THE INAUGURAL.

THE two most significant passages of President McKinley's second inaugural state with rare brevity and clearness the conditions of the two gravest affairs with which his official responsibility is now charged. First as to Cuba:

"The peace which we are pledged to leave to the Cuban people must carry with it the guarantee of permanence."

Secondly, as to the situation in the Philippines:

"We are not waging war against the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands. A portion of them are making war against the United States."

Columns of Rhetoric could not say more as to our duty in Cuba and our duty in the Philippines. In each case the statement implies the programme.

In spirit and in tone, as in literary form, the inaugural is worthy of the occasion and of the inaugurated. The retrospect is a splendid narrative of national advancement. The philosophy is the optimism of American faith in American character and capabilities. Fortunate among the statesmen who have made history is the President who after four such years can turn to his fellow countrymen and pronounce such an address, with absolute confidence as to what the response will be!

For a United Party.

THE POST makes public in the news columns to-day an interview by Congressman Mahon republished from the Philadelphia Press. The sentiments there expressed are wholesome, but the "Ripper" bill there denounced has since become a law. We publish the interview, because it represents the basis upon which the Republican party should be re-established. If the party had more Quay men like Tom Cooper and Thad Mahon, there would be fewer anti-Quay men in Pennsylvania. The main feeders to the anti-Quay army are engendered in the Quay camp by the Quay people. If the Quay people in the legislature would knock out all bad legislation, the anti-Quay party would be compelled to go out of business.

There is nothing in the "Ripper" bill that will materially affect the people of Snyder county, but it takes from the people of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Scranton, the mayors the people themselves elected and places the appointment of all officers, such as police, etc., over 5000 in all, into the hands of the Governor.

The voters in these cities elected their mayors and the legislature had no more right to take the mayor from these people than they would to abolish the office of prothonotary or sheriff of Snyder county and throw out of office the men we elected to fill them.

We have no objection to so-called machine legislation as long as such legislation is right and just. The Post does not care whether proposed legislation emanates from the stalwarts or the insurgents. If it is good and wholesome legislation, let it be put upon the statute books, but if it be otherwise it should be relegated to the pigeon holes, which unfortunately is the tomb of too many good bills.

Tom Cooper's idea of the olive branch is a good one. He has ever been the "red-leaded and hopeful Tom" and the sooner the stalwarts throw out the olive branch to the insurgents, the sooner the rupture in the Republican party will heal.

The Post would like to see a united Republican party in the state of Pennsylvania and if the matter is honestly managed it can be accomplished.

Good wholesome legislation will drive the anti-Quayite out of business and insure the election of both a Republican Governor and United States Senator.

THE NEWS last week was trying to let itself down easy on that trip to Monroe township by saying that the letter dated at Shamokin Dam was a self-written communication. The letter was written by one of the well known Republicans of Monroe township and in addition to what we published said something about a big wad of bills left in the hands of a Democrat at Shamokin Dam. The Post does not publish self-written communications.

FOUR years more of McKinley and prosperity.

THE quantity and quality of the artistic job printing turned out at the Post printing offices defies competition.

THE death list in Snyder County for the past three weeks has been unusually large. Some seasons of the year seem to be more prolific of deaths than others.

THE license Court of Juniata County was in session last week. The court granted ten licenses. Snyder County has about the same number of people and has some thirty licensed hotels. This does not look so favorable for Snyder County.

THE Centre Democrat of Bellefonte last week published a complete account of the massacre of Indians by Stump and Ironcutter January 1768. The account states that the massacre took place in what is now Union County. The Post wishes to remind our esteemed contemporary that the massacre took place within the present limits of this borough.

AN EXPOSITION BOOKLET.

HERE comes another of the beautiful booklets from the Bureau of Publicity of the Pan-American Exposition, Buffalo, N. Y. It consists of 16 pages and a cover in light green. The unique feature of it is the miniature reproduction of the famous poster, "The Spirit of Niagara," which has had a most remarkable demand. The envelope in which the poster booklet is mailed also bears a reproduction of this artistic work. The booklet is a popular picture book, the first page having an engraving of the magnificent Electric Tower, which is 391 feet high, and which will form the glorious center-piece of the great Exposition. On the same page is a miniature of one of the torch bearers which will adorn the wings of the Electric Tower, and beside it a picture of Niagara Falls. The second page shows of the Electricity Building and five other small illustrations of the uses of electricity. The third page shows the splendid group of buildings erected by the National Government and which will contain the Government exhibits, also five miniature illustrations, one of them showing the life-saving station, where exhibitions will be given daily by a picked crew of ten men, during the Exposition. The fourth page is devoted to the wonderful displays of government ordnance; etc., etc. Any one desiring a copy of this booklet may have it free by addressing the Pan-American Bureau of Publicity, Buffalo, N. Y.

DEATH OF WILLIAM M. EVARTS.

Attorney General Under Johnson and Secretary of State For Hayes.

New York, March 1.—William M. Everts died at his home in this city yesterday, aged 83 years. His death was caused by pneumonia. For several years past he had been without the use of his eyes, and was otherwise so feeble that he was unable to leave his home. Up to the time of his death he was the nominal head of the law firm of Everts, Choate & Beaman, although for many years he had not been in active practice.

Mr. Everts first gained prominence in the Republican national convention which nominated Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Everts strongly supported William M. Seward, and it was believed that Seward's nomination and election would have led to Everts' nomination as Seward's successor. Mr. Everts subsequently successfully defended President Johnson in the impeachment proceedings, and was chosen by that president as attorney general. Later he performed signal service as counsel at Geneva to press the Alabama claims against Great Britain. He was appointed by President Hayes as secretary of state, and afterward served a term as United States senator from New York.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

ECONOMICAL SHOE EMP., Sunbury

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anemic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia. SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

CARTER'S FINAL SPEECH

Montana Republican Senator Killed River and Harbor Bill.

THE ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION BILL

Passed the Senate in Closing Hours. But the Charleston Appropriation Is Refused—House Minority Leader Pays Tribute to Speaker Henderson.

Washington, March 5.—One of the most notable occurrences in the history of congressional legislation marked the closing hours of the last session of the senate of the Fifty-sixth congress. Senator Carter, of Montana, signalled his retirement from the senate, after six years of brilliant service, by talking the river and harbor bill to death. He occupied the floor constructively, for nearly 13 consecutive hours, although in the aggregate about three hours of that time were devoted to other business.

At 11:40 Sunday night, after the conferees on the river and harbor bill had reported a disagreement, Senator Carter began his speech. Apparently in a facetious vein, he began his attack upon the measure, denouncing it as vicious and pernicious legislation, unwarranted by conditions and unsound in principle.

Shortly before 5 o'clock Mr. Allison submitted a further disagreement on the sundry civil bill, the item in contention being the appropriation for the three expositions. From this the senate receded and then passed the St. Louis exposition bill. Mr. Tillman, who has championed the appropriation for Charleston throughout the session, made a final appeal to the senate to save the Charleston item, but he realized that the Missouri senators were more powerful than he. By a vote of 38 to 10 the senate receded from the Charleston appropriation and the bill was passed.

Mr. Carter resumed his speech, finally announcing at 6:35 that it was his intention not to permit the river and harbor bill to become a law, if his strength should hold out, and at that moment he was in excellent physical condition. With the exception of a brief intermission while a quorum was being secured and a recess of half an hour between 10:30 and 11 o'clock yesterday Mr. Carter spoke practically continuously. He yielded the floor only after the ceremony of the inducting of Vice President Roosevelt into office had begun.

In retiring as the president pro tem of the senate Mr. Frye, in response to a resolution of thanks for his courtesy and impartiality, delivered a brief but feeling address to the senate.

At the conclusion of the session of the Fifty-sixth congress Vice President Roosevelt was sworn in and immediately called the senate of the Fifty-seventh congress to order. It was a simple but beautiful and impressive ceremony. The new senators were sworn in in groups of four. At the conclusion of this proceeding the senate attended the inauguration of the president on the east front of the Capitol. At 1:45 the senate returned to its chamber and adjourned immediately until today.

The house closed its session at 11:45 yesterday amid a demonstration from its members following the delivery of an impressive valedictory by Speaker Henderson.

Shortly before the closing hour Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, the minority leader, presented resolutions testifying the high regard of the house for the able, impartial and dignified manner in which Speaker Henderson had administered the duties of presiding officer. Coming from the minority, there was added significance in the tribute. The resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Some of the War Taxes Repealed.

Washington, March 1.—The conference report on the war revenue reduction bill, as agreed on by the senate yesterday, repeals the tax on bank checks, certificates of deposit, promissory notes, money orders, bills of lading, express receipts, telegraph and telephone messages, insurance, leases, manifests, mortgages, power of attorney, protest, warehouse receipts, proprietary medicines, perfumery and cosmetics and chewing gum. The bill will take effect July 1.
