Doctors Advise

The remedies they think best suited to the needs of their patients. When the disease is of a nervous nature, with headache, sick stomach, failing appetite, indigestion, restlessness, loss of sleep and a general run-down condition, a nerve tonic and brain food is an absolute necessity. The best of all remedies for weak, debilitated, exhausted nerves—best for the doctor to prescribe and best for the patient to take—is that incomparable restorative, "Several years ago I had a very severe attack of nervous prostration. The strain and weakness were so great at times that I thought I should never recover. A good friend of mine, an analytical chemist, induced me to try Dr. Miles' Nervine, which I did. The good results were apparent after the second dose, and I kept on taking the medicine until I was well and sound as ever." THOMAS DUNCAN, Rising Sun, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine.

It makes the nerves strong, the brain clear, the appetite keen and the digestion perfect. It rebuilds the failing strength and is an unfailing cure for nervous prostration. Sold by all druggists on a guarantee. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

An Exceptional Case. Physician—You should eat plenty of fruit. Patient—Why so? Physician—Because it will do you good. A man can't eat too much fruit. Patient—Oh, I don't know. Did you ever hear the story of Adam and Eve?—Chicago Daily News. Life's Horrid Grind. "I was shocked to hear of Cholly Smallpate's suicide. Was there any known cause for it?" "Nothing is definitely known about it, but he was heard to say one day that he was tired of the trouble of looking after his finger nails."—Chicago Tribune. An Incentive to Harmony. "I'm sure we shall be on good terms," said the man who had just moved into the neighborhood to the grocer at the corner. "No doubt of it, sir. Especially," he added, as an afterthought, "if the terms are cash."—Tit-Bits. A Misnomer. "Pa," said the blooming daughter of the household. "I wish you wouldn't call young Mr. Softleigh a poppinjay." "And why not?" "Because he isn't a jay, and there doesn't seem to be any hope of his 'poppin'."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
