McCLURE NOMINATED.

THE primary election is over and Hon. H. M. McClure nominated with the sweeping majority of 750 votes over A. W. Potter of this county. The victory for McClure is so complete and decisive that the friends of Mr. Potter have no heart aches on account of a little thing or two that might have been done and the result changed. It was evident even to the most obtuse individual from the very start that the odds were against Mr. Potter and this was used to perfection even to the very last and all those who wanted to get on the winning side had plenty of opportunity to do so, and those who wanted to get on the winning band wagon were legion. This left Mr. Potter with but a handful of supporters, compared with those on the other side, but those who stuck to Mr. Potter did so with almost the assurance that they had a losing card and the credit to them is all the greater, because they had sufficient stamina to stand by their honest convictions while defeat was staring in their faces. All the more honor is due them on this account.

THE Post has no fault to find with any man who voted for McClure. We concede to them what we demand for ourselves, the right to be on either side as conscience dictates, and while the Post has no differences with Judge McClure, the honor and credit of Snyder County was a more effective consideration than McClure's claims for re-election, more especially since the nomination of McClure in Snyder county shuts Snyder county out of all chances to get a judge for ten years more.

We have no apologies to make for the position we have taken, but the people have spoken and they have spoken decisively and nothing now remains for us to do, but to yield to the decision of the primary held on Saturday.

The next ordeal comes in Union county March 23rd, and if McClure carries that he becomes the nominee of the party for the district.

LITERARY NOTES.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.

THE February number of the North American Review contains a very charming essay on "Victoria and Her Reign," by Lady Jeune, a well known leader of London society, who enjoyed the favor and friendship of the late Queen. Lady Jeune rapidly sketches the life of Victoria from the moment when she was notified of her accession to the throne, and describes her as she appeared to those who were brought into close personal touch with her. Victoria had decided opinions of her own, and strong likes and dislikes.

THE OUTLOOK.

A strangely fascinating study of psychological religious emotion is contributed to The Outlook by Mr. George Kennan, describing his experiences in visiting, about twenty-five years ago, the old Jerry McAuley Water Mission and Prayer Meeting. ($3 a year. THE OUTLOOK COMPANY, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York.)

EVERYWHERE.

Will Carleton's Magazine announces this month that it is to be enlarged; and contain twice the number of pages it now does, while the size of the page is reduced only about two-fifths. This throws it into the larger-sized-cover class of magazines—so far as form is concerned. In matter and style, it is absolutely in a class by itself—as unique as are the writings of its famous editor. Fifty cents a year; Every Where Publishing Company, Brooklyn, N. Y.

REVIEW OF REVIEWS.

THOSE who have supposed that tea-growing is impracticable in the United States will be surprised by the title of an article contributed by Leonora Beck Ellis to the Review of Reviews for March—"American Tea-Gardens, Actual and Possible." The facts set forth by Mrs. Ellis fully justify the title of the article, for it is shown that tea is successfully grown and prepared for the market in the Carolinas, and there appears to be no good reason why the industry should not be conducted in other parts of the South. Science proves that it is feasible.

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

"The New Queen, Alexandra, of Great Britan" will be the subject of an interesting article in the April Woman's Home Companion. Edward Page Gaston will not only portray Queen Alexandra's life-story, but will also draw an accurate picture of the new sovereign's personality, her likes, dislikes, tastes and the hundred and one little peculiarities that make of this "First Lady of the British Isles" a very interesting personage. The article will be handsomely illustrated from photographs furnished by the author.

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

CLARA MORRIS, the famous actress, has developed into a story writer whose cleverness is conceded by every magazine editor. Consequently there is a place in readiness for everything that comes from her pen. She has just finished a story called "The Little Acrobat Girl." It is a pathetic romance of the stage, and will be given early publication in the Ladies' Home Journal.

UNIVERSAL BROTHERHOOD PATH.

The Universal Brotherhood Path (Theosophical Pub. Co., Point Loma, Calif.) is a magazine that appears not only to students of Theosophy, but also to the general reader and lover of nature. In the February issue is the first installment of a charming story, "At Even-tide There Shall Be Light," a sketch of hospital life, by "Sister Mildred." The scene is laid in Norway, and the descriptions of the scenery are exquisite. There is a pleasing touch of romance in the story, and one cannot fail to be charmed by its truthfulness to human nature.

NO close analyst of Scripture, it is evident that the Angels of the ancients answer to the occult forces and spirit philosophy of modern scientists. "Do good and to communicate; forget not, and entertain strangers, for by so doing some have entertained Angels unaware," says Paul. In his midnight sallies, tempest tossed sun stars appearing for many days; to cheer the desponding, wrecked mariners, he says: "Sirs, I exhort you to be of good cheer, for there stood by this night an Angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve, saying: 'Fear not, Paul, there shall be no loss of life only the ship, and I believe it shall be even as he told me.'" Like the wrecked ship, so this outward, physical body perishes, but the life-spirit, the real inward man, does not die, but is renewed and strengthened day by day. The soul, secure in continued existence, smiles at the drawn dagger and defies its point—survives "the wreck of matter and the crush of worlds." The settled belief in the continuity of human life—how it destroys the enervating effects of fear. Reference is made to those who through fear of death are all their life time subject to bondage. "The real man, motor and controller of this fleshly machine, now and ever is spirit, and there is personal responsibility for all individual thought and action. This faith is a new inspiration of mental emancipation, bringing Heaven from its far away creedal distance to within the limits of daily life. It lifts humanity out of the depths to higher possibilities, and radiates from the Centre of Truth influences of light, knowledge, and joy, of happiness, ofimes inexpressible. It changes Faith to Wisdom, and crowns death with a chaplet of vic... INDRA.

Eichenburger and Wolf vs. Aucker and Knights

John D. Marks vs. Henry F. Bissling

Weimer & Co. vs. N. J. Livingston.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used YUGUST FLOWER to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

ADMIRAL HIGHBORN, the ablest naval men in our history. FATAL WRECK ON THE PENNSY.

Disobedience Caused Thirteen Deaths and Injuries to Thirty.

Trenton, Feb. 23.—One of the worst collisions in the history of the Ambler division of the Pennsylvania railroad occurred about 5:30 o'clock Thursday evening at Rising's siding, near Bordentown, and about eight miles south of Trenton. The "Nellie Bly" express, from New York for Atlantic City, collided with passenger train No. 324, running from Camden to Trenton. The total number of dead is 13, while about 30 were injured. Of the injured at Trenton eight are Italians and at Camden all the five are Italians.

The known dead are: Walter Earle, engineer of the express train, who died with his hand on the throttle, though he might have escaped by jumping; James Birmingham, baggagemaster of the local train; Edward J. Stokes, of Bristol, Pa., passenger on the local train; Walter Hale, of Trenton, passenger on the local train; John Gates, of Trenton, passenger on the local train; an Italian, whose first name was Joe, but last name not known; Mulas Sparta, an Italian, who died at the Cooper hospital, Camden; Frank Bolden, a passenger, who died today. Three terribly mutilated bodies are believed to be William McInney, John Farrell and Thomas McGee, passengers, of Trenton. Three others may die.

Both General Superintendent Shepard and Division Superintendent Abercrombie admitted that the crew of the accommodation train disobeyed the train orders.

Three Boys Killed in Play.

Blwabik, Minn., Feb. 26.—A terrible accident, resulting in the loss of three lives, occurred on Sunday afternoon at the Elba mine, six miles from Blwabik. Five boys were riding a car which is used in the shaft. One of the boys turned the switch the wrong way and the car descended rapidly from the top of the shaft house towards the shaft opening. One of the boys raised the danger and pulled his brother off the car in time to save him. The car crashed down the shaft opening, hurling the three young boys to the bottom of the shaft and killing them instantly. The boys were two sons of Joseph Feit, aged 10 and 12, respectively, and Andrew Selakdich's, aged 8 years.

Four War Vessels Knocked Out.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The house yesterday jettisoned the authorization for two battleships and two cruisers which were in the naval appropriation bill as it passed that body. Chairman Cannon, of the appropriation committee, contributed largely to this result by a vigorous speech in favor of the senate amendment.

The senatorial deadlock is unchanged.
