THE ROYAL FUNERAL

King Edward the Last to Gaze Upon Emperor William Nowa Field Marshat in the British Army.

London, Jan. 29.-It was officially announced late last evening that King by the president of the senate and Edward had ordered Saturday, when Queen Victoria's funeral will take place from Windsor Castle, to be observed as a day of general mourn-ing. All the banks will be closed and business suspended.

The arrangements for the queen's funeral have been only partially determined. Almost everything thus far is provisional and subject to the approval of the king, who came to London today to look over what has been proposed and to give his decision.

By order of the king the office of works directs that all draperies displayed by citizens shall be of purple. The procession from St. George's chapel royal, at Windsor, to Frogmore has been abandoned, and the coffin will Amain in the chapel until the day of inserment, which will probably be Emperor William has commanded Count-Von Wedel, master of horse, to bring six of his majesty's chargers from Signor Berlin, and the kaiser, the crown prince and the other Germans in official attendance at the funeral will ride in the procession. The gun carriages to be used at Cowes and Windsor and in London will be painted the color of khaki, fitted with rubber tires. King Edward has commanded Mr. A. Forestier, the well known artist of Black and White, to draw the lying-instate for him. The king and queen, with the kaiser, will attend the memorial service in St. George's chapel. Windsor, Sunday,

The funeral procession will leave Os-berne house Friday at 2 p. m. The route to the pier will be lined with troops and the royal personages will follow the coffin on foot.

An order issued by Admiral Sir. Charles Frederick Hotham shows that 38 British vessels will take part in the naval display. In order to give Londoners a full apportunity to witness the funeral procession it has been decided to extend river Laho and its tributaries have, the raute. The funeral procession will occupy fully two hours.

ROYALTY'S PINAL PAREWELL. Form of the Dend Queen Shut Forever From Mortal View. Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan, 26.—The royal family yesterday took their last aying book at the features of the dead goven. About 10 o'clock in the morning the shell was brought into the bedroom, where were waiting King Edward, Emperor William, the Duke of Connaught, Sir James Reid and the royal ladies. The latter having redred, Sir James Reid, with reverent nands, assisted by three trusted household servants and, in the presence of the king, the emperor and the duke, removed the body from the bed to the coffin. In death it was lovelier than in the closing days of life. Not a truce of the ravages of disease was visible. The servants having retired, Queen Alexandra, the prince and the Charles L. Hays, of the Southern Pachildren were recalled, and, with lingering, steps and stifled sobs, they passed slowly before this white robed and peaceful figure. At the feet, never moving, stood the king, and when the metrning enowed and passed there remained only the son and grandson of the dead. Emperor Wilmam wept even more bitterly than the royal ladies, Finally he also retired, and the king was left alone. Sir James Reid, beckoning to the servants who were holding the coffin lid, asked the king's instructions. For a few seconds the king stood speechless, stricken with smetion at the last farewell. Then he said quickly, "Close it finally. It must not be opened again."

According to a rumor circulating at Osbovna King Edward desires himself to be styled his imperial majesty, in order to emphasize the fact that he is imporer as well as king.

A very remarkable feature of all the proceedings is the intense martial air which pervades them. The naval parade off Spithend is to be the greatest, if possible, the world ever saw, and the sallitary arrangements at Windsor will online anything of the kind ever

The fact that this gift was ordered by the late queen, with the intention of presenting it on the taiser's birthday, gave a pathetic intorest to the presentation.

At 11 o'clock this morning, in the presence of Emperor William and the members of the British royal family, King Edward conferred upon Crown Prince Frederick William the Order of the Garter.

The Queen's Funeral in Washington. Washington, Jan. 29.—It has been decided that the funeral services here in memory of Queen Victoria shall take place in St. John's Episcopal church Feb. 2, coincident with the services in England. Bishop Satterlee, Rev. Mackay-Smith, rector of St. John's, and Rev. Dr. McKim, rector of Epiphany church, will participate. Lord and Lady Pauncefote are attendants at St. John's church.

Henry Snow Storms in Germany. Berlin, Jan. 29.-Hurricane like snow storms prevail in many parts of Germany and during the last 24 hours considerable damage has been done. The weather is particularly violent on the Frisian east coast, where the city of Leer and the neighboring districts were struck by a tidal wave. At Frankfort-on-the-Main snow is falling heavily, and dispatches from Bremen say that a strong northwest wind is driving the water into the Weser until it nearly reaches the edge of the dykes. A freight train near Dresden was partly hurled from an elevated track and five cars were badly wrecked. The Henrietta, I. T., Jan. 29.-Chitto Harjo, or Crazy Snake, leader of the warring Creeks, who is a United States prisoner here, remained sullen yesterday and refused to confer with Lieut. Dixon. It is believed, however, that the wily chief will sooner or later show a friendly spirit, and that the result will be a prompt ending of the insurrection. It is argued that Harjo and his followers have been taught to have a greater respect for the army officer than for deputy marshals, believing that the soldier is more apt to treat them fairly. This has been brought about not by the marshals' actions, but because a deputy here and there in the past has not acted wisely toward them.

Cheap Fares to California.

San Francisco, Jan. 29.—President cific, made his first great official move for colonists from the east to California slashed to a minimum of $25 from all points west of the Missouri river. President Hays says: "If the upbuilding of California can be accomplished in this manner I will bring people here." The new rates are record breakers in the history of the Southern Pacific. The colonist rate from Chicago is fixed at $30; from St. Louis. Memphis, New Orleans, $27,50; from Omaha, Kansas City, Minneola and Houston, $25

Kerr Escapes Trial by Jury.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 29.-George J. Kerr, who was jointly indicted with McAlister, Campbell and Death on a charge of assault and murder in the first degree in connection with the death of Jennie Bosschieter, was un-expectedly brought into court yester-day before Judge Dixon, when he pleaded non valt contendure to the charge of assault. The plea was accepted, and Kerr will be sentenced to-day with the other three.

HARRISBURG LETTER.

The Legislative Committees Controlled by Stalwarts.

Not a Chairmanship For That City, While Philadelphia Gets Twelve House Chairmanships-Some of the New Measures Presented.

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—The legislature has at last gotten down to business. Already a great many important bills have been introduced. The appointment of committees has shown that the stalwart Republicans intend to make war on the fusionists, and lively times are to be expected.

During last week Speaker Marshall appointed his standing committees in the house. The men in control of almost every body are stalwarts. Gen. W. H. Koontz, of Somerset, was made chairman of the committee on consti-tutional reform. The chairmanship of the committee on retrenchment and reform was given to Representative Coray, of Luzerne.

In the passing around of chairmanships 12 were secured by Philadelphia members. The balance were given to the country legislators. Pittsburg did not get a chairmanship. President Snyder announced the senate committees tonight, and again the insurgents are ignored.

Speaker Marshall laid before the house of representatives at tonight's session the resignation of William H. Keyser, of the Nineteenth Philadelphia district. A resolution was adopted that a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. Keyser for his uniform courtesy and kindness, regretting his resignation and congratulating him upon the prospects of his election to the senate to fill the vacancy created by the death of Francis A. Osbourn, of Philadelphia

A resolution was adopted urging the Pennsylvania representatives in congress to support the Grout bill.

The senate bill authorizing the Pennsylvania Railroad company to increase its capitalization to $100,000,000 was favorably reported from committee. A number of new bills were intro-

Among the bills introduced in the senate tonight was one authorizing the courts of quarter sessions to grant ncenses to sell intoxicating liquors at retail, wholesale or by brewers for a longer or shorter period than one year in certain cases. Another senate bill aims to amend an act authorizing the state treasurer to refund collateral inheritance tax heretofore paid or that may hereafter be paid in error,

Perhaps the bills of most importance before the legislature at the present time are those relating to the completion of the new capitol. Already three have been put in. Senator Fox, of Harrisburg, was the first to introduce his measure. It provides for an appropriation of $6,000,000, and calls for a completed structure in 1905. Provision is made for the appointment of a commission. Mr. Kennedy, of Beaver, has a bill appropriating $4,500,000, and, like Mr. Fox, leaves the appointment of the commission to the governor. Mr. Palm, Democrat, of Crawford, would spend $4,000,000, and names these men as the proper ones to build the capitol: A. J. Cassatt, Robert E. Pattison, Louis A. Watres, H. C. McCormick, Capt. William Hasson and John B. Jackson.

hurried along. The Quayites intend to prepare bills without consulation with the fusion forces. They figure that they can get enough votes to pass the legislation.

Oleo is to be the cause of much wrangling. So far only the anti-butterine people are represented by legislation. Two bills have gone in, one by Mr. Harris, of Clearfield, and another by Mr. McGlathery, of Montgomery. They are both severe on the dealer in oleo. leavy penalties, including imprisonment, are provided.

The bill with the most political significance attached is the one introduced by Senator Muchlbronner, providing a new charter for second class cities and "ripping" out of office the present officials. The measure is directed at the municipal machine which controls Pittsburg and of which Senator Will-iam Flinn is the head. The Quayites out there make the claim that a new charter is absolutely necessary, for under the present one it is impossible to secure an efficient government. The bill also affects Allegheny and Scranton.

As to the charter feature of the measure, there is little or no objection. The trouble comes on the "ripper" clause. Under it the governor is empowered, within 30 days after attaching his signature to the bill, to appoint new mayors for Pittsburg, Allegheny and Scranton. They would hold office until 1903. As soon as they are named every employe in those three cities, from mayor to scrub woman, would have to step out. The new executive would then proceed to name all subordinates. An attempt is being made to revolutionize the libel laws of Pennsylvania. During the senatorial contest some of the papers of the state printed articles which caused the stalwart leaders much annoyance. The proposed new measures will make it necessary to secure the permission from the man criticized before the article can be printed and will also prevent the cartooning of men in public life, or even printing their picture without consent.

President Gobin, of the senate, established a new precedent last week in de-ciding that the bill creating a fifth common pleas court in Philadelphia, which had been defeated a day or two before, could be reconsidered on the motion of a senator who had voted for the bill. It has been a rule in the legislature to require two persons who voted with the majority to move for the reconsideration of a defeated measure. It was impossible for the friends of this bill to comply with this requirement, and Senator Grady raised the point that this senate was without rules, as there had been no report of that committee during this session. He argued that the senate was like a town meeting in its present condition, and that any member has the privilege to move for reconsideration. The bill was finally passed and sent to the house.

The expense to the state by the creation of this court will be about $22,000
