

The Delicious Fragrance

from a hot
Royal Baking Powder biscuit whets the appetite. The taste of such a biscuit—
sweet, creamy, delicate and crispy—is a joy to the most fastidious.

Royal Baking Powder improves the flavor and adds to the healthfulness of all risen flour-foods. It renders the biscuit, bread and cake more digestible and nutritious. Royal Baking Powder makes hot breads wholesome. Food raised with Royal will not distress persons of delicate or enfeebled digestion, though eaten warm and fresh.

Imitation baking powders almost invariably contain alum. Alum makes the food unwholesome.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well-known village at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and I used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croup symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by the Middleburgh Drug Co.

The organ contest will close Dec. 15, 1900, at five o'clock P. M.

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md. Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

Still a Chance for Him.

"So you reject me!" the young lawyer said, rather bitterly. "I wonder if it would do any good to appeal the case to your father?" She shook her head. "There is no appeal from my decision," she replied. "I am what you call the court of last resort." "But I cannot give up the case in this way!" he exclaimed. She dug the sand with the point of her parasol. "Mr. Braxton," she said, softly, "might you not ask for a new trial?"—Chicago Tribune.

A Pathetic Appeal.

There is nothing gained by being too bashful; and the inserter of the subjoined advertisement does not need to be told so: "A poor student requests some generous and noble-minded person to advance him a sum of money for the purchase of a bicycle, with a view to reducing his embonpoint. Address A. V., at the office of this paper."—N. Y. World.

How He Got It.

"Did you ever get religion?" asked the revivalist. "Well, I should say so—138 pounds of it," replied the man. "A hundred and thirty-eight pounds of religion!" cried the revivalist. "How did you get that?" "The only way that a good many men ever get religion," was the reply. "I married it."—Chicago Post.

Push and Pull.

Politician—My boy, the door to every successful business is labeled "Push." Thoughtful Youth—Isn't your business a successful one, sir? Politician—Well, yes, I flatter myself that it is very successful. Why do you ask that? Thoughtful Youth—Because, sir, I see your door is labeled "Pull."—Tit-Bits.

Not-Self-Conscious.

"I will say," remarked the young woman, "that he is not afflicted with that self-consciousness which marks the person of deficient culture." "No," answered Miss Cayenne, "he isn't at all self-conscious. He will be tiresome by the hour without being in the least aware of it."—Washington Star.

A Waste of Energy.

"No," said the stubborn citizen. "I never confess that I am in the wrong." "Why not?" "There is no use of it. If a man makes a mistake in this life there are thousands of people ready to take hold and advertise it, without his lifting his voice to swell the clamor."—Washington Star.

His Dying Request.

"And now," said the Fiji chief to the Boston missionary, "have you anything to request before we proceed with the ceremony?" "Only this," replied the missionary, "please put a few beans in the pot with me."—Harlem Life.

Borrowing Trouble.

Miss Million (of uncertain age)—The only thing that worries me is the wedding tour. It will be perfectly horrible to have people know—" Miss Rosebud (viciously)—Oh, don't worry. They'll think you're his mother.—Tit-Bits.

Getting Even.

"I'll have to quit sending Dolphus Daubos my poems." "Does he criticize them?" "Well, he hasn't said anything; but every time I send him a poem he sends me one of his most atrocious paintings."—Detroit Free Press.

On the Other Side.

Aggressive Temperance Man (at table d'hôte)—Pass the water. The Other Man—I always do. It doesn't agree with me.—Ally Sloper.
