COMBINATION WITH THE POST.

We give below some clubbing combinations with the Post. The rates quoted are very low.

The New York Tri-Weekly Tribune and the Middleburg Post, one year, paid in advance, only $1.75.

The New York Weekly Tribune and the Middleburg Post, one year, paid in advance, only $1.25.

The Weekly Tribune is published on Thursday, and gives all important news of nation and world, the most reliable market reports, unexcelled agricultural department, reliable general information, and choice and entertaining miscellany. It is the "people's paper" for the entire United States, a national family paper for farmers and villagers.

The Practical Farmer, one year, and the Middleburg Post, one year, paid in advance, $1.50. Both of above papers and the Practical Farmer Year Book and Agricultural Almanac for 1900, paid in advance, only $1.65.

The Practical Farmer is one of the best farm papers published, issued weekly, $1.00 per year. The year book contains 90 pages in which there is a fund of information that is useful to the farmer. The price of this book alone is 50 cents, and the Year Book for only $1.00.

Men are often careful to avoid all expenditures of money. A well-known Philadelphian, who is reported to be more than a millionaire, walked down the news stand in Broad street and asked for a certain Boston paper. "How much is it?" he inquired. "Five cents," was the reply. The rich man fumbled some coins in his trousers and explained, "I just want to see at the financial column." He took the paper to the desired page, and his eye quickly up and down the column, and a smile of satisfaction showed over his rugged features. Then he laid down a copper coin in payment for his look.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson in the International Series for June 16, 1901—Jesus Appears to John.

THE LESSON TEXT.

(Revelation 1:3-20.)

1. I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

2. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet.

3. Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last; and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

4. And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks.

5. And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of Man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

6. His head and His hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and His eyes were as flame of fire.

7. And His feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and His voice as the sound of many waters.

8. And he had in His right hand seven stars: and out of His mouth went a sharp two edged sword: and His countenance was as the sun shined in his strength.

9. And when I saw Him, I fell at His feet as dead. And He laid His right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last.

10. I am He that liveth, and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

11. Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which have been, and the things which shall be hereafter:

12. The mystery of the seven stars which John saw in My right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches; and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus Christ the same yesterday, to-day, and forever.—Heb. 13:8.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The lesson can best be studied in three parts, as follows:

John Tells the Circumstances of the Vision. Vs. 9-12

John Describes the Man of His Vision. Vs. 12-16

The Man of the Vision Reassures John. Vs. 17-20

9. "John." Called the Beloved. Author of the fourth Gospel. Brother of James and John of Zebedee. He and James were called Boanerges—sons of thunder. For years he lived at Ephesus, a stalwart defender of the Christian faith against errors manifold. In the fourth Gospel he does not mention his own name. It is different in the book of Revelation, as shown by this verse. "Companion:" He had his share in that which belonged to Jesus Christ and to his disciples, whether that be good or ill, glory or suffering, hope deferred or patient endurance. He was the brother of other disciples, and by the grace of the Lord, of Jesus Christ Himself. "Was:" Perhaps during the Neronian persecution, but we have not certain knowledge on this point. "Patmos:" In being sent to rocky Patmos, perhaps to labor in the marble quarries, he was treated more leniently than many Christians of that age, who sealed their faith with their blood. "For the word of God:" God is in all his thoughts and not Jesus only. He realizes that he has been God's prophet, speaking forth the Divine word. "For the testimony of Jesus:" He was true to the Saviour's commission. "Jesus Christ:" He thinks of the Lord naturally as Jesus Christ, the Messiah. 10. "In the Spirit:" He was in a state of spiritual exaltation. "Lord's day:" Elsewhere in the New Testament called the first day of the week. "A great voice:" A voice loud, clear, trumpet-like, was heard. 11. "Alpha and Omega:" Omitted from the revised version. "Write in a book:" No doubt John was grieved because his preaching had been silenced. "Seven churches:" These churches were especially upon his heart. "Ephesus:" (Read Acts 19.) "Thyatira:" Is of special interest as the home of Lydia, the purple seller, whom Paul found at Philippi (Acts 16:14). 12. "Turned:" This description shows that the voice was an objective reality, and not imaginary. "Candlestick:" The meaning of the Greek word is lampstand. (Comp. Matt. 5:15.)

13. "In the midst:" Interest in them. "Like unto the Son of Man:" R. V., "Like unto a son of man," "Garment . . . girt:" The garment and girdle are described because they impressed John. They impressed him because they suggested the dignity and eminence of this Being. 14, 15: Purity, splendor, majesty are suggested by the metaphors employed by John (Ezek. 43:2). 16. "In His right hand seven stars:" He was sending a message to seven churches. He was standing in the midst of seven candlesticks. "Out of His mouth . . . sword:" He who stood there was the Word, of whom John writes in the first verse of his Gospel. "Countenance:" No marks of weariness there now.

17. "Fell as dead:" Manifestation of divinity terrified him. "Fear not:" Jesus calmed his fears as He had done on the stormy Galilean sea many years before. 18. "Alive for evermore:" He has the eternal life of which in His preaching He spoke.

CUBA'S AMENDMENTS

To the Platt Amendment Rejected by the Cabinet.

NOT "SUBSTANTIAL" COMPLIANCE

The Cubans Have Been So Advised in Unqualified Terms—The Cabinet Unable to Reach a Conclusion on the Philippine Tariff Question.

Washington, June 1.—The president and the cabinet at their meeting yesterday decided that the action of the Cuban constitutional convention was not a "substantial" compliance with the terms of the Platt amendment. The secretary of war will convey this fact to the convention.

The cabinet held that the amendments and interpretations and the wealth of whereases placed by the Cuban constitutional convention upon the Cuban amendment amounted to a practical modification of the Platt amendment such as beyond the power of this government to accept. The message of rejection sent to Gen. Wood advises the Cubans in unqualified language that there is no power resting in the United States government to change the terms of the Platt amendment, and that this government insists on its acceptance without amendment or qualification. The Cuban convention is still in session and the message of rejection was delivered to it immediately. The administration is confident that the Cubans will understand the exact attitude of this government and make a satisfactory acceptance within a reasonable period.

The three main points in which the action of the Cuban constitutional convention is regarded as unsatisfactory relate, it is said, to coaling stations, sanitation and intervention. The Cuban convention took from the coaling stations paragraph of the Platt amendment its obligatory character and merely authorized the Cuban government, in its judgment, to allow the United States to possess coaling or naval stations. The United States will insist on an absolute agreement to grant us these coaling stations. With respect to sanitation the Cubans do not agree to carry out plans already devised, and in accepting the Platt amendment modify its provisions so as to change them considerably. In the matter of intervention our objection is that the Cubans have so changed this vitally important part of the Platt amendment as to make our right to intervene an ambiguous and doubtful matter, whereas we insist on a straight, unequivocal acknowledgment of our right to intervene when in our judgment intervention is necessary to assure Cuban independence or a stable government.

The cabinet was unable to reach any conclusions as to the Philippine tariff situation, as affected by the recent insular decisions of the supreme court. Attorney General Knox will make a careful examination of the language of the decisions at once and ascertain their exact bearing on the tariff between this country and the Philippines. He then will state to the president and his advisers the powers now vested in the government in dealing with this subject. There was little discussion of this matter owing to the general lack of clear understanding as to the real effect of the decisions. Mr. Knox may report his conclusions on the subject at the next cabinet meeting and probably also will discuss the results of his examination of the opinions of the court with the president individually.

Meanwhile discussion of the need of an extra session is deferred, as consideration of that question was regarded as premature at this time.

Ocean Steamer Endangered.

Atlantic City, June 4.—The steamer Reynolds is in a dangerous condition, anchored two miles off this city. She was visited yesterday afternoon by Capt. V. A. Parker, of the Atlantic City life saving station, who found her, as the result of the shifting of her cargo. The crew had their effects on deck and the lifeboats in the water. The first mate refused Capt. Parker permission to go on board and declared that the ship had not set signals of distress. As the captain partly got aboard a bulldog was set at him. In his judgment the vessel is half filled with water. If help arrives, however, the steamer may be saved.

Jealous Actor Killed Sweetheart.

Chicago, June 4.—Edward Forshay, of Kansas City, an actor and assistant manager of theatrical companies, last night shot and killed Miss Edna Stokes, an actress, whose home is at Sedalia, Mo., with whom he was deeply in love. The couple had engaged in a desperate quarrel a few days ago and Forshay is said to have beaten the actress badly, cutting her head in two places. When arrested Forshay said that he intended to kill himself, as he could not live without Miss Stokes' love, but that his nerve failed at the last minute.

Two Killed, Twenty Injured.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 4.—Two men were killed and about 20 injured, two fatally, in a rear end collision between two sections of a work train yesterday on the Pittsburg, Ohio Valley and Cincinnati railroad, near Powhatan. The dead are Amelia Chan and John Metting, white. Tony Werne and Barney Metzinski are fatally injured. There were 28 ItaMans on the first section of the work train when the second section crashed into it.

BOILS AND CARBUNCLES

These unwelcome visitors usually appear in the spring or summer, when the blood is making an extra effort to free itself from the many impurities that have accumulated during the winter months.

Carbuncles, which are more painful and dangerous, come most frequently on the back of the neck, eating great holes in the flesh, exhaust the strength and often prove fatal. Boils are regarded by some people as blessings, and they patiently and uncomplainingly endure the pain and inconvenience under the mistaken idea that their health is being benefited, that their blood is too thick anyway, and this is Nature's plan of thinning it. The blood is not too rich or too thick, but is diseased—is full of poison—and unless relieved the entire system will suffer. The boil or carbuncle gives warning of serious internal troubles, which are only waiting for a favorable opportunity to develop. Many an old sore, running ulcer, even cancer, is the result of a neglected boil.

Keep the blood pure, and it will keep the skin clear of all the irritating impurities that cause these painful, disgusting diseases.

S. S. S. cures boils and carbuncles easily and permanently by reinforcing, purifying and building up the blood and ridding the system of all accumulated waste matter.

S. S. S. is made of roots and herbs which act directly on the blood, and all poisons, no matter how deep-seated, are soon overcome and driven out by this powerful purely vegetable medicine.

S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy, but for fifty years has been curing all kinds of blood and skin diseases. It has cured thousands, and will cure you. It is a pleasant tonic as well as blood purifier—improves the appetite and digestion, builds up your general health and keeps your blood in order.

Our physicians have made blood and skin diseases a life study—write them fully about your case, and any information or advice wanted will be cheerfully given. We make no charge whatever for this service. Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases—free. Address, The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. R. M. Pratt, Cave, S. C., writes: "For twenty years I was sorely afflicted with boils and carbuncles caused by impure blood. It is impossible to describe my suffering; part of the time being unable to work or sleep. Several doctors treated me, and I tried all the so-called blood remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. During the summer of 1891 I was persuaded to try S. S. S., and after taking several bottles was entirely cured, and have had no return of these painful pests up to the present time."

Not His Business to Inquire.

"Uncle," said the dusty pilgrim, "how far is it to Sagetown?"

"'Bout a mile and a half," replied the farmer.

"Can I ride with you?"

"Sartin. Climb in."

At the end of three-quarters of an hour the dusty pilgrim began to be uneasy.

"Uncle," he asked, "how far are we from Sagetown now?"

"'Bout four mile and a half."

"Great grief! Why didn't you tell me we were going away from Sagetown?"

"Why didn't you tell me you wanted to go thar?"—Chicago Tribune.

The Forgotten Part.

Aunt Hetty—What in creation is the use of these new-fangled individual forks and spoons?

City Niece (a follower of fads)—Don't you think it's rather nice to have things which no one else uses? Forks and spoons go into people's mouths, you know?

Aunt Hetty—Yes; but, land sakes, they all go into the same dishwater.—N. Y. Weekly.

No Need to Worry.

The mother was in a state of mind over her first born.

When the father arrived, he having returned from his daily labor, he found the mother in tears.

"Oh, William," she wailed, "Willie says he wants to be a pirate!"

"Don't let that worry you," was the consoling reply. "When I was his age my ambition was to be a policeman."—Indianapolis Press.

Then She Departed.

For two hours a fashionable lady kept the draper exhibiting his goods, and at the end of that period she sweetly asked:

"Are you sure you have shown me everything you have?"

"No, madam," said the draper; "I have yet an old account in my ledger I'll gladly show you." He did not need to show any more.—Tit-Bits.

The Soft Answer.

Ethelinda (who has been singing her new songs without a sign of approval from Felix)—You are so tiresome, Felix; you have no ear for music.

We, the people of the United States, are remarkable in our knowledge, under the Law, of law. The law presumes that we know the law, and, though Mr. Bumble may be right in saying that the law is an ass in its presumptions, its presumptions control as just the same. It is never an excuse to plead ignorance of the law, for the magistrate who does not know the law, judges who give opposing views of the law and courts that cannot agree on what the law is, will tell you that you do know the law, because the law says that you do. This is very complimentary to the layman. Just think, says the New York Herald, what we know under this legal presumption. Besides the unwritten law that we have inherited from the ages, we know millions of enactments; those of 56 congresses, of our annual state legislature—besides 50 other states and territories, if we happen to be in them—down to and including the volumes of enactments of our board of aldermen and our health department regulations. You may go into the law library in the federal building, wave your hands over the tens of thousands of volumes and say: "I know all this," and can then prove your statement by the authorities themselves. Mr. F. S. Wakefield, tally clerk of the house of representatives, has prepared a list of a little we know that emanated from the Fifty-sixth congress. According to his figures the house passed 2,201 bills and resolutions. If that is an average, think what it means when multiplied by 56. Then add to it the volumes of laws that have found birth in our legislature, and the intermittent stream ever flowing from that source, with which are mingled municipal laws and regulations. Each individual who has reached the age of discretion is told by the law that he knows them all.

At Wilkesbarre, Pa., a black art doctor, locally denominated a hex, was lately called in to treat the sick cow of a local farmer, and immediately suggested that the animal would recover provided a naked woman walked about it nine times and stepped over it four times. These difficult conditions were complied with by the farmer's wife at her husband's earnest solicitation, the latter being probably less anxious as to his spouse's contracting pneumonia than at the idea of losing a cow. Despite all this, remarks the Philadelphia Times, the cow, unreasonably, continued to grow worse, and actually died. There isn't much moral to the story, but what there is would indicate that cows cost money in Wilkesbarre, while wives are to be had for the asking.
