At a recent meeting of our Congress "in town" the members by a unanimous vote have agreed to hold a grand banquet at the end of the present session which is very near, and donate the proceeds to the Standard Oil Co.

Rheumatism.

Nobody knows all about it and nothing, now known, will always cure it.

Doctors try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when they think it is caused by imperfect digestion of food. You can do the same.

It may or may not be caused by the failure of stomach and bowels to do their work. If it is, you will cure it; if not you will do no harm.

The way, to cure a disease is to stop its cause, and help the body get back to its habit of health.

When Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil does that, it cures; when it don't, it don't cure. It never does harm.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.
If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

DUNDORE.
P. A. Shafer took one of Henry C. Hoover's fine driving horses to Shamokin to sell.
Flitting will be all the rage this week and next; less beer and more good fellowship would improve these occasions.
N. T. Dundore's smoke-house was visited the other night and relieved of a few smoked shoulders but as luck would have it a few days before he removed the hams to a more secure place for future use.
M. P. Arnold and wife will superintend the Poor House of Union township which is located one mile west of Port Trevorton.
A. E. Witmer took a load of fine potatoes to Sunbury.
Ed. Rambo is keeping bachelor's hall.
Our debating school is making its mark, and who can tell but that some of the orators of the age will owe their success to this small beginning.
The bridge bill at Harrisburg has passed the second reading and it takes no prophet to see that we will have a bridge at Port Trevorton.
Six or eight townships in the lower end of this county are entirely cut off from market, their land has depreciated in value, and our people like Moses of old, cast a wistful eye across the river where markets are good, money plenty and prosperity reigns supreme, and are waiting for their deliverer to come, the bridge at Port Trevorton.
Samuel High of Phila., was in town selling hardware.
Maria W. Dundore made a trip to Selingsgrove and called on her sister, Minnie E. Eyer.
Jerome Moyer spent last week at Shamokin looking around for a good opening.

Isaac Campbell has moved across the river with his family; he will be missed as he is a good carpenter, shoemaker, and handy all around.
N. F. Shambaugh and wife of Port Trevorton spent an evening with N. T. Dundore and wife; they are full of good humor.
Henry Reichenbach of Toe Hill has hired himself to a farmer in Penn township, and it is hoped that he will not forget his many friends.
A contented man is always rich.

No Deceit About This.
"You told me," said the infuriated purchaser, "that that brook on the farm you sold me never ran dry."
"Guess I did," said the real estate man.
"It has been dry all summer!"
"When it was dry it didn't run, did it? Therefore, it could not run dry. We never deceive." — Philadelphia Press.
Demurrer Entered.
"My niece," said the doctor, "has joined an organization they call the—strange I can't think of the name. I had it at my tongue's end a moment ago—O, yes, I remember it now. They call it the Thimble club."
"Then you didn't have it at your tongue's end," objected the professor. "You had it at your finger's end." — Chicago Tribune.
Unexpected Encouragement.
"So this is the end," he in bitterness cried. Displaying the note she had written. "Just now it's the end," she with caution replied.
Regretting to see him thus smitten. "And yet," she went on in her feminine way. "Don't deem the world barren and hollow. Whate'er woman writes, just remember, I pray. A postscript is likely to follow." — Chicago Post.
