GOOD ROADS ECONOMY.

THE chief question concerning good roads at the present time is the financial one. How much money can be raised for them? There is no longer a question as to the desirability of building them. The farmer, who uses them in the laborious task of making a living from the soil the year round, is as eager for them as is the rich man from the city, who uses them only for pleasure for a few weeks or months in the summer. There is no difficulty, either, in getting enough money locally. Towns and counties are ready with their appropriations. The only drawback is that the State is not ready to do its full share in duplicating the local appropriations and so the progress of the work seems to depend upon the rate at which the State can follow the lead of the counties.

In connection with this phase of the case a suggestion made by Mr. Bond, the State Engineer, is of practical interest. He would have the State acquire a trap rock quarry in Rockland County and set the convicts of Sing Sing Prison to working it. This would provide road making material at a considerably lower price to the State than that which is now paid for it, and the State could thus do its share toward road building at a decided advantage; for there seems to be no good reason why the State's contribution to the fund should not be in material at market rates as well as in cash. The scheme has, of course, these obvious elements in its favor—that trap rock is one of the very best road metals in the world, that the convicts would thus be provided with one of the best kinds of labor for their wellbeing, that the quarry would be close to the prison, and that being on a bluff directly above the river the product of the quarry could be transported to many other parts of the State at a minimum of cost.

Every such plan which aims at the reduction of cost of good roads is worthy of careful consideration, as calculated to expedite the performance of one of the most important public works. We have hitherto suggested that there are millions of tons of superb road metal in the talus of the Palisades which might be removed and utilized with actual advantage to the appearance of that colossal wall. Of course, where the talus is already overgrown with arboreal vegetation, as much of it is, it should not be disturbed, save to such degree as is necessary for the construction of a roadway along the river edge. But where the talus is of recent origin and is a naked mass of broken stone, thrown down by the blasting operations of late years, it is an eyesore which dwarfs the height of the wall against which it is banked, and the removal of it would not disfigure the Palisades, but rather restore them to their former majesty of aspect. The suggestion is to be commended to the State authorities and to those public spirited gentlemen who now have the Palisades within their guardianship.—New York Tribune.

HOW THE FILIPINA GIRLS LIVE.

THE life lived by the Filipinos is not an intricate life, nor is Philippine etiquette the highly involved system that is found in the old and artificial society of western lands. I do not know that I can better describe it than by following a society young lady of Manila through the ordinary events of one day's existence. It may interest American women to know how their sisters beyond the seas pass their lives.

The day of the fair Filipina is a long one. With her there is no lazy rising to a nine o'clock coffee and toast. She is usually up with the sun, not later than six, and, if very religious as early as four, that she may attend early mass. Breakfast is set early, about six o'clock. Then come the morning duties of the household: sewing, washing, cooking, or whatever there may be, for our young lady is not expected to spend her days in idleness. The mid-day meal is taken at twelve o'clock in order that the warmest hours of the day may be the hours of rest. About two hours are thus spent in the enjoyment of the siesta, when our lady fair arises, refreshed and ready for the later pleasures of the day.

At four o'clock the "afternoon tea" is served. This is a light repast, usually consisting of chocolate, with rice and cakes, or other simple viands. Then, at the hour of five-thirty or six o'clock, the carriage is brought out and the daily ride taken to the Luneta, the beautiful park on the bay south of the city. Here the military band discourses sweet music every evening, and the beauty and fashion of Manila meet and enjoy the evening air and melodious strains. Returning from the drive about seven o'clock, the evening meal or supper comes next in order, after which our belle of Manila is free for any mode of spending the evening hours that may appeal to her; perhaps a friendly visit, a trip to the theater or opera, or an "at home" to receive callers. Early as she arose bed-time often comes late, and no hours more than nature demands are spent in the enjoyment of slumber. Going to rest, however, is different there and here. Ladies, even of the highest social rank, do not sleep in a bedstead, but prefer the floor, lying on a petate, or mat, which is provided with a long bolster or pillow, and covered with the conventional mosquito netting.—Ramon Reyes Lala in June Ledger Monthly.

ONE of the significant signs of the times is the presence in this country of many European manufacturing experts, who are here to study our methods, with a view to making improvements in their own, in order to better meet our trade rivalry. They will doubtless carry back valuable pointers, but they cannot carry back the greatest single factor in the success of American manufacturers—the intelligent American workman, who knows how to use his brain as well as his hands.

THERE is more or less silly talk on the tariff question now being presented. To take for granted because President McKinley favors the extension of our foreign trade by reciprocity treaties, wherever possible, that he is any less a believer in a protective tariff than he ever was is to ignore facts. Reciprocity is the child of protection. It is because we have a protective tariff that we have something to offer nations for commercial reciprocity.

PRESIDENT McKinley's prompt rejection of the fake acceptance of the Platt amendment by the Cuban Constitutional Convention is commended by the people and press of the entire country, and if the Cubans are wise they will lose no time in properly accepting the Platt amendment without any "ifs" or "ands."

BOTH Tillman and McLaurin claim to be democrats, which raises the question, what is a democrat?

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

SUICIDE OF F. D. WHITE

With Rifle, Ambassador to Germany's Son, Ends His Life.

SUFFERED FROM NEURASTHENIA

Believed that He Placed the Barrel of the Gun in His Mouth and Discharged It with His Foot—Cable Sent to Father in Germany.

Syracuse, July 9.—Frederick D. White, son of Andrew White, United States ambassador to Germany, committed suicide at 5.30 yesterday afternoon at his home in this city. Prolonged illness and a persistent and exhausting nervous disease is given as the only possible explanation of his act.

Mr. White had appeared to be in usual health during the day and had attended to matters of business in the management of the White estate. He was alone in the house with the servants during part of the afternoon. Mrs. White returned shortly after 5 o'clock and found Mr. White dead in the bathroom. A bullet from a rifle had passed through his brain and death had been instantaneous. No one heard the shot.

Some 18 years ago, on completing his course at Columbia College, Mr. White had a severe attack of typhoid fever from which he never recovered. Stomach and intestinal troubles resulted. Later his nervous system became weakened and within a few years neurasthenia developed.

About a year ago he suffered a severe attack of the complaint. During the recent hot spell another attack of the disease came on, leaving him in a state of acute nervousness. It is not believed that he premeditated the act. From the appearance of the body when found it is supposed that he placed the barrel of the rifle in his mouth and discharged it with his foot.

The announcement of Mr. White's death was received with great sorrow in this city, where he occupied a prominent position in social circles. A cablegram announcing his death was sent to Ambassador White at Berlin last night. As yet no arrangements for the funeral have been made.

Frederick D. White was the only son of Ambassador White. He was born in Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 15, 1859. He was educated at Cornell University and also in the University of Berlin, Prussia. He studied in Columbia Law College, New York, from 1882 to 1884. In the latter year he was admitted to the bar at Binghamton, New York, and afterwards practiced his profession in this city. Much of his time in later years has been devoted to the management of property owned by himself and his father.

FROG PLAGUE IN ITHACA.

Railway Traffic Impeded by Thousands of Amphibians.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 8.—All Ithaca is suffering from a frog pest due to the recent heavy rains. The frogs have appeared in great numbers. The ground in the vicinity of Renwick Park is covered with them. A train which left for Auburn late Sunday night had difficulty in working its way through the myriads which appeared on the track. The track became so slippery from the ones killed that the wheels would not take hold of the rails. Traffic on a branch of the Ithaca street railway running on Stewart avenue has been impeded and thousands of the frogs appeared on the vacant lots south of the Fiske-McGraw Mansion. The little animals have invaded houses and destroyed many of the gardens of the residents in the lower part of the city. It is difficult to proceed on the walks in that vicinity.

Prisoners Break Jail.

Guthrie, O. T., July 6.—Ten of the most desperate prisoners in the federal jail here overpowered the guards yesterday afternoon and escaped. The prisoners armed themselves heavily with pistols found outside the cell doors. All the prisoners ran in the direction of the Cottonwood river. Officers and citizens were soon in pursuit. By dint of good work on the part of federal officers and citizens all of those who broke jail were recaptured and locked in their cells.

The Best Remedy for Stomach and Bowel Troubles.

"I have been in the drug business for twenty years and have sold most all of the proprietary medicines of any note. Among the entire list I have found nothing to equal Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles," says O. W. Wakefield, of Columbus, Ga. "This remedy cured two severe cases of cholera morbus in my family and I have recommended and sold hundreds of bottles of it to my customers to their entire satisfaction. It affords a quick and sure cure in a pleasant form." For sale by the Middleburg Drug Co.
