POULTRY & BEES

SOD POULTRY HOUSE.

For cheapness, comfort and convenience, says its designer, it is without an equal.

Every western farmer may have one of these comfortable houses with little cost and comparatively small amount of labor. The sod may be turned at any time in the year when the ground is not frozen. A firm, well-grassed sod is best, but other will do, the only difference being in the length of time the building will last. The walls are laid up with bricks of sod about 12x12 inches and laid like bricks with the exception of the cement, nothing of that kind being used. The sod is turned down, and the walls are made 24 inches thick, two layers of sod being used.

Timbers are used above openings for doors and windows; and casings are used as in a frame. The roof should slope about two feet, and should project on all sides at least two feet to protect the walls from moisture. Rafters and three-fourths-inch lumber, covered with dirt or sod, make the roof. Poles and brush may be used instead of lumber, but are not so good.

The most nearly ideal house of this kind I ever have seen is illustrated herewith. It is 18x28 feet, outside dimensions, and contains two rooms. The roofing room is 10x15 feet, inside measure, and contains two sections of swinging roosts, each 6x8 feet, leaving a passage at each end and a three-foot passage the whole length on the south, where the three windows are located. There is a swiveling ventilator in each room, which can be partially closed in winter. The roosts are about 2 1/2 feet from the floor and swing on fence wire from the cross sections at the roof.

Opening from the roosting rooms is the scratching and nest room, which is 10x14 feet, inside measure. In summer it is used only for nests. These nests run the entire length of the room on the north and across the ends, except where the doors interfere. They are two feet deep—if fowls are large they could be deeper—and filled up about one foot with cut straw. On the south are two full-sized windows, giving plenty of light and sunshine for winter, and easily blinded in summer, when so much light is not practicable. Floors are of dirt, covered with straw for scratching or swept clean when summer comes. Fowls will lay the whole season. They are warm in winter and cool in summer, and they seem to like the dirt walls better than any other kind I know of. For cheapness, comfort and convenience, the sod hen house has not an equal.—Mrs. L. M. Lutton, in Farm and Home.

How to Destroy Foul Brood.

While foul brood is easily caught, it is only done by contact, usually by working on diseased matter. Bees thus carry and introduce it to the larvae in their own hive. Beekeepers should examine their bees and clean up all dead colonies and all impure matter as soon as possible, and if you find any brood with the wrong or backward presentation, you can be sure it is diseased and will die. Bees thus affected may be transferred on to foundation and fed with sugar syrup or pure honey, but if they are very badly diseased at this time of the year it would be best to dispose of everything except a valuable hive.—E. S. Lovessy, in Farm and Home.

Letture for the Chickens.

Lettuce is the best green food we have ever tried for chickens in confinement. They will turn from clover in any form and greedily devour lettuce in any stage of its growth if it is given to them fresh, or any time before it wilts. An ordinary sized head of pen-say, from five to ten, will eat about eight good-sized bunches or stalks three or four times a week, and eat it clean, too. By drilling it quite thick in the rows and cutting (not pulling) it close to the ground when gathering it for fowls a little "patch" of ground may be made to yield a sufficient amount for quite a flock during an entire season. Try a patch next spring.—Interstate Poultryman.

How to Ward Off Roup.

Roup is one of the most dreaded of diseases. It is sometimes spoken of as the winter disease. The symptoms are hoarse breathing, swelled eyes, discharge at the nostrils and sometimes a fetid breath. Treatment is not generally satisfactory. The affected birds should be removed, the house cleaned and disinfected. Damp, foul air and cold drafts in the poultry houses should be carefully avoided whenever fowls are subject to roup. A decrease in the proportion of corn and an increase in the proportion of meat food in the daily ration is held by some to be highly beneficial in warding off this disease.

TOUR TO THE PACIFIC COAST.

Another Opportunity to Visit California under the Auspices of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Personally-Conducted System.

In view of the great popularity of transcontinental travel under the Personally-Conducted System, as evinced in the recent Pennsylvania Railroad Tour to the Pacific Coast and Canadian Northwest, that company has decided to run another tour to the Pacific Coast, including in the itinerary a visit to the world-famous Grand Canon of Arizona, in the early fall. The tour will leave New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and other stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburg, on Monday, September 23, and reach New York on the homeward trip Tuesday, October 22.

As in former tours to California under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Railroad, a special train, composed of the highest class of Pullman equipment, will be utilized during the entire trip. Excellent meals will be served in the dining cars attached to the train during the entire journey, except during the stops at San Francisco and in Chicago. An observation car will appeal to all who delight in scenery. Few trips afford so great a diversity in Nature's beauties as the one outlined below. Westward bound, the tourists will pass through the wild-slopes of the Colorado Rockies, around the Great Salt Lake, and over the fastnesses of the Sierra Nevada. After visiting all the beautiful resorts on the sunny California slopes, the eastward journey will be through the Arizona desert to the Grand Canon of Arizona. Its beauties cannot be painted in mere words. Magnificent in coloring, awful in its depths, it stands among the natural wonders of the world. Thence across the plains to St. Louis, and eastward through Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania, the tourists reach their destination just thirty days after leaving home.

The various transcontinental lines having made low rates on account of the General Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is enabled to offer this superb trans-continental trip at the low rate of $185 for the round trip from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, or any point on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburg, one in a berth; and $165 for the round trip, two persons occupying the same berth. The rate from Pittsburg will be $5 less.

Diagrams are now open, and as the number who can be accommodated will be strictly limited, names should be registered immediately. For further information and descriptive pamphlet, apply to George W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia. 8-22-00.

Executor's Sale of Valuable Real Estate

The undersigned as executor of the last will and testament of Samuel Brunner, late of Centre Township, Snyder County, Pa., deceased, and by authority and powers therein conferred, will on Saturday, August 31, 1901 on the premises herein described, offer the same at public sale, the same consisting of a farm of 114 acres and 25 perches situated in Centre Township, Snyder County, Pa., on the main road leading from Middleburgh to Centreville, bounded on the north by Katharine Boyer and James Bingham, on the east by land of Levi Young, Elias Brunner, on the south by lands of Peter Buhl and Cyrus Lowrey and on the west by lands of Cyrus Lowrey and Harrison Haeberly.

On this farm are erected a good DWELLING HOUSE and a large BARN with all the usual outbuildings. Barn and house both supplied with water. Two orchards, one of the choicest apples, the other of peaches. The peach orchard is young and in good bearing condition.

This farm contains about 25 acres of fine timberland. It has been lying idle in a high state of cultivation.

Sale to begin at 1 o'clock P. M., of said day when terms and conditions will be made known by ELIAS BRUNNER, Executor.

Divorce Notice.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF SNYDER COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA.

Est. M. Kantz vs. October Term, 1900, No. 12, vs. Est. M. Kantz. 1901, in Divorce.

TO ALL WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, I, ELIAS BRUNNER, Executor in the above proceedings, say: You are hereby notified that your wife, Est. M. Kantz, has obtained proceedings against you, asking a divorce from the bonds of matrimony upon the grounds that you have offered such indignities and violence to her person as to render her condition intolerable and life burdensome, and thereby compelled her to withdraw from your home and family. By reason of your default in not entering an appearance in not filing an answer, the case has been referred to me as Master of the Court.

THE FOURTEENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1901, at nine o'clock A. M., as the time, and the office of Charles Hower, Esq., in the borough of Selingsgrove, Snyder Co., Pa., as the place for taking testimony in the cause, when and where you may attend.

H. HARRIS BOWLER, Master. Middleburgh, Pa., July 30th, 1901.

Father and Son-in-Law.

"I do not feel the confidence I would like to in that young man you are engaged to," said Ethelinda's father. "He talked about nothing but the stock market while he and I were together."

"Yes," answered Ethelinda. "He's a little worried about that conversation himself. He says that if you don't know any more about stocks than you appear to, he's liable to have to support the entire family."

"You lost your money when you bet on that fellow's height, didn't you?"

"Yes, but he took an unfair advantage. He strengthened up his bow legs and made himself two inches higher."—Chicago Tribune.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, that the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

Amendment One to Article Eight, Section One. Add at the end of the first paragraph of said section, after the words "shall be entitled to vote at all elections," the words, "subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact," so that the said section shall read as follows:

Section 1. Qualification of Electors. Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections, subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact:

1. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

2. He shall have resided in the State one year or if having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned within six months immediately preceding the election.

3. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer his vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

4. If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least six months and paid at least one month before the election.

Amendment Two to Article Eight, Section Seven. Strike out from said section the words "but no elector shall be deprived of the privilege of voting by reason of his name not being registered and add to said section the following words, "but laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors may be enacted to apply to cities only, provided that such laws be uniform, for cities of the same class."

Free Tuition AT A Good School

We have just received a catalogue of the Literary Institute and State Normal School, located at Bloomsburg, Pa. This school maintains several courses of study for training teachers, a Preparatory College Course, and courses in Voice and Piano.

It is the only boarding school we have heard of where students enter the dining room at their leisure, and order their meals to suit their appetite and digestion as at a first class hotel.

It has a faculty of College and University trained specialists, abundant apparatus of the latest and most approved kind, and every comfort and convenience for the students.

Tuition has recently been made free for those preparing to teach. A letter of inquiry addressed to the Principal, Judson Perry Welsh, A. M., Ph. D., will bring valuable information to those seeking a good school.
