leave the system in a worse condition than before.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated blood troubles like Scrofula. It goes down to the very roots of the disease and forces every vestige of poison out of the blood. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. The roots and herbs from which it is made contain wonderful blood purifying properties, which no poison, however powerful, can long resist. S. S. S. stimulates and purifies the blood, increases the appetite, aids the digestion and restores health and strength to the child has inherited any blood taint, don't wait for it to develop, but begin at once the use of S. S. S. It is a fine tonic and best blood purifier and blood builder known, as it contains no poisonous minerals. S. S. S. is pre-eminently a remedy for children.

When my daughter was an infant she had a severe case of Scrofula, for which she was under the constant care of physicians for more than two years. She was worse at the end of that time, however, and we almost despaired of her life. A few bottles of Switt's specific cured her completely, as it seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble. I do not believe it has an equal for stubborn cases of blood diseases which are beyond the power of other so-called blood remedies. S. S. S. is sold by all druggists.

Our medical department is in charge of experienced physicians who have made Scrofula and other blood diseases a life study. Write them about your case, or any one you are interested in. Your letter will receive prompt and careful attention. We make no charge whatever for this.
